Autumn Tea Given Wednesday At Four

Mrs. Hayden Invites Friends to Greet Mrs. Max Forsythe At Pelican Party Room.

A lovely affair of the past week was the tea presided over by Mrs. Beauford E. Hayden on Wednesday afternoon, in the Pelican party room in compliment to her daughter, Mrs. Max Forsythe, (Helen Hayden), of Menlo Park, California.

Seventy guests were invited to call between the hours of four and six o'clock. The large room was attractive with fall flowers, orange and yellow shaded dahlias and pyracantha adding color.

Mrs. E. A. Geary, Mrs. Nelson Reed, Mrs. Jacques J. Steiger and Mrs. Ralph Stearns poured at the tea table which was centered with a large silver platter holding dahlia heads in lovely autumn shades. Gold candles completed the fall theme. Mrs. Frank Jenkins assisted about the room.

Mrs. Hayden and Mrs. Forsythe greeted the guests during the tea hours. Mrs. Hayden wore a gray silk gown of marquisette and lace with a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Forsythe wore deep brown crepe with a corsage of tall-tan roses.

Another affair of the week which complimented Mrs. Forsythe was the informal tea given by Mrs. William Ely of Nevada street when she asked a few friends in late Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Forsythe and her infant son, Bruce, are spending the month of September at the Hayden home on Washington street.

Ray Farmer and Bill Shinn, both of Salem, were weekend guests of Dick Igl this past week. The three, accompanied by Mrs. E. M. Igl, spent the day at Lake O' the Woods. The Salem youths were en route home from a visit in California. Young Farmer will return to the University of Oregon this fall, Bill Shinn attending Oregon State college.

WOMEN PLAY GOLF FRIDAY AT REAMES

Mrs. Jacques J. Steiger qualified with the lowest medal score when women of Reames Golf and Country club started play for the annual club championship. Other players may qualify up to and including Wednesday it was learned.

Luncheon was served in the clubhouse at one o'clock followed by bridge. In cards last week honors went to Mrs. Peter A. Albertson and Mrs. Guy Hancock. Hostesses this week were Mrs. John A. Shaw and Mrs. Don R. Drury. Next week's hostesses will be Mrs. Guy H. Hancock and Mrs. Martin Swanson. Reames women will continue to sew on Thursdays at the George H. Merryman home on Pacific Terrace, all work to be turned over to the Klamath county chapter of the American Red Cross.

PARTIES GIVEN DURING PAST WEEK

Major Harlan P. Bosworth, Jr., left Wednesday evening to serve with the United States army engineers, Camp Claiborne, Louisiana.

A number of informal affairs were given for Mr. and Mrs. Bosworth early in the week. On Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Howard Barnhisel entertained a group of friends with a supper party at their home on Conger avenue.

Luncheon Tuesday

Miss Barron Honor Guest at Party During Past Week

Miss Ruth Barron of Marshall, Missouri, was complimented at one of the prettiest parties of the fall when her cousin, Mrs. Guy Harmon, entertained with a luncheon and cards at the Pelican party room Tuesday at one o'clock.

Guests were seated at a long table centered with mammoth zinnias with low bowls of bright colored dahlias at either end. Fall flowers were used about the rooms. In cards high score went to Mrs. C. S. Elliot, second to Mrs. Ray Coulam and third to Mrs. Carl Huson and low to Mrs. C. H. Reeves. A guest award was presented Miss Barron.

Those enjoying the affair were Mrs. Jack Bishop, Mrs. F. T. Freer of Boise, Idaho, Mrs. Elmer Kinderdick, Mrs. William Spangler, Mrs. Harry Wayne, Mrs. E. P. Ivory, Mrs. Loren Palmerton, Mrs. Willard Constant, Mrs. Don R. Drury, Mrs. C. L. Hubble, Mrs. Charles Kemper, Mrs. Carl Huson, Mrs. E. M. Raymond, Mrs. A. J. Myers, Mrs. C. S. Elliot, Mrs. C. H. Reeves, Mrs. Ray Coulam and Miss Barron. Miss Barron left Thursday morning for her home, going by way of the southern route to Marshall. A number of informal affairs were given for her during her stay in Klamath Falls at the Harmon home.

Miss Rosemary Sloan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Sloan of Payne street, left this week for Eugene to study at the University of Oregon. Rosemary previously attended Oregon State college.

Mrs. Harry Faabe and two daughters, Kerstin and Susanne, are visiting in Klamath Falls with Mrs. Faabe's mother, Mrs. Avis McConnell. They arrived Thursday from Seattle for a stay of several days.

Each September brings the garden's choicest blooms to the Klamath Falls Woman's Library club flower show and this year's exhibit was especially interesting as fruits and vegetables from the Victory gardens vied for places of honor with buds and blossoms. The affair was held in the Willard hotel Monday at one o'clock when the annual luncheon opened the year's program. Mrs. A. G. Proctor presided. Flower show chairman was Mrs. Roland Oakes, luncheon chairman, Mrs. Harry Coeller and Mrs. Andrew M. Collier. The pictured arrangement won first prize in the Victory fruits and vegetables division, entered by Mrs. J. F. King.

Mrs. Hovey Honored At Week's Affairs

Parties Compliment Young Klamath Matron Prior To Departure for the North.

Mrs. Charles G. Hovey, who leaves next Friday for Yamhill, near Portland, to spend the winter months, has been complimented at several affairs this past week prior to her departure for the north. On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Fred Schallcock invited a group of friends to her home on Pacific Terrace honoring Mrs. Hovey.

Thirty guests called between four and six o'clock for cocktails or tea served from an informal table arranged on the front porch. On Saturday afternoon Mrs. J. C. Lemire asked a few friends to call at her home in the Roosevelt apartments to greet Mrs. Hovey and enjoy a cup of tea. During the afternoon Mrs. Hovey was presented with handkerchiefs from the guests.

Mrs. Hovey will spend a part of the coming week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Elliott of Klamath Agency, before going to Yamhill.

POTLUCK SUPPER AT DREW HOME

A potluck supper followed by bridge was enjoyed Thursday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Greer Drew entertained at their home on Lowell street.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Robert O'Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. James Kerns and Mrs. James Harold Staver.

MRS. MACK HONORED BY GROUP TUESDAY

Mrs. J. Truman Runyan entertained at her home on California avenue for Mrs. Charles Mack who leaves soon with her young daughter, Rebecca, to join Mr. Mack in Portland.

Guests honoring Mrs. Mack on Tuesday evening were Mrs. John Shaw, Mrs. John Coppage, Mrs. J. C. Lemire, Mrs. E. Schnebeck, Mrs. William Connolly, Mrs. L. Orth Sismore, Mrs. James Busch, and Mrs. A. J. Lyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Landrum will motor to Corvallis this weekend where their daughter, Mary Frances, will register at Oregon State college. Miss Landrum will major in secretarial science.

The Venture club will hold its first meeting of the year on Tuesday, September the twenty-second, when members will meet for dinner and a program in the Pelican party room.

Mrs. Aske Goes South

Flower Arrangements Shown at Monday Show at Willard

Mrs. Laurence Aske returned to her home in St. Helena, California on Wednesday following a week's stay in Klamath Falls during which time she was the guest of Mrs. Frederick W. Hamilton of Crescent avenue and Mrs. E. C. Johnson of the Ramona apartments.

Mrs. Aske spent a busy week in this city. She conducted a class for three days, journeyed to Captain Jack's stronghold in the Lava Beds, motored to Swan lake, judged the Monday flower show, and held a public lecture on flower arrangement on Tuesday.

The Tuesday meeting was attended by more than a fifty women. Some brought "problem containers" with which Mrs. Aske worked showing them how to use the containers to the best advantage. Two arrangements which she created are worthy of mention inasmuch as they can be adapted to so many places in the home. One was made with the large, thorny edged leaves of a century plant, a Chinese figure and neoniums at the base.

The other was fashioned from a folded palm sheaf with dried sulphur flowers, available here, a small figure, the arrangement placed on a bamboo mat. This particular arrangement stressed the brown and yellow tones.

Those who attended Monday's flower show were especially interested in the arrangements which Mrs. Aske exhibited. Her visit here was particularly enjoyed and those who had the pleasure of attending her classes hope that she will return again in the near future.

Mrs. Edmund S. Dürment left Tuesday evening for her home in Berkeley after visiting here for several weeks at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mrs. R. R. Macartney.

Klamath Maid Weds In Episcopal Church

Betty Hauger Becomes Bride of John Alfred Hennefer on September the Tenth.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Hauger and Miss Jean Hauger returned this past weekend from Tacoma where they attended the graduation and marriage of Miss Beatrice Russell Hauger. Miss Jean continued to San Francisco after a brief visit here. The following story of "Betty's" wedding which appeared in a Tacoma paper is reprinted here. Graduation took place September the ninth and the marriage on September the tenth.

The second week of September has proved to be an eventful one for Miss Beatrice Hauger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hauger of Klamath Falls, Ore. For the day following her graduation as valedictorian of the senior nurses' class of the Tacoma General hospital, she became the bride of John Alfred Hennefer, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Hennefer of Seattle. The ceremony took place Thursday at four o'clock in Christ Episcopal church with the Rev. Henry M. Eller officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Hauger wore a Cordova brown suit with gold trimming, a tiny hat trimmed with veiling and a green orchid fastened to her shoulder. Miss Jean Russell Hauger was her sister's bridesmaid, wearing a light blue suit with brown suede trim and a gardenia and rose corsage. Victor Hennefer was best man for his brother.

The church was decorated with tall baskets of white and salmon pink gladiolus with white dahlias. Mrs. Hauger wore a navy blue ensemble with white trim and Mrs. Hennefer chose a blue suit. Each wore gardenia corsages. A wedding dinner for the family followed at the Elks' club preceding the young couple's departure for a brief wedding trip along the Hood canal loop and at Lake Crescent in northern Washington. The bride and groom cut a three tiered wedding cake made by the bride's mother from an old English fruit cake recipe. A miniature couple in wedding finery graced the confection which was iced in silver and white. Covers for twelve were laid at the wedding dinner at a table centered by the cake with low bowls of pale pink and white asters at either end.

Mr. and Mrs. Hennefer will make their home at 301 North I street after September the twentieth. Mr. Hennefer is well-known in the northwest in athletic circles. He attended Lincoln high school and the College of Puget Sound where he was a member of Alpha Chi Nu. He is at present stationed with the army at Fort Lewis. Mrs. Hennefer graduated from Klamath Falls high school and was a student at Reed and Oregon State colleges before her graduation from the hospital. As valedictorian of her class the young honor student was presented with a $125 scholarship.

Circuit Judge Arthur D. Hay and Mrs. Hay were visitors in Klamath Falls from their home in Lakeview this week, guests of their daughter, Miss Margaret Hay.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred E. Lamm have returned from San Francisco where they spent the early part of the week.
