Trondheim area, 200 miles below the Arctic circle.

German broadcasts said the state of civil emergency decreed there embraced large sections of two surrounding provinces as well as the great Trondheim port region.

The emergency was proclaimed, Berlin broadcasts said, because of recent sabotage attempts "which if they had succeeded would have endangered Norway's supply system."

The Berlin radio broadcast a DNB dispatch from Oslo which quoted Josef Terboven, German commissar for Norway, as saying the order was "nothing but justified German reaction to criminal acts committed by Norwegian radicals."

Another German broadcast heard in London said the emergency decree was accompanied by a declaration that anti-German outbreaks "will be broken by force of arms."

A Reuters dispatch from Stockholm quoted Swedish press reports yesterday that 3000 to 4000 German soldiers had been imprisoned for a mutiny at Alta in far northern Norway, and that 17 officers had been cashiered and 43 soldiers sentenced to death.

German broadcasts took an attitude of official astonishment at Denmark's attitude.

"Strict reserve is shown by competent German circles in commenting on rumors current abroad to the effect that the situation in Denmark had become tense," said one DNB dispatch broadcast from Berlin.

"It is pointed out, however," the dispatch added, "that the situation there is not quite as might be expected in view of the extremely correct attitude shown by all German authorities in Denmark."

REPAIRS FEATURE BUILDING MONTH

New construction was practically out of the picture during the month of September, according to Building Inspector Harold Franey, who reported a total of 28 permits totaling $9160 to the city council Monday night.

This was slightly under August when 36 permits totaled but $9340.

September, 1942, compares unfavorably with September, 1941, when 43 permits totaled $31,335, considered last year as a very slack month.

There were 13 residences remodeled last month, six business houses underwent repairs; garages, 4; garages remodeled, 2; churches remodeled, 1; high school remodeled, 1; industrial buildings, new, 1.

Largest permit of the month was for $1700 and went to the Brosthouse Construction company for work on the Klamath Machine and Locomotive Works for a shed and storage room.

SEPTEMBER FIRE LOSS HIT $700

Fire loss for the month of September was set at $705.50 by Fire Chief Keith K. Ambrose in his report to the city council Monday night. This entire amount was covered by insurance, Ambrose stated.

Twenty calls were answered by the fire department during the month, and there were four false alarms. Fires were reported as follows: dwellings, 1; hotels, apartment houses, 4; miscellaneous, 15. One fire was caused by defective wiring, one by hot ashes and coals, the other 18 attributed to matches and careless smokers. Value of property at risk was set at $88,000.

The Mississippi is the oldest of three battleships grouped by the United States as the New Mexico class. They are the Idaho and New Mexico, each 33,400 tons, and the 33,000-ton Mississippi, which was completed December 18, 1917.

Each of these battleships mounts 12 14-inch and 12 five-inch guns as her chief weapons and each carries three planes and two catapults from which to launch them.

All three were modernized between 1930 and 1934, when they were fitted with heavier protection including thicker decks and anti-torpedo bulges. During 1941, their anti-aircraft batteries were strengthened and their top-side protection was increased.

SLEDGE BLOWS AT STALINGRAD FAIL TO GAIN

agitation for a second front reached a crescendo in Moscow and evoked a new warning from Prime Minister Churchill not to press matters.

"We are quite clear that no statement from His Majesty's government is called for at the present time further than those already given," Churchill told parliament in London.

Churchill's comment was in reply to a question as to whether the government had any statement to make on Premier Stalin's letter to the Associated Press bureau chief in Moscow, in which Stalin called upon the allies to "fulfill their obligations fully and on time."

Churchill went on: "I have really nothing to add—certainly not on the spur of the moment—to the carefully weighed statement I have made on this subject, and I would strongly advise the house not to press these matters at a period which is certainly significant."

The British war leader warned last week against speculation on the possible time and place of allied offensive actions.

In Moscow, the sharpest Russian editorial expression to date on the lack of a second front appeared in a Pravda cartoon showing a group of "Colonel Blimp"-type generals listening dumbly to two strong officers labeled "General Decisiveness" and "General Courage."

The stiff-shirted officers were jugged with such names as "General Cannot Risk," "General No Hurry" and "General Let's Wait."

Soviet newspapers gave front-page prominence to Stalin's letter to the Associated Press.

Wildly fighting in far off Chungking, China, Wendell L. Willkie expressed hope that Stalin's letter would "bring Russia's imperative needs forcefully to the attention of the peoples of the United Nations."

Wild street fighting continued inside Stalingrad and in the northwest outskirts, while above the city, on a 40-mile front between the Don and Volga rivers, the Russians hammered new dents in the vital German left flank.

Two soviet bulletins told of progress against the so-called German "barrier" guarding the main Nazi siege armies.

WAREHOUSE BURNS
LEWISVILLE, Idaho, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Robert Belton potato warehouse burned to the ground yesterday. Estimating the loss at $25,000, Belton said 50,000 empty burlap sacks, 600 bags of potatoes and considerable machinery, which cannot be replaced, were destroyed.

when he and other witnesses reached him.

Hugh Brian Campbell Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Campbell of 1245 Pacific Terrace, was a graduate of Klamath Union high school. He was born in Tacoma, Wash., May 30, 1918, and came to this city with his parents in 1931. Hugh Campbell Sr., is assistant manager of the Weyerhaeuser Timber company here.

Young Campbell had long been interested in aviation and in late June entered the U. S. army air corps as aviation cadet and went directly to Santa Ana, Calif., where he completed his primary training the last week in September. He was transferred to Mather field, near Sacramento, where he was taking his basic training at the time of his death. He was a member of Squadron 66.

Final arrangements are being made by the Earl Whitlock Funeral home.

PORTLAND, Oct. 6 (AP)—close to his lookout station, and Sighting an enemy plane just can't compare to riding an elevator for thrills.

Just ask Howard Gardner, who now has done both.

Gardner was the forest service lookout who saw the plane, presumably Japanese, fly in from the sea September 9 and drop an incendiary bomb in Southern Oregon timber near Brookings.

As the first civilian defense lookout to sight an enemy craft, he was invited to Portland by the Oregon defense council. It was his first trip of more than 100 miles away from his native Curry county.

He took most of the city's hustle and bustle in stride—except for the elevators.

"Gives me a tummy feeling in the stomach," he explained.

Roosevelt Says American Labor Doing Its Job

TORONTO, Oct. 6 (AP)—President Roosevelt, praising the "splendid" production record of United States workers, told the American Federation of Labor today in a message to its convention here he was sure "they can take whatever it takes to win this war."

"Everywhere during my recent inspection of war activity, I found the workers doing all that was laid out for them and more," said the president's message.

"At every turn they gave assurance that they can take whatever it takes to win this war. "They are not afraid of hard, continuous, precise and dangerous work. They are walking up to it as their duty and part in the war. They are proud of it."

5 Jap Prisoners From Aleutians Land on Coast

A PACIFIC NORTHWEST PORT, Oct. 6 (AP)—Taken in naval action in the Aleutians, five Japanese were landed recently at a Pacific northwest port and whisked away under guard to a previously prepared detention spot, it became known today.

An official source confirmed that the prisoners were handed over to the army by the navy after their capture in the northern war zone. They were the first Japanese prisoners of war to arrive in the Pacific northwest and were believed to be the first in the continental United States.

Behind their capture and arrival in the states there lies a dramatic story of an engagement not yet officially released, said the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, which added that one of the five was an officer, believed at one time to have been a Seattle resident.

Solon Sees Huge Tax Demand for Coming Year

mal and surtax rate should not exceed 40 per cent, we gave careful consideration to the effect of such a rate upon our economy and also considered the effect of the rates levied by other countries," George said.

In some instances, at least, the tax rate is higher than that of Great Britain, the senator's figures showed.

"If we look at the first bracket of individual income tax rates under this bill," he said, "we will find that the total normal and surtax rate amounts to 19 per cent. In addition, the 5 per cent victory tax raises this total to 24 per cent. If we add to this the 40 per cent imposed upon corporations, we will have a total rate of 64 per cent on individual incomes as compared with the British rate of 50 per cent. Moreover, in Great Britain, no state or local taxes are imposed."

George said the committee gave careful consideration to the recommendations of Chairman Donald Nelson of the war production board in fixing the excess profits rate at 90 per cent with a 10 per cent post-war refund, given in non-negotiable, non-interest bearing bonds payable after the war. He gave four main reasons for the post-war credit:

"1. With a high corporate tax, it will give the taxpayer an immediate incentive to make the corporation more efficient in its operation and keep its costs down to a reasonable basis.

"2. It will allow more immediate revenue to the government than could otherwise be secured under high rates.

"3. It will provide the corporation with a post-war reserve to enable it to undertake the task of rehabilitation and readjustment after the war.

"4. By having a tendency to hold down costs, it will offset somewhat the effect of an unduly high excess profits tax upon inflation."

George estimated the broadening of the individual income tax base by reducing the personal exemptions would add approximately 7,000,000 new taxpayers, with 600,000 more added by a reduction of the credit for dependents from $400 to $300.

Union Dues Rates Under Scrutiny

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Chairman May (D-Ky) of the house military committee said today a nationwide investigation of fees exacted by unions from job applicants on army projects may be undertaken if specific evidence of exorbitant charges are found.

The fee issue was revived in the house by Rep. Faddis (D-Pa.) who asked that a military subcommittee look into payments made by workers at the army's huge ordnance plant at Meadville, Pa.

ALLIES WREAK HEAVY DAMAGE ON NIP FORCES

was left "dead in the water," the navy said. No American losses were reported.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Australian headquarters told of further advances by Australian jungle troops in New Guinea. Still without contacting the Nipponese, the ground force pushed past Kagi, last community south of the mile-high mountain range, and pressed on. Gains of about three miles in the Kagi area and of about six miles to the Myola lakes in another advance were accompanied by Allied air activities which brought down three Japanese planes over the Buna invasion base on New Guinea's southeast coast, and four more over enemy airfields at Rabaul, New Britain.

In the Aleutian islands, the Nipponese also were paying heavily for footholds. American forces which Saturday announced occupation of the Avdreenof group of islands between Dutch Harbor and Kiska have smashed daily with explosives and incendiaries on the enemy's Kiska camps and hangars. Five Japanese seaplanes were reported shot down.

GENERAL MACARTHUR HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Oct. 6 (AP)—American long-range B-29 bombers heavily attacked a Japanese convoy heading north from Buna yesterday, a headquarters announcement said today, raising the question whether the enemy had attempted to withdraw part of his forces or to land reinforcements for his hard-pressed troops falling back in the Owen Stanley mountains.

The attack upon the convoy, including two destroyers and a large transport, came as the bloodless allied advance across the Papuan peninsula continued through its eighth consecutive day. The Japanese vessels apparently had slipped into Buna under cover of darkness and results of the air attack were not observed.
