LABOR COUNCIL BACKS HEUVEL, POLICE FORCE

Klamath Falls Central Labor council has adopted a resolution voicing confidence in Chief Earl Heuvel and the police department in connection with the recent Jehovah's Witnesses incident.

The resolution:

Whereas, there has been some criticism of the city of Klamath Falls and its police department in connection with the recent happenings at the convention of Jehovah's Witnesses on Klamath avenue on Sunday of September 20, and, whereas this criticism is unjust and unwarranted for the reason the police force, as soon as it was called upon, acted and prevented any rioting or bloodshed and whereas Jehovah's Witnesses, by the campaigning they had carried on in their literature and salesmanship and visiting of houses, which, while they may not be legally an axis organization, their activities are directly helpful to the axis and against the United States and they had incurred the displeasure of the people of Klamath Falls by their sales activities;

Therefore, be it resolved by the Central Labor council that it is the opinion of this organization that the city of Klamath Falls and particularly its police force and Chief Heuvel performed their duty fully and well and met the situation in the best way it could have been met and they should be commended rather than condemned for what they have done in connection with said meeting. Chief Heuvel's police force was undermanned and he had four places where he had to maintain police officers in connection with the Jehovah's Witnesses convention: one at Eleventh and Main, one at Ninth and Klamath, another at Eleventh and Klamath, and still another at East Main and Hally, and he did not have enough men with his depleted force to fully cover all of those places. We must remember that our nation is now engaged in a desperate and bloody war where our boys are being killed and wounded at a dozen different places on the earth's surface and it is no time to tolerate subversive activities from any organization.

Adopted September 26, 1942. (Signed)

One guesses there will be a lot more of this before the war is over.

To say that hotel rooms in Portland are scarce wouldn't be within even gun-shot of the facts. As a going commodity, they are non-existent. When you find one, it's about the same as strolling through the hills and stubbing your toe on a gold nugget. They're wind falls—not something to be taken for granted.

This writer, having a business appointment, called Bill Hoffman of the Multnomah, and asked how about it. Bill's answer was a courteous laugh. "There isn't one in town," he said.

Arriving the next morning, Bill was again broached: "Would it be any use to put in a reservation for tonight?"

"Well," he answered, "I can give you a slant by telling about night before last—I haven't all the figures yet for last night. But night before last we filled the hotel to the roof, and then slept 48 people in the lobby, 14 in the barber shop and 12 in the Turkish bath."

LEADERS SLIP TO SLIGHTLY LOWER LEVEL

By VICTOR EUBANK
NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (AP)—Buying interest was slack in today's stock market and most leaders drifted fractionally lower.

Transfers were approximately 350,000 shares.

Decrease in activity from the relatively large average volumes of recent days was attributed by brokers partly to the withdrawal of numerous market followers pending a showdown on the farm bloc-Administration differences on the anti-inflation bill.

Laclede Gas preferred attracted lively bidding and picked up about 5 points at the best while the common slid off 2 or so. Davison Chemical tacked on a major fraction on a good turnover and American Airlines had a modest rise.

In lower ground most of the time were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler Goodrich, Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse Electric, Homestake Mining, Western Union, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific and American Smelting.

Bonds were irregular.

WHEAT

CHICAGO, Sept. 30 (AP)—After fluctuating nervously most of the session, wheat prices pushed upward as much as 2 cents a bushel during the final hour today.

Traders said the market's action largely reflected senate adoption of a compromise amendment to the anti-inflation bill to permit the president to take into consideration higher farm wages in computing ceilings to be placed on agricultural commodities. Buying came from dealers covering previous short sales and mills, brokers said. According to reports received here, both versions of the price control legislation now pending in congress contain provisions to raise government loan rates on basic crops.

Wheat closed 18-11 cents higher than yesterday, December $1.28 1/2, May $1.31 1/2; corn 1-1/2 up, December 85 1/2, May 90; oats 1-1/2 up; rye 1 1/2 higher; soybeans 1/2 lower to 1 1/2 higher. Wheat came within fractions of the four months tops established last week.
