

FARM RATION BOARD OKES APPLICATIONS

OUR MEN IN SERVICE

The first applications for farm machinery in the Klamath basin were approved Saturday by the farm machinery rationing committee. Following is the list released from the AAA office in the federal building:

Leslie L. Maxwell, Bonanza, tractor.
Bruce Bieler, Bonanza, potato digger.
H. R. Frazier, Bonanza, tractor.
E. M. Wilkinson, Klamath Falls, milking machine.
Roy Gooding, Klamath Falls, eight-inch hammer mill.
Gale and Harris, Bonanza, potato digger.
Stanley Johnson, Malin, disc harrow.
Vincent Havlina, Malin, roller bearing tractor disc.

The following applications for farm machinery were approved Monday:
John Cacks, Merrill, tractor disc harrow.
Charles F. DeLap and Charles F. DeLap Jr., Klamath Falls, power potato digger.
Frank and John Toffel, Bonanza, grain drill.
Sondre Romtvedt, Bonanza, feed grinder.

An announcement from the AAA office stated that farmers who are in need of machinery of a type which must have the approval of the ration board, may file applications with a dealer or at the AAA office.

They explained that farm machinery has been divided into three classes: A, requiring ration board approval; B, requiring certification only; and C, requiring neither.

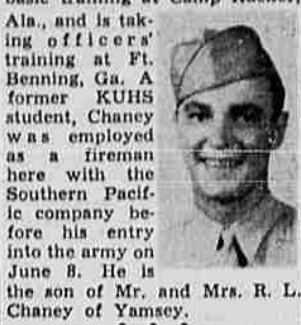

For a detailed list of equipment falling under these various classifications, farmers may consult either the dealers or the AAA office.

DONATION
RALEIGH, N. C., (AP)—The Wolfpack club, an organization which helps support the North Carolina State athletic program, received a donation from Australia—a one-pound note—sent by Lieut. S. D. Jones.

"I hope," wrote Jones, "that this will help some divot-digging linemen buy a plush-lined nose-guard." Jones wore a nose-guard while playing at State.

If your dealer is out for the duration, advertise for a used one in the want-ads.

ARMY MAN—Sergeant Adrian B. Chaney has completed his basic training at Camp Rucker, Ala., and is taking officers' training at Ft. Benning, Ga. A former KUHS student, Chaney was employed as a fireman here with the Southern Pacific company before his entry into the army on June 8. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Chaney of Yamsey.

REENLISTS—Eugene Oliver Jackson of Klamath Falls has reenlisted as yeoman second class in the U. S. navy, and is now stationed at Bremerton, Wash. Jackson held the same rank when he received his honorable discharge in 1930. He has been employed for several years by Fluhrer's bakeries, both here and in Medford. Mrs. Jackson plans to meet him in Tacoma this weekend where they will visit with friends, then go on to Bremerton with him.

WAITS ASSIGNMENT—Electrician's Mate Third Class William G. Casebeer has returned to San Diego to join a transfer unit of the U. S. navy. He left Klamath Falls September 23 after a short leave spent here visiting his wife and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Casebeer, of Bly. Casebeer, in the navy since August, has recently completed his "boot" training and will not be assigned to active duty. A graduate of Bly high school, '40, he was employed at the Big Lakes Box company before his enlistment.

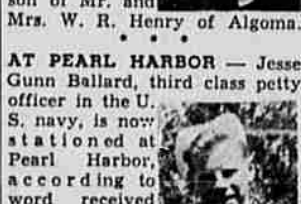

AT PEARL HARBOR—Jesse Gunn Ballard, third class petty officer in the U. S. navy, is now stationed at Pearl Harbor, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Ballard of 4680 Peck drive. Young Ballard, a graduate of Klamath Union high school with the class of '39, enlisted on January 13, 1942, and MARINE MUSIC INSTRUCTOR—R. V. Houston, 317 Pine street, has been made field music instructor of the marine drum corps at San Diego, it was learned when he was here recently on a seven-day furlough. Houston enlisted in the marines on July 28, 1941. He is also a member of the marine chorus and marine band.

IN THE NAVY—Howard Henry, second class seaman in the United States navy, is now taking aviation mechanics' training at Norman, Okla., having been transferred from Seattle after four months of basic. Henry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Henry of Algoma.

IN ALASKA—Private Byron M. Cody has been stationed in Alaska since June as a ground mechanic with the U. S. army air corps. Cody, who entered the army on February 5, took infantry training at Camp Walters, Tex., and later transferred to work with the air corps. A KUHS graduate with the class of '40, he was formerly employed at the Lockheed plant in Glendale, Calif. He is received his training at Sand Point naval air station, Seattle, Wash.

AIRPLANE MECHANIC—Private Walter C. Stanfill, graduated from Sheppard Field, Tex., has been sent to Santa Monica, Calif. In the army since last April, Private Stanfill worked here at the Lamm Lumber company. He is the son of Mrs. Mary Owen of 1542 Dayton street.

BOMBER PILOT—Lieutenant Ehle Reber, stationed with a bomber squadron at Kellogg Field, Mich., expects to be sent into foreign service soon, he has written his parents, County Commissioner and Mrs. John Reber. A graduate of Malin high school, the University of Oregon and of Luke Field, Ariz., where he received his wings in the U. S. army air corps, Reber has carried through with his interest in flying, and now pilots a bomber. He paid a five-hour visit to his parents here last Mother's day.

DAIRY—Flying Cadet Ben O. Horsley has returned to Phoenix, Ariz., after spending the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Horsley. He trained at Minter Field, Calif., and was graduated from the basic course on September 24. He will now enter training at Luke Field, Phoenix. "There's nothing finer than flying," he assured his friends here.

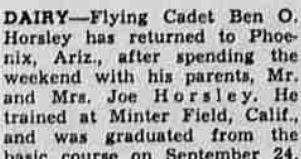

DAIRY—Dale Brown is a staff sergeant now, and has been transferred from Las Vegas, Nev., to Salt Lake City, Utah. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Brown of Dairy.

GREAT LAKES, Ill.—Two Klamath Falls men last week joined the list of sons from that city who have enlisted in the U. S. navy to do their share in helping defeat the axis. They are now in recruit training at the U. S. naval training station here, being converted into sea-going bluejackets.

Recruit training consists of instruction in military drill, seamanship, and naval procedure, plus "toughening" through the navy's intensive physical hardening program. Upon completion of this training, these men will be granted a nine-day "boot" leave, after which they will either attend one of the navy's many service schools for specialized training, or be assigned to active duty at sea or some other shore station.

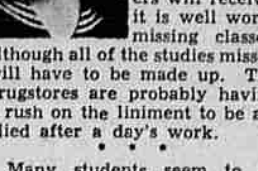

The two new bluejackets now in training are: Carl E. Blakley, 21, husband of Mrs. Vivian Blakley, 4039 Shasta Way, and Perry Kuhn, 32, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kuhn, 3237 Maryland avenue.

HIGH SCHOOL News Notes and Comment

By ANITA GWYN

For the next couple of weeks, the school is going to be pretty void of boys. Potato-picking season has come around and many boys are getting work in the fields with a better than average pay. From recent reports, we can see why school is a minor factor. With the money the pickers will receive, it is well worth missing classes, although all of the studies missed will have to be made up. The drugstores are probably having a rush on the liniment to be applied after a day's work.

Many students seem to be from an aircraft carrier somewhere in the Pacific, according to his aunt, Mrs. Garold White, of Dorris.

Lt. Kirkpatrick was born in Dorris and later lived in Klamath Falls. His grandmother, Mrs. Selma Lilly, lived in Dorris, and an uncle, Lester Kirkpatrick of Klamath Falls, was his guardian until he was 21.

SCRAPPED
SOUTH BEND, Ind., (AP)—Some 60 bronze name plates for box seats in Notre Dame stadium which are no longer in use have been turned in to the nation's scrap metal drive.

4-H'ERS GARNER EXHIBIT AWARDS

The Hi-Y held its first meeting of the year Tuesday. All junior and senior boys interested were invited to hear Regional Northwest Area Director Everett Harding.

The officers of the organization were elected last spring and are as follows: Phil Blohm, president; Dick Cada, vice president; and Don Bigger, secretary-treasurer. Plans are underway for this year's work. It has been suggested, and will probably be undertaken, to organize a junior Hi-Y, composed of freshmen and sophomore boys, under the guidance of Paul Deller. The Hi-Y sponsors several activities during the year.

Soon the Girls' league will be back in the swing with its traditional functions, although there will be new work taken up under the leadership of Joanne Hamilton, the newly elected president. Mrs. Alice Howard is the advisor of the league.

Three blue ribbons and four red ribbons have been won by Klamath county 4-H club members exhibiting at the state fair at Salem earlier this month. This was considered an excellent showing and letters have been received from the state club office complimenting the youngsters on their fine work.

Blue ribbon awards in canning went to Patricia Stewart, first year division; June O'Brien, third year division; Cora Young, fourth year division. Cora was also winner of a scholarship as champion in her division.

Red ribbons were won by Gloria Stewart for second year canning, Helen Gowen for first year clothing, Virginia Masten for second year clothing and Eris Fleming for room improvement.
