STEELS, RAILS LEAD NEW TRIP TO HIGH LEVEL

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—Selected stocks, led by steels and rails, got another grip on recovery today and market favorites finished the week and the month tilting upward by fractions to a point or so.

While activity was restricted from the start of the brief session, advances were well in the majority at the close. Transfers for the two hours were around 300,000 shares. Looking back on October, it was observed that the Associated Press stock average, up more than 2 points, makes its best showing for any month since July of last year despite occasional interruptions.

Steels revived on forecasts of considerably better profits for the principal producing companies than most had looked for. Most of Friday's popular air transports managed to tack on further modest improvement.

General Motors and Chrysler inclined to lag. Among stocks touching new tops for the year were crucible common and preferred, Pennsylvania railroad and Northern Pacific.

Prominently supported were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, American Telephone, Standard Oil (NJ), Allied Chemical and Eastman Kodak.

Intermittent losers were DuPont, United Aircraft, Sperry and Western Union.

Bonds and commodities were steady.

CEILING CRAMPS LIVESTOCK BIDS

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 31 (AP)—The grand champion steer of the American Royal livestock show hung his shaggy black Angus head today — while his young owner, Clarence Bradley of Calhoun, Mo., looked at a check for $562.50, or 30 cents a pound.

Because of federal price ceilings, that's all the grand champion brought in yesterday's auction, although the top steer last year sold for $3.10 a pound.

No bidder at this year's show ventured above 50 cents, and Jerome Walsh, regional OPA attorney, said price ceilings "are undoubtedly the reason for it."

There is no OPA restriction on the price bidders may pay for live beef; but there is a ceiling on the price at which they can sell the meat wholesale, Walsh explained.

FUNDS LACK FOR FARM SUBSIDIES

By OVID A. MARTIN WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—The administration will have to get funds from congress before it can launch any extensive program for subsidizing price control of agricultural products and low farm wages, authoritative officials said today.

Funds for existing subsidy programs are being taken from $2,750,000,000 congress already has made available to the Commodity Credit corporation for financing the agriculture department's commodity loan and other price stabilization programs.

The officials, who asked that they not be quoted by name, said virtually all the CCC funds were either tied up in commodities owned by the government, secured under producer loans or earmarked for loans yet to be made this season.

The administration, at President Roosevelt's direction, turned to CCC funds to finance price control subsidy programs after congress refused last spring to vote money for such useage. The fight against subsidies was led by the farm bloc, whose members now are pressing for a senate investigation of such programs.

WHEAT

By FRANKLIN MULLIN CHICAGO, Oct. 31 (AP)—Grain prices were steady today, being confined to the narrowest trading range of any session in months. Veteran brokers said they could not recall when price fluctuations varied less except during very unusual periods when exchange rules prevented changes.

Both wheat and corn fluctuated over a range of only 1 cent even with yesterday's close, most of the time. Scattered mill buying and hedging sales constituted the bulk of activity.

Wheat closed unchanged to 1/8 higher compared with yesterday, December $1.24 1/4, May $1.26 1/4; corn 1/4 higher, December 79 1/4, May 84 1/4; oats unchanged to 1/8 off; soybeans unchanged to 1/8 off and rye unchanged to 1/8 higher.

Anti-Freeze Sets Auto on Fire

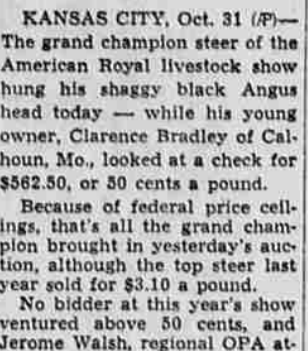

Too hot to get cold! That's what firemen decided when they extinguished a blaze that damaged Roy Turner's car early Saturday morning at South Sixth and Martin streets. Fire ladders said anti-freeze boiled over and set the motor burning.

'No Political Ambitions': MacArthur

Blasting speculation on his reported aspirations to the presidency, General Douglas MacArthur, left, said, "The only hope and ambition I have in the world is for victory for our cause in the war." In his most recent photo from Australia, General MacArthur is shown with Aussie Prime Minister John Curtin.

Hunting Trip Turns Into a Race With the Stork

HILLSBORO, Oct. 31 (AP)—Shipyard Worker Walter Robbins disclosed last night that his one-day deer hunting trip turned out to be a race with the stork.

Robbins, en route to the hills, was flayed down by the driver of a stalled car 15 miles from here. In the vehicle was Mrs. Glenn Ineles of Banks, about to become a mother.

Robbins and Mr. Ineles helped the woman change cars, began a race to a hospital here. A nurse car drove up behind once but did not stop Robbins despite his high speed.

Afterward Mrs. Sam Cov. hospital superintendent, disclosed that Robbins beat the stork by "just one minute."

(Continued From Page One) and wide-ranging desert warfare of maneuver will be resumed. Meanwhile an almost equally important British (and American, since U. S. air forces are co-operating) purpose is to prevent reinforcements from reaching Rommel by way of the Mediterranean.

REUTER'S (British news service) correspondent at Cairo adds an interesting touch today. He says there have been many desertions from Rommel's army in the past few days, and adds that it has been confirmed that the axis desert army contains a substantial number of CONSCRIPTED Poles, Slovenes and former French Foreign Legionnaires.

That, if true, is further confirmation of Hitler's growing shortage of manpower.

ENLIGHTENING SEATTLE, (AP) — The jack o'lantern problem has been solved. C. T. Bateman, a lighting engineer at civilian defense headquarters, thought jack o'lanterns should be snuffed because of dim-out regulations. Other officials thought there wouldn't be enough candlepower in a one-candle lantern to make any difference. Then the ninth regional defense board stepped in. Its ruling: No lanterns.

It Was a Good Idea, But It Didn't Work Out

PORTLAND, Oct. 30 (AP)—By punching holes in the tops of coffee cans when he made the sale a Portland merchant hoped to curb the pre-rationing buying wave.

Customers would buy only what they needed immediately, he told OPA officials, because exposure to the air would prevent its keeping good indefinitely. What the merchant overlooked was called to his attention by the OPA: punching the holes automatically put the coffee under a lower price ceiling.

Blizzard Blamed In Tom Stout Death

ALBANY, Oct. 31 (AP)—A blizzard in the high Cascades was blamed today for the death of Tom Stout, Dallas, whose body was found in a wrecked automobile on the Santiam highway near Hoodoo Butte lodge.

Stout was reported missing five days ago. Coroner E. C. Fisher said the car apparently skidded off the road during the storm.
