nesday. General MacArthur's headquarters also reported a minor clash between allied outposts and Japanese recently at Mubo, near Salamaua, 150 miles northwest of Buna, where 60 of the enemy died in a patrol attack on the allied-held village.

This clash followed upon an allied commando swoop early this month on Salawau in which a like number of the foe were killed.

The allied air force continued to pound Japanese troops which got ashore in the Buna area, at Gona Mission, and also raided Kieta, on Bougainville island, in the Solomons, and Kukua and Sohana islands, in the Buka passage, to the north.

Darwin Raided

Japanese airmen, over the weekend, raided Darwin, Australia, on Saturday and Sunday nights, and made their most southerly penetration thus far with a Saturday night raid on Townsville, on Australia's northeast coast. None of the enemy assaults caused any serious damage, it was said officially.

Meanwhile the Australian government voiced belief that enemy agents, possibly landed from submarines in the manner of an ill-starred German sabotage effort against the United States, were operating in Australia, tipping the Japanese off on secret military movements.

The disobedience plan of India's foremost nationalist leader and exponent of immediate independence from Britain, Gandhi, inspired a declaration yesterday by Sir Stafford Cripps, British lord privy seal and oft-times spokesman for Prime Minister Churchill, that the United Nations could not permit interference with the war effort.

"We cannot allow the actions of a visionary, however distinguished in the fight for freedom in the past, to thwart the United Nations drive for victory in the East," Cripps said in a broadcast especially directed to the United States.

by the NLRB and subsequently signed a contract with the firm.

The announcement was made by George Brown, chief district representative for the CIO-IWA, who said that his union was ready to prove the necessary claims of a majority at Kesterson. He said the Kesterson AFL local No. 2649 had notified firm officials that they wished to terminate the existing contract on September 1.

Harold McKenzie, chief district representative of the AFL-LSW acknowledged that notice of termination had been given by the local but said that negotiations toward a new contract will begin at once. He said the current Kesterson contract was entered into on September 1, 1941, and was scheduled for automatic renewal unless either of the parties gave notice of termination 30 days prior to September 1, 1942.

He termed the CIO petition a "strategic, political move," designed to aid organizational efforts for the impending important NLRB election covering 900 employees of the Weyerhaeuser Timber company mill, scheduled for August 6.

It was believed that, following usual procedure, the NLRB would order a hearing held on the CIO petition. In the past, hearings have been held within approximately 90 days of the petition date. More than 240 Kesterson employees are involved.

Officials of the Pine Industrial Relations committee, public and labor relations group for 42 lumber operations in northern California and southern and central Oregon, were not available for comment.

Berlin Claims 20-Mile Gain Into Caucasus older claim by the nazis that Rostov had been taken.

Officially, the Russians announced merely that the battle for the Caucasus continued through the night at Voronezh, 300 miles north of Rostov, the northern flank of the Germans eastward and southern offensive, and in the vicinity of Rostov, Novocheerkassk and Tsimlyansk.

Combat Hot

Waves of tanks and motorized infantry, supported by mobile artillery and bomber squadrons, beat down upon the Russians in both the Rostov and Tsimlyansk areas. By Russian reports, the Tsimlyansk pressure was the greater for it was only there that the defenders conceded footholds on the south bank of the strategic waterline.

The communists said that fierce combat continued on the outskirts of Rostov but that in one sector the enemy had broken into "the heart of our defenses." Fifty German tanks were reported destroyed in the Rostov and Tsimlyansk zones.

TRAFFIC DEATH TREND FALLING HERE IN 1942

Klamath county traffic fatalities show a strong downward trend this year, as compared to the fatality toll for the corresponding period of last year, in line with a similar statewide trend reported by Earl Snell, secretary of state.

Up to the beginning of the third week of July, fatalities for the county were 45.4 per cent under those listed in a corresponding period last year. The figure for 1942 so far is six, and for 1941, 11. This is well under the percentage drop recorded in the state, which, in turn, is well under the national average.

Secretary of State Snell said that fatalities to July 13 of this year for the state were 25.8 per cent under the 1941 toll for the same period and 27.9 under the same period in 1940.

For the nation as a whole, the toll this year is a little over ten per cent under the deaths for last year and about the same as for the same period in 1940.

Snell said he believed Oregon drivers were according wide compliance with President Roosevelt's request for a 40-mile maximum speed. The reduced speeds tend to eliminate many serious accidents on the highways and at the same time, they tend to increase the life of present automotive equipment.

Significant of the way reduced speeds reduce fatal accidents, according to the secretary of state, are the figures on rural accidents in Oregon. Fatalities in rural areas are down more than 26 per cent, while fatalities in urban areas are about the same as last year. Most of Oregon's fatal accidents occur in rural areas where higher speeds are common. Snell said, pointing out that if reduced speeds cut the rural accident rate appreciably, many lives will be saved in this state.

Blohm and Voss shipyards alone are said to have a capacity to build 25 U-boats at a time, and whose war industries, working day and night, include oil refineries, explosives works and a big seaplane factory.

The German high command reported "fairly heavy civilian casualties" in the raid on Hamburg and added that "a number of buildings, almost all in residential quarters, were destroyed or damaged."

Retaliation

German raiders, striking at England out of the low clouds of the early morning, bombed 23 areas, including one within 50 miles of London.

Two brief daylight alerts were sounded in the capital, and RENO, July 27 (AP)—Marriage licenses issued here Saturday included: Walter Morgan, 34, and Marie Dickerson, 36, both Klamath Falls.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

A WAR PRODUCTION order prohibits the sale of steel tanks for oil storage. However, Peyton & Co. have arranged to have available concrete tanks for fuel oil storage in the Klamath area. These underground installations are safe. 1000 gallon tanks are the most popular size and provide ample fuel storage for heating the average home for one year. These 1000 gallon tanks are completely installed for as little as $125.00 under normal construction conditions. Financing is available. Concrete is available and the governments orders are to fill up and store all the fuel oil you can. A concrete storage tank from Peyton's is your best assurance for next winter. Get full details by phoning Klamath Fuel, 5149, Peyton & Co. Installations will be made in accordance to the manner in which orders are placed. The first order received is the first one installed. RAF LOOSE INCENDIARIES ON BIG PORT for the first time in many months work-bound residents of inland communities saw bombers marked with the black cross sweep low to the attack, then dodge back into the clouds with aircraft fire around them and British fighters roaring in pursuit.

The German bombers, for the most part operating singly, machine-gunned streets and houses and dropped bombs on western England, the south, the midlands, the east coast, and towns and villages of East Anglia.

400 to 500 persons homeless. Nearby farms also were put to the torch.

Before the fires were started, 18 Norwegian hostages were executed, witnesses said. The rest of the male population of the village was sent to labor camps in Germany.

The Norwegian government reported another instance of "mass terror" against the population of the island of Moegster, south of Bergen, but said details so far were lacking.

Corrected Figures Give Mill Shift Statistics

An error in the Herald and News story of Saturday dealing with lumber production in Klamath county was revealed today in corrected statistics furnished by the Pine Industrial Relations committee.

The story, quoting PIRC figures, said that 12 out of 13 sawmills in this area were working single shifts only. The PIRC said today that 12 of the 13 mills were working double shifts, instead. The thirteenth is working a single shift only.

Meanwhile the committee announced for release Tuesday of other figures dealing with number of employees and working hours in 42 logging and lumber operations in the area covered by the PIRC—from Sacramento, Calif., to Prineville, Ore.

WASHINGTON, July 27 (AP) The office of price administration announced Saturday that 90,000 bicycles would be available for rationing in August, considerably larger than the number distributed this month.

MILL ELECTION TO BE AUGUST 6

The long-awaited Weyerhaeuser Timber company mill representation election, ordered recently by the National Labor Relations board, has been set for Thursday, August 6, according to a union announcement today.

The announcement said that balloting will be conducted between the hours of 3 and 6:30 p. m. by W. H. Bartley, NLRB representative, in the Weyerhaeuser boarding house.

Heralded as one of the most important NLRB elections in Klamath union history, the poll will determine the bargaining agency for more than 900 Weyerhaeuser employees. The CIO International Woodworkers of America recently was certified as bargaining agent for Weyerhaeuser woods workers.

BRITISH LAUNCH DESERT ATTACK

landscape between the sea and the Quattara depression.

Tobruk Blasted

A heavy force of bombers blasted the axis supply port of Tobruk again last night, touching off fires and explosions and scoring a direct hit on an enemy ship, British headquarters announced today.

The attack was the second in two nights, following a heavy assault Saturday in which United States heavy bombers took a prominent part.

American airmen reported a big area of Tobruk lit up by blazing gasoline after the Saturday night raid. They called this their most successful operation of the African campaign although thick layers of cloud often prevented them from seeing the target.

American airmen did not participate in last night's Tobruk raid.

The British reported no plane losses in their attacks on enemy supply ports, but said that one German plane had been shot down last night near Alexandria.

Long range fighters of the RAF meanwhile attacked axis barges off Sidi Barrani, another enemy supply port on the Egyptian side of the Libyan frontier, a communique said.

Two Named on Bad Check Charges In Justice Court

R. T. Gustafson and Luther Edgar Stallings were named on two justice court complaints today charging them with obtaining money by false pretenses.

Both were accused of passing a bad check for $10 to the Oregon food store No. 2. They took time to plead and were committed to the county jail in lieu of $500 or $1000 property bonds. Stallings was also named on a separate complaint asserting that he cashed a worthless $20 check at a Piggly Wiggly store. He waived preliminary hearing and heard his bond set at $1000 cash or $2000 property. He was committed.

No general can be lucky unless he is bold. He must have a spirit of adventure, a touch of the gambler in him.
