GOLD TUMBLE DOESN'T ALTER STOCK MARKET

By VICTOR EUBANK
NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—A steep fall in gold mining shares failed to ruffle the stock market's composure today and the majority of industrial leaders received enough support to hold prices near the previous closings. Transactions were approximately 600,000 shares.

The golds were hit by the WPB's order suspending operations throughout the industry so that more equipment and labor would be made available to producers of nonferrous metals, vital to war production. Homestake came back a little after an early tumble of about 5 points to a new low for the year. McIntyre Porcupine, (a Canadian property) dropped around 2 points, this move reflecting belief the Dominion government would follow the WPB action.

Yesterday's utility leaders looked somewhat deflated as Wall Streeters weighed new tax proposals of the senate finance committee and concluded they would take away some of the tax advantages promised earlier in connection with provisions for credits against preferred stock dividends.

American Can and Allied Chemical were up a point each at the best. Minor improvement was recorded by Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Boeing, N. Y. Shipbuilding, Electric Boat, United Aircraft, International Nickel and Cerro de Pasco. Santa Fe and Chesapeake & Ohio slanted lower along with Montgomery Ward, Public Service of N. J. and North American.

Rails loans supplied the bulk of activity in a mixed bond market.

WHEAT FLUCTUATES WITHIN CENT RANGE

CHICAGO, Oct. 7 (AP)—Wheat prices fluctuated within a range of slightly less than a cent a bushel today, alternating above and below previous closing quotations and winding up with little net change.

Narrow fluctuations also characterized trading in other cereals as grain trading, coming virtually to a standstill much of the time, awaited clarification of the price control situation. Milling trade reports indicated business was stalemated by confusion over the flour ceiling and this was reflected in the wheat trade. There was still no indication that definite ceiling prices would be announced for grains at this time and some traders expressed belief the government may try to continue control of the markets through its loan program.

JAP STUDENT MOVE REQUEST TURNED DOWN

SALEM, Oct. 7 (AP)—The state board of control refused today a request by the war relocation authority that the board permit 12 or 15 Japanese students to attend the state school for the deaf in Salem.

While the children were residents of Oregon before they were taken to relocation centers, none ever had been in the state deaf school.

"It would seem funny to bring them to the school here when they never had been here before," the governor said. "We should not bring them back into an area from which they had been so painfully extracted."

Attorney General I. H. Van Winkle advised the board it had no obligation to accept them.

Marvin Clatterbuck, superintendent of the school, said he believes the government should provide classes for deaf Japanese children within the relocation centers. He said he was opposed to accepting them in his school.

"I can see no reason to take them," Clatterbuck said. "It is not the proper time to send them here when the movement of Japanese is inland. Our institution is very crowded, and to take them would force us to deny instruction to white children. Also, older white children would resent Japanese students."

LOAN ASSOCIATION LEADER INDICTED

PORTLAND, Oct. 7 (AP)—Lee Stidd, former vice president of the First Federal Savings & Loan association here, is under arrest today on a secret indictment charging fraud.

Al Price, deputy U. S. marshal, said the indictment included eight counts, accusing Stidd of making false entries in a monthly report to the board of directors of First Federal and of making false entries of payments from Properties, Inc., to which First Federal loaned money.

Charles L. Stidd, vice president of Properties, Inc., and brother of the defendant, said the charge was "purely technical" and arose as a result of unprecedented costs of construction on homes built by Properties, Inc., and financed through the First Federal.

Stidd, who was released on $5000 bond, resigned from the loan association in February.

STATE INSTITUTION SALARIES PROBLEM

SALEM, Oct. 7 (AP)—President of the senate Dean H. Walker told the state board of control today he would call the state emergency board into session soon to consider the board's problems involving salaries at state institutions.

Governor Charles A. Sprague told Walker that all institutions would be able to operate without deficits until the legislature meets next January, but some of them, including the Hillcrest school for girls, probably would have deficits before the end of the biennium next July 1.

Walker said he believed the emergency board probably would not appropriate more money for institution salaries, leaving the matter for the legislature, which would meet in time to relieve any threatened deficits.

The governor said the girls' school, which ordinarily has three instructors, now has only one because of the low salaries paid them.

EARLY PACKING METHOD

This cans were made to fit the fish, instead of fitting the fish into the cans, when salmon first were packed in cans. A special, hand-made, form-fitting tin suit was built to order for each fish. First such packing was in Cork, Ireland, in 1845.
