BUY WAR BONDS AND STAMPS NOW

The Girl Scout Victory Fund drive, which started October 1 and ends on Thanksgiving day, was inspired by the British Girl Guides.

During Empire week, May 19 to 26, they put on a campaign to raise 50,000 pounds for the purchase of two air ambulances and a motor lifeboat. This mark was so far exceeded that they were also able to buy a motor ambulance, a traveling canteen and to outfit a refugee center. This is the more noteworthy as it was attained during the darkest days of the war for Britain.

Every local member, adult as well as girls, is asked to buy from her earnings or savings at least one war stamp. These are

WOOTON TELLS MARRIED MEN TO STAY PUT

SALEM, Oct. 13 (AP)—Married men engaged in occupations which are not essential to the war effort should not cease their present employment until their services are needed in essential activities, Colonel Elmer V. Wooton, state selective service director, said Monday.

When drafting of men with children begins, probably next year, men in non-essential jobs will be drafted before those in essential jobs.

"As the war effort progresses and non-essential activities are curtailed, many of those employed in non-essential activities will become available for more essential employment," Colonel Wooton said.

"Many registrants deferred by reason of dependency will leave non-essential employment and seek employment in or training for essential activities. This voluntary movement from non-essential to essential activities will in a large measure accomplish a direction of manpower into activities where needed. It should be a gradual, orderly and economic sound transfer from employment in non-essential activities to employment in or training for essential activities."

UNION HEADS PLEAD GUILTY TO CONSPIRACY

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 13 (AP)—Four Albany men pleaded guilty in federal court Monday to a charge of conspiring to obtain about $50,000 from employees on a government construction project at Voorheesville and were fined $10,000 each. The court paroled the men in the custody of their counsel until the fines are paid.

The defendants were Thomas F. McGraw, business manager of Local 106, International Union of Operating Engineers (AFL), his son, John McGraw, a stationary engineer in the Albany city Bureau of Streets; George F. Mann, assistant business manager of the local and Jacob Betar, union steward on the project.

The defendants were charged with instituting a "permit card" system for furnishing operating engineers and hiring non-union men after union rolls were exhausted, the non-union workers being required to pay for the privilege of working.

HIGH SCHOOL News Notes and Comment

The lists of the Girls' League clubs have been posted in the main hall and a meeting will be held Wednesday to elect officers for the respective clubs.

There have been several changes in the organization of the League which will be brought up later. There have been comments made as to the seeming slowness of getting under way this year, but it must be taken into consideration that the school system has been weathering a change which also affects the business of a good share of the clubs in the student body. So one and all should not expect as great an efficiency as of normal times.

The social committee will soon be getting down to business. This committee takes care of the entertainment for the student body. The entertainment may be few and far between this year but we must expect less pleasure and more work on our part.

A good share of the students seemed to be helping in the potato fields the last several days. Keep up the good work. Was that a groan?

The Gay Vaqueros are coming to KUHS next Monday, October 19, at 3 p. m. These Mexican musicians will dance and sing to Mexican music. Save your dimes.

High school students will not receive their report cards until nine weeks of the semester have passed. The grade schools will have reports every six weeks but the high school will remain as announced at the beginning of the year.

COFFEE JOINS IN BRASS HAT BEEF

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP)—Representative Coffee (D-Wash.) told the house in extension of remarks Thursday "I join with Wendell Willkie in saying 'our brass hats' need prodding," in urging immediate action to expell the Japanese from the Aleutian islands.

"The people of the Pacific coast are indignant that so many weeks of relatively good weather in the summertime have elapsed before a genuine, protracted, persistent night and day offensive against the Japs in the Aleutians is undertaken by American armed forces," Coffee said. "I join with Wendell Willkie in saying 'our brass hats' need prodding. Americans are crying out for men of initiative, daring, adventuresomeness. As a nation we are surfeited with men who are prone to croak 'it can't be done.' We are disgusted with alibies and inactivity."

Coffee demanded to know why "we always allow the axis to make the attack before we commence" and why the nation allows the enemy to pick the front.

"Why don't we take some chances?" he asked.

SALEM TO GIVE UP POPULATION SPOT

PORTLAND, Oct. 13 (AP)—Salem is Oregon's second largest community, but it won't be next year.

The honor will fall then to the housing project now being built just north of Portland.

As might be suspected, it's mostly a Henry J. Kaiser project. It is scheduled for completion Jan. 1, and is expected to house nearly 40,000 persons, shipyard employes and their families.

Started last month, the $25,102,000 project will cover 650 acres. It is devoted entirely to two-room apartment units, the first of which are to be ready for occupancy Nov. 1.

Kaiser holds the prime contract for the project, located between Portland and the Columbia river and about midway between two of his three shipyards here.
