

DEADLINE SET FOR CHRISTMAS OVERSEAS MAIL

November 1 has been set as the deadline for mailing Christmas parcels overseas and to stations in the north, it was announced by the thirteenth naval district today.

Also announced were restrictions on overseas parcel post. They must not exceed 11 pounds in weight, 18 inches in length, and 42 inches combined length and girth. However, the public is being urged to voluntarily observe the following limitations:

Specifications

Volume not to exceed that of an ordinary shoe box or weight not to exceed six pounds. If this size of package is voluntarily adhered to, the navy points out, it will greatly increase the chances of all the men at sea receiving their Christmas gifts.

The package should be sturdy in order to withstand handling and piling. The articles themselves should be easily portable and useful in any climate. Food should not be sent under any circumstances, although such items as vitamin pills are acceptable. Clothing should not be sent unless it has been specifically requested.

The address must be complete in all respects and a return address given. The same regulations in regard to addresses apply to parcel post as to letters. People residing in the western states should address their packages in care of Postmaster, San Francisco, unless they are certain that the man is stationed in Alaska. If the latter is the case, he may be addressed at his station. If he is on a ship in the north, he may be addressed in care of Fleet Post Office, Seattle.

News Notes and Comment

By ANITA GWYN

The first football game of the season, which is to be played against Grant of Portland, will be on Friday the 18th instead of the 19th, as originally stated. I offer my humble apologies and hope you keep Friday, September 18, open for the great event.

The sale of student body tickets was postponed until today as there was an error in the printing and they had to be sent back to the printer. The price for students is $1.50 and the season tickets are $2.20 for adults. Both stated prices include all taxes so you won't have to be digging around for those odd pennies. The Pep Peppers again are selling the season tickets to earn points.

Mr. Rowe, English instructor and adviser for the Krater staff, spoke to the student body about the situation the Krater is in. The following is the gist of Rowe's talk. The cost of putting out the paper has risen, and as the payment made by the students through the student body card and advertising decreases rapidly after Christmas, the finances will be too low to even publish a paper. As an attempt to remedy the situation, subscriptions will be sold and it will be edited as a tabloid and consists of a number of pages which will be determined by the number of subscriptions bought. But none of this will come true if at least 800 aren't sold, so it is entirely up to the students whether or not the Krater is to be kept alive. The subscriptions are only 50c for the entire school year.

This year the Krater staff consists of four who will be over-all instead of like last year when everyone had a title that sounded as if he might rule the roost. The ruling staff consists of Nadine Palmerton, editor; Isabel Corr, news editor; Betty Lea Dally, advertising manager, and Pat Morgan, sports editor. If this staff can be judged by what they did last year, it will be a fine paper. The rest of the staff will be known as reporters until they prove themselves worthy to handle a title.

its first meeting yesterday after school. The committee consists of: Jim Shaw, chairman, Bettie Hopkins, Barbara Shultz, Fern Pennington, Edith Knudsen, Marlys Steinselfer, John Fletcher, Dick Newman, Dick Hicks and Dick Cada. The date for the Hello Day dance has been set tentatively for September 11 after school. Nothing has definitely been decided except that cold drinks will be sold at the dance. At this time a warning goes out to all underclassmen, freshmen and sophomores, to brush up on the traditions of this school as to where to walk and sit, for the traditions committee will mete out punishment to all who offend these rules. Take heed, my children, for the day of reckoning shall arrive. Don't say you weren't told before.

The schedule for the Pelicans home games runs in the following order:

- Grant High.....Sept. 18
- Redding.....Sept. 25
- Eugene.....Oct. 23
- Grants Pass.....Oct. 30
- Bend.....Nov. 11

I've heard the freshmen referred to as "rooks" and any number of other uncomplimentary terms, but never as "nice little kids," as a certain instructor used to tell the seniors who were in his classes besides

HOUSTON TO ATTEND MAYORS' CONF AB

Mayor John H. Houston has signified his intention of accepting an invitation to attend a conference of mayors of cities of over 10,000 population to be held in Portland September 11 and 12.

Chief matter up for consideration, he said, will be a clarification of city civilian defense activities in relations to the federal OCD, state and county set-ups. Steps to coordinate what cities are doing along civilian defense lines will also be discussed.

James C. Sheppard, area director of OCD and Stanly Donagh, northwest sector director, are scheduled to participate in the conference.

the almighty class of KUHS. What will happen next?

The Wildcats have started practicing and although they are not in the limelight as much and as often as the Pelicans, it doesn't mean that no one is rooting for them. It is up to the Wildcats as well to uphold a winning record. Good luck, boys, we're with you.

NEW RULING ASKED ON LICENSE TAXES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 (AP)—The American Newspaper Publishers' association asserted Thursday in a brief filed with the supreme court that "any tax or other exaction which falls directly upon the act of circulation is an unconstitutional restraint upon the liberty of the press."

Elisha Hanson, attorney for the association, presented the brief in support of a petition for reconsideration by the tribunal of a 5 to 4 decision last June 8 holding constitutional city ordinances imposing license taxes upon the sale of printed matter. Reconsideration has been sought by counsel for a group of members of "Jehovah's Witnesses" accused by violating ordinances in three towns.

The ordinances under question are similar to one passed recently by the Klamath Falls city council, directed at Jehovah's Witnesses.
