NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, July 24—If promises were tires, the nation would ride, but, as it is, the rubber problem is sinking deeper and deeper into the mire of business competition and policies.

No one seems able or willing to take hold of various difficult phases of the problem and hammer out a satisfactory policy.

To cite a typical example, the five big rubber manufacturers trooped into town with an exhibit of rubber processes, designed to show that sixty per cent of civilian needs and all military requirements could be satisfied without much trouble. The exhibit was set up in a hotel parlor and government officials were invited in to see it a week before it was opened.

Before most officials got around to it, they read some advance stories in one local newspaper suggesting that this exhibit would solve all national problems of tires and gas rationing. That happened to be a little more than the industry claimed, and it made the government officials angry and critical in advance.

Few even went to the show until the arrangers for the industry made it clear they were not responsible for the publicity. WPB Director Donald Nelson then came in, made a few notes and went on his way.

The oil industry stole a march of five days on the rubber manufacturers, when W. S. Farish, president of Standard Oil of New Jersey, announced his company will produce 200,000 tons of synthetic rubber by the end of next year.

However, Franklin Walton, former publicity director of the republican national committee, succeeded in anticipating Mr. Farish by assembling a large press conference here a week earlier to promote interest in the Houdry process of one of his new clients, which apparently is backed by competitors of Mr. Farish, namely, the Sun Oil company and the Standards of New York and California.

OFFICIALS SKEPTICAL

So it goes in an active competitive business battle to produce synthetic tires for the nation, while government officials look on skeptically. They naturally want to justify their policy, continuing rationing.

They find numerous faults with the various proposals, contending for instance that there is nothing "new" in the rubber show, that the other processes will not produce good tires or will need too much steel for plant construction, or cannot produce in time.

Meanwhile, Mr. Donald Nelson has thrown the powerful weight of his position against the Gillette bill in congress proposing to create a single rubber authority, not Mr. Nelson, and to manufacture more rubber from alcohol than Mr. Nelson wants. He practically told congress that if he had it to do over again, he might allow more synthetic production from alcohol but that the change now would upset his calculations.

As a result of this, or other congressional dissatisfaction with Mr. Nelson's failure in this one line of production, the capital cloakrooms are filled with rumors that he may stay in London on his forthcoming trip, or that he will otherwise be retired. (Not confirmed by any executive authority).

DEAD END

Thus all avenues of activity seem to lead into the same dead-end street upon which the rubber problem has been running from the beginning. No one, not even Mr. Roosevelt, seems to have been entirely without fault.

In circulation in congressional quarters is a clipping from the New York Times of February 26, 1941, containing the following account of a presidential press conference of the previous day:

"The president expressed his belief that the United States was in no danger of running short of rubber, much of which

BONANZA

The Bonanza-Langell Valley Garden club met Friday, July 17, at the home of Mrs. Ada Sparreborn. "Garden Pests" was the subject discussed and much valuable information was learned. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Malcolm Teare in Langell valley, on July 31, at which time flower arranging will be the topic of the day, with a report and demonstration by Mrs. Hayden and Mrs. Jack Horton.

Mrs. Clyde Wooten and her sister, Elsa Hartley, both underwent tonsilectomies in Klamath Falls last week.

Mrs. Molly Garrett of Bly spent the weekend with her sister, Mrs. Jack Horton, and also visited with Mrs. Birdie Burk.

Mrs. Ben Crasper was taken to a Portland hospital last Wednesday.

Mrs. J. B. Reed of Klamath Falls is visiting with Mrs. Ada Sparreborn.

A. L. McGuire of the merchant marines is spending a month's leave of absence in Bonanza. McGuire went into the service shortly after the attack on Pearl Harbor.

NEW YORK—Physical directors of schools, clubs, the Y.M.C.A. and all gymnasiums are cleaning out lockers of inactive members as they salvage rubber for the national collection drive.

EMPLOYMENT HEAD GETS ARMY CALL

TULELAKE—James Lesh, appointed two and one-half months ago to serve as head of the Tulelake branch of the U. S. employment service, has been called in to service and will leave Friday for Dunsmuir. Young Lesh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lesh, Tulelake, is a graduate of the Tulelake high school. He plans to ask for service in the parachute troop division.

Leaving also on Friday are a number of his friends, Gregory Brooks, Bob Woodman, Jim Woodman, David Hatfield, Jack Slazock and Thurlow Ott, all of whom will go into the navy. They will report at Klamath Falls and later at Portland.

Lesh's position here will be filled prior to the date for signing up help for the potato harvest, and it is considered probable that E. W. Scammon, for the last two years in charge of the office, will return.

Tulelake

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dickson, residents of Tulelake for the last one and one-half years, left here early this week to make their home elsewhere. They made no announcement as to their destination before leaving. Dickson for the last 15 years has been employed by the California Oregon Power company, recently in the capacity of salesman. He was president of the Tulelake chamber of commerce and a member of the Tulelake Rotary club. A. A. Rodenberger, vice president of the chamber, will preside for the remainder of Dickson's term of office.

Mrs. Don Reiben (Mary Frances Johnson) of San Francisco, has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. French E. Johnson.

Marion Bond is spending some time in Sacramento with a sister, Patricia, employed in the southern town.

The Octave Bridge club is being entertained Thursday at luncheon at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Horton in Poe valley.

Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Barr returned the first of the week from a visit with relatives of both in Portland and Oregon City. While north, Dr. Barr visited his son Joaquin Barr, who until early this month was transferred to transport service and Dr. Barr is in receipt of a letter written aboard ship July 14. Young Barr some years ago attended Klamath Union high school. Wages in the Willamette valley are considerably lower than in the Klamath and Tulelake basins, Dr. Barr stated and almost without exception small towns are calling on townspeople to help save perishable crops.

The three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Morgan, Poe valley, was treated Tuesday morning by Dr. Barr for a deep cut over one eye. The child fell, it is reported, against a bed. Stitches were taken to close the wound. Dr. Barr also treated Harold Woodward this week for mashed and cut fingers. Woodward, employed on the telephone construction crew here, was struck by rocks.

Marybelle Clements, who formerly lived here, is spending several days as the guest of Patty Jean Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Johnson. Miss Clements now lives near Sacramento.

Mrs. Francis, adult educational principal at Newell, was in San Francisco this week on business.

Crescent Lake

Oscar Paulson, of Salem, who has been fire guard for the De-shutes National forest at Crescent lake, left last week for home, where he has been called by his local draft board. Mrs. Paulson, who has been at Crescent lake with him, returned to the valley also and will remain there while Paulson is in the army. He has been with the forest service locally for several seasons.

Motor trouble can ruin any fishing trip and no one knows that better than Mrs. Alida Machen of Fresno and Klamath Falls, and A. L. Aikins, of Ashland, who rowed four miles to Crescent Lake lodge Sunday evening and never a fish had they caught, either. Off Rainbow Cove, just after their first strike, they had motor trouble and it was 11 o'clock Sunday night before they rowed into the lodge dock. Fred Hall, of Crescent lake, and Ranger Homer Ott, of Crescent, had gone out to find them but didn't make connections until the dock had been reached.

Floyd Root, of Cres-Del lodge, returned home Thursday from Shaniko, where he has been for two weeks helping his father harvest grain. Rain last Monday was so heavy there that Root says it will take them a month to cut wheat this year instead of about 15 days. Mrs. Root has been managing the lodge during his absence. He will return to Shaniko as soon as the grain dries sufficiently for cutting. There are over 500 acres of wheat to be cut on the Root ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Holverson spent Sunday in Springfield visiting relatives.

Grass in this country has not been so good for years. Cattle belonging to Charles Page, of Fall Creek, near Oakridge, ranging on the Delbrugge and Black Rock ranches in this country look particularly good this year. Page raises registered polled Herefords as well as other cattle less well bred.

Louis Obermeier has moved into the Crescent lake guard station with his family, where he succeeds Oscar Paulson as fire guard. Obermeier, who was formerly employed by the De-shutes Lumber company, at Mowich, has been working for the forest service this spring and summer and expects to remain with them permanently.

Victory Quota Days Coming

KLAMATH county, with the high quota of $307,500 in war savings bonds to be made in July, is asked to buy heavily by the end of the month, and emphasis in particular is being placed upon purchases for next Friday, July 31.

July 31 and August 1 have been designated as Victory Quota days for this community. There will be special programs of entertainment throughout the afternoons and evenings of those two days in the business district here, with sales of bonds and stamps stimulated. This will be done in connection with the visit here of the "Victory House" presented to the treasury department by Standard of California.

Klamath has done its part throughout the war savings program, and we believe it can be counted upon to come through for the July quota and the quotas for future months. The place that war bond buying has in the nation's war economy and its struggle against inflation has been given repeated recognition here.

Girl Scout Decision

OFFICIALS of the Klamath Girl Scout organization have announced that Girl Scouts will take a disproportionate cut in the allotments to be made of the shortened budgets of the Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls.

The recent drive for the joint fund of the three organizations fell short of the goal. In apportionment of the reduced fund, the Girl Scouts have decided not to take their full percentage, thus making it possible for the Camp Fire Girls and Boy Scouts to get a somewhat larger proportion of the budget than they would otherwise receive.

The Girl Scouts planned their year's finances with the expectation of keeping a full-time executive, but they now plan to drop this office in November in accordance with reduced finances.

The Girl Scouts, who had asked for an increased budget for the coming year, have decided on a course that should be helpful in maintaining a cooperative relationship between these youth welfare organizations.

WPA Suspended Here

WPA went into 100 per cent suspension, so far as Klamath county is concerned, this week with the closing of the sewing room and nursery school, last projects to hang on after sharp curtailment began some months ago.

Only WPA work to be done now will be directly in connection with war projects, such as airports and access roads. Most of this work in Oregon is in the vicinity of Fort Stevens.

With the labor supply scarce and lots of work to be done, WPA has no place in the current picture. It was time for its suspension. People who can do enough work to get on WPA ought to be able to find other jobs now.

Hildebrand
