Shops and Shops

Hallowe'en has crept up on me so quietly that I was startled this week to realize the night of witches and jack-o-lanterns comes Saturday. . . . But the day of the week probably is being blessed by a number of youngsters who like to have Hallowe'en parties on the very same night as Hallowe'en. . . . And on a Saturday night they can really howl.

Whytal's

YOU'LL find those new iridescent beads in both necklaces and pins at Whytal's. The kind that look as if you could see through them. . . . I think they're made of nylon, but anyway they're one of the marvelous new "substitutes."

Whatever shade you get, the beads will go with almost anything you wear. . . . And they're lovely. . . . The pins are $1.95 and the strings of beads, $2.95.

Whytal's costume jewelry counter also has a new shipment of those darling charms to wear on charm bracelets. . . . Sterling silver tanks, windmills, cowboy boots and saddles and all kinds of other western things. . . . Hearts, too. . . . The prices are 75c to $1.00.

And if you're looking for pearls, you'll find long, long double strands at Whytal's for $3.95. . . . For the large size. . . . And $2.95 for the small pearls.

Your Store, Inc.

OLD weather is here. . . . It always comes just as day follows night. . . . And it seems that every year I need a couple of new blankets, for one reason or another. . . . This year it's because I have a full-time guest room.

So, knowing about the big new blanket department at Your Store, I dropped in this morning. . . . And decided I'd better rush back to The Herald and News office to let you know what I found instead of waiting until next week.

To start with, you probably realize that no more 100 per cent wool blankets are being manufactured, because not enough wool is allotted. . . . Instead, the best manufacturers are weaving their blankets tighter to make up for the reduction in wool content.

You'll notice that in the lovely blankets at Your Store. . . . For instance, the Victory blankets, which are the best made now, are 80 per cent wool and 20 per cent rayon. . . . They're nicely woven and beautiful to look at. . . . And, as a matter of fact, they carry more wool than you'll usually find these days. . . . Your Store has priced these at only $10.95, which I think is sensational.

But the most interesting blankets, I think, are the Victory Slumberers at Your Store. . . . Which are 25 per cent wool and 75 per cent cotton. . . . And the softest I have ever held between my fingers. . . . Because of the extra-close weaving designed to make them far warmer than their wool content would indicate. . . . These are $7.50.

Mr. Isaac told me that he has been unable to get any more large-size all-white cotton sheet blankets and Your Store has only a few left. . . . They have proved too popular at $1.95. . . . The smaller size, 70x90, which is $1.39, still are available, he said, but the big 72x108 (the best sellers) have all been sold out at the factory.

Incidentally, he's very proud of that blanket department on the mezzanine. . . . And he should be, because there is a big stock of all kinds. . . . I've mentioned only three types. . . . But he told me that anybody who already has good blankets should take extra care of them because good ones are getting harder and harder to find.

So if the cold weather has made you realize you need more blankets for this Winter, you'd better get going. . . . And drop up to Your Store's mezzanine blanket department.

I had a telephone call Wednesday evening, so I'll make my answer general. . . . Cal-Ore's cover charge is in effect only on Saturday nights and it goes on at 9 p. m. that night.

Curry's

THE new plastic Rubinstein lipstick have arrived at Curry's. . . . And they're really awfully clever-looking. . . . Although I did wonder at their size, which is somewhat larger than usual.

But Thelma said, "Well, look what's inside," and when I'd turned the lipstick up as far as it would go I realized why. . . . Because there's a lot of lipstick.

In fact, it seems to me there's as much in one of these plastic lipsticks as there used to be in Rubinstein's $1.50 lipstick. . . . And this new plastic container lipstick costs only $1.25. . . . So I guess plastic must cost less than metal.

Oh, yes. . . . You'll find all the famous Rubinstein lipstick shades in these new clever plastic cases.

At Curry's.

Moe's Cosmetics

ONCE-A-YEAR specials are bargains that should be snapped up. . . . Anyway, that's my policy. . . . So here's a tip that Saturday is the last day of the once-a-year special on the famous Charles of the Ritz Throat Cream at Moe's Cosmetics department.

And it's more than a half-price special. . . . The regular $3.50 jar is only $1.00 until Saturday evening. . . . Plus the government tax, of course, but think how much you save on tax (10c instead of 35c). . . . Which is an extra saving.

Charles of the Ritz Throat Cream is especially good because you can leave it on for 15 minutes in the morning or at any time during the day, and get results. . . . But, naturally, if it can get in its work overnight, you're that much better off.

Women over 30 need a good throat cream, Virginia Calhoun told me, because at that age each gal should begin to guard against "crepey" throat. . . . So when you can get this marvelous Charles of the Ritz Throat Cream for only $1.10 (including tax) instead of $3.85 (including tax), you should jump at the chance. . . . I think.

Remember, Saturday is the last day of the once-a-year special. . . . At Moe's Cosmetics department.

By this time everybody ought to realize there's a shortage of things made of metal. . . . And their pins are no exception.

In fact, Fern Short (who owns the Studio of Beauty at Whytal's) told me the other day that I should bring with me the bobby pins and hair pins I want to wear out in my hair. . . . Her shop is running short.

Garcelon's

THERE'S even a shortage of frogs. . . . You know what I mean. . . . Those flower holders made of metal. . . . And I discovered it only accidentally, because they told me at Garcelon's they were tired of shortages.

But I happened to be short of frogs, because somehow mine always disappear. . . . And so I asked for some when I went in to Garcelon's to pick up Pat Livingston so she could buy me a coke.

Don't get me wrong. . . . Garcelon's has a big supply, because Jane Garcelon bought all she could when she was in California. . . . But the truth is that the store won't be able to get any more.

So whether you want tiny ones costing 25c or big adjustable wire ones that are $1.50, remember that this shipment has to take care of a lot of people in the Klamath country who will need flower frogs.

JOG DOWN ON DAY'S MARKET

By VICTOR EUBANK

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (AP)—Quiet recovery inclinations were exhibited by selected stocks in today's market but many leaders continued to jog along a declining trail.

Irregularly lower prices prevailed at the start. Improvement cropped up here and there later, especially in the rubber group, and, near the close, gains of fractions just about offset losses. Numerous issues were unchanged. Transfers approximated 450,000 shares, smallest for a full session in two weeks.

In front at intervals were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Southern Railway, Standard Oil (N. J.), Chrysler, American Telephone, Goodyear, U. S. Rubber, Goodrich, Kennecott, Pullman, Fajardo Sugar, South Porto Rico Sugar, Western Union and Consolidated Edison.

On the offside the greater part of the day were General Motors, Santa Fe, Great Northern, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, General Electric, Westinghouse, Eastman Kodak, J. C. Penney, United Aircraft, Sperry and U. S. Gypsum.

Bonds were relatively steady and commodities uneven.

WHEAT

CHICAGO, Oct. 29 (AP)—With rye and corn futures prices at new lows for the year, the trend of all grain values was lower today as renewed selling appeared in the market as a result of the large domestic surpluses available and lagging commercial demand.

Most losses were only fractional, but rye sagged about a cent and corn was down almost that much at times. Grain men said hedging sales were apparent in the corn pit in connection with the new crop movement. Ceilings on flour limited demand for both wheat and rye, they said.

Wheat closed 1-c lower than yesterday, December 1.231-1, May 1.126; corn 1-c down, December 79-79 1/2, May 84-1/2; rye 1-c down, December 61c; soybeans unchanged to 1c off; oats unchanged to 1c higher.

AFL Chief Denies Discrimination Against Negroes

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 29 (AP)—AFL Boilermakers' Chief Tom Ray denied today that the union was discriminating against negro workers at Henry J. Kaiser's Vancouver, Wash., shipyard.

Replying to a demand from John F. Frey, national president of the AFL metal trades department, that the local metal trades council withdraw its opposition to negroes as skilled laborers, Ray said:

That the union objected only to the shifting of men from one union to another without proper clearance, and that it opposed advancement to New Yorkers, recently brought here, over local workers who have been on the job for several months.

OREGON NEEDS Experienced Leadership

Earl Snell Is The Man!

AT this most critical period of Oregon's history, Earl Snell can bring to the service of the state an unequalled background of experience in state affairs.

HE has had years of service in the Oregon legislature where his leadership was recognized by election as Speaker of the House of Representatives.

HIS experience as Secretary of State and his membership on the Board of Control and other boards and commissions for nearly eight years have given him an intimate understanding of the needs of the state and its citizens.

EARL SNELL'S executive skill has won national recognition by his election as Secretary and Director of the National Conference of Secretaries of State, his election as national president of the Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators and by his appointment as the only member from west of the Mississippi on the important Traffic Advisory Board to the War Department.
