Dorothy Hill Bride In Morning Wedding

James W. Kerns Home on Highway Scene of October Ceremony Last Sunday

A lovely bride of last Sunday morning was Dorothy Hill, daughter of Mrs. F. L. Hill of Baker, Oregon, who became Mrs. John Paul Kerns in a ceremony read at ten o'clock at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Kerns on the Keno highway. The Rev. W. Earl Cochran of McMinnville, old friend of the bride's family, read the service.

Vows were exchanged before a huge arched window at one end of the Kerns living room, the window wreathed in ferns and greens. On either side were clusters of yellow chrysanthemums.

The bride came down the open stairway into the living room on the arm of her uncle-to-be, Mr. B. E. Kerns, who gave her in marriage. She was lovely in her mother's wedding gown of ivory silk mull fashioned with a high collar, brocaded blouse and skirt with minute tucks on the long pointed sleeves. The skirt, bell shaped, was extremely full and ended in a brief train. Her mother's wedding veil of illusion net was gathered in a cap at the head. Her flowers were white bouquet with a single purple orchid in the center.

Mrs. Edwin Halliwell of Medford was her sister's only attendant. She wore a quilted taffeta frock of apricot shade, made in princess style, and carried an old fashioned nosegay.

Mr. Benjamin Kerns was his brother's best man. During the ceremony soft music was played and the lovely recessional and professional as well.

Immediately after the young couple received felicitations from the fifty guests, a wedding breakfast was served in the dining room. The bride and groom cut the first piece of their cake which was a three-tiered confection decorated with scrolls and wreathed in white roses. A wedding bell and miniature couple, used at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. James Kerns Jr., topped the cake. Mrs. Halliwell served. Pouring coffee was Mrs. Kerns Sr., mother of the groom, and assisting about the rooms were Betty Ray, who came home from Oregon State college, Martha Ray, and Edna Ray, also home from Corvallis, and Mrs. Kerns Jr.

Receiving with the bride and groom were their mothers. Mrs. Kerns chose a pale green silk print redingote, and Mrs. Hill a black wool costume suit. Both wore bouvardia and gardenia corsages.

Mr. and Mrs. Kerns left by motor on a wedding trip from which they are expected to return this weekend. For traveling the bride wore a dressmaker suit of deep wine wool with a small black cap and veil and black accessories. An orchid was pinned to the lapel of her jacket. The Kerns will be at home at their ranch on the Keno highway.

Both are graduates of Oregon State college where Mrs. Kerns is a member of Kappa Delta, and he of Sigma Nu fraternity.

Among the affairs given for the young couple before their marriage was a family dinner at the Kerns home Saturday evening.

Visitors From Coos Bay City

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Chandler Jr., are visiting in Klamath Falls this weekend as the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Coppage of Lowell street.

Benefit Saturday

Reservations Coming In for Lioness Club Party November 7.

One of the largest as well as first of the season's large benefits will be the Lioness club party on Saturday afternoon, November the seventh, in the Willard hotel. Mrs. Myrtle C. Adams is general chairman of the affair.

Reservations are coming in nicely for the party and those who have not been contacted but wish to reserve tables may call the chairman of this committee, Mrs. Vernon Moore, 4744; Mrs. R. E. Hooker, 6864; Mrs. Vern Owens, 3289, or Mrs. F. Cecil Adams, 3517. Those wishing to play are asked to take tables early, and in the event there are women who wish to come for cards but not to take tables, they will find partners at the party from among the Lioness club members, it was announced.

Bridge will be played early in the afternoon with tea to be served at four o'clock. All proceeds will go toward the eye conservation fund, a worthwhile project of the organization, and inasmuch as the members are assessed individually for the cost of the party, there should be a tidy sum for the women to spend in the care, treatment and correction of faulty vision among the needy children of the county.

There may be those who have a busy day on the first Saturday in November, set aside for the party, and an invitation is issued to come for a cup of tea after four o'clock.

Venture Club Plans Benefit

Members of the Venture club are making plans for a benefit bridge party to be given Friday evening, November the thirteenth, at the Willard hotel. Chairman of the affair is Barbara Sellers. Members of her committee will be announced later.

Square Dancing

"First couple out to the couple on the right Around that couple and take a little peek, Back to the center and swing your sweet Around that couple and peek once more Back in the center . . . circle four— Four hands up and here we go, Around and around and a docey-doe!"

Square dancing, which has hit the nation and found thousands of enthusiasts overnight, has come to Klamath Falls in a big way! It goes hand in hand with the American way of life which includes freedom of activity during leisure hours. Out in Texas and Colorado the "cowboy dances" were revived some time ago. The hep cats and rug cutters stored away their "zoot suits" and donned cowboy boots and loud silk shirts and the girls substituted long full skirts with plenty of swish in the hem.

These pictures were taken at a square dance meetin' over at the high school and more than seventy-five thoroughly enjoyed going through such intricate whirls and walks as "Grapevine Twist," "Lady Round the Lady," "Sally Goodin" and the old favorite, "Dive for the Oyster," which starts out with a call—"First couple out to the couple on the right."

No-Host Party On Friday

Betrothal of Margaret West Announced This Week.

An affair of interest in Klamath Falls Friday evening was the no-host dinner party given at the Pelican at six o'clock, in honor of Miss Margaret West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. West of Merrill, and Lieutenant and Mrs. Don West.

The betrothal of Miss West to Mr. Lloyd Froom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Froom, of Salem, was made known this week. Miss West left by train Saturday morning for La-Crosse, Wisconsin, where her marriage will take place in the near future.

Lieutenant and Mrs. West, the former Dorothy Teed, are leaving Sunday morning by motor for his post on the east coast.

Tables were gay with fall flowers and following the dinner the group attended the Klamath Falls-Grants Pass football game. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Gerald West and son, Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Dale West, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Griffith and son, Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brethaupt, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. West, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Whitby, Mr. Keith Ambrose, Mr. and Mrs. Byron K. Teed, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth G. Klahn and sons, Larry and Roger, Lieutenant and Mrs. Don West and Miss Margaret West.

Mrs. Dick Reeves of Lebanon is spending several days in Klamath Falls as guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Karl G. Cummings of Washington street.

Mrs. Earl Welmar left Friday evening by train for a visit in the south and in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Mrs. E. B. Hamm of Bend is spending the weekend in Klamath Falls as the house-guest of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Finnigan of Washington street.

Lisbeth Daggett Bride of Saturday

Blush Pink Satin Chosen for Her Wedding Gown By Former Klamath Maid.

One of the loveliest weddings of the season was solemnized at two o'clock this afternoon in the First Presbyterian church when Lisbeth Ann Daggett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Junior Daggett of Prineville and formerly of this city, became the bride of Mr. John Walter Lidstrom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lidstrom of Prineville. The Rev. A. Theodore Smith read the service.

Just before the ceremony Mrs. Winnifred Gillen, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Raymond Cooney, sang "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes." Mrs. Cooney played the traditional wedding marches.

Vows were exchanged before a bank of orchid pink and white chrysanthemums and palms. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a blush pink satin gown fashioned with a snug fitting torso length bodice, sweetheart neckline, the long sleeves puffed at the shoulder and fitting at the wrist. The full skirt ended in a train. The bride's blonde loveliness was enhanced by a sheer pink tulle veil which fell to the floor from a cluster of lilies-of-the-valley on her head. Her shower bouquet was of white bouquet and white orchids.

The bride's matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Hiram Mersereau, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Paul Crapo, cousin of the bride, Miss Mary Louise Vincent of Portland, and Miss Virginia Bubb. All wore light blue satin gowns made with pleated scrolls outlining the bodice with tiny self covered buttons down the front. The long full skirts were floor length. Mrs. Mersereau carried pink roses and the other attendants carried Colonial bouquets of pastel shaded flowers outlined with tulle ruffles.

Mr. Roy Lidstrom was his brother's best man. Ushers were Mr. Hiram Mersereau and Mr. William Tackman, both of Prineville.

Immediately after the ceremony there was a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest M. Bubb on High street. The bride's table was covered with an heirloom lace cloth and centered with the wedding cake which was wreathed with pom pom chrysanthemums in pink and white. Five round mirrors completed the center arrangement, on each scallop a Colonial bouquet. Punch was served from an old silver urn, and coffee from a silver service. Tall ivory candles in silver candlesticks were placed on either side of the cake, cut by the young couple and served by Mrs. Charles Joseph Martin and Mrs. E. M. Bubb. Pouring were Mrs. Frank Jenkins, Miss Mary Jane Jenkins and Miss Phyllis Foster.

Mr. and Mrs. Lidstrom left for San Francisco where they will spend several weeks before returning to Prineville to make their home. For traveling the bride wore a coin green sheer wool with a grey squirrel coat and cap. A cluster of orchids was pinned to her coat.

The bride is a member of an old Klamath family and for the past several years has resided in Prineville. Both Mr. and Mrs. Lidstrom are former students of the University of Oregon, he affiliated with Phi Delta Theta and Mrs. Lidstrom with Pi Beta Phi.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette Stephens at 1965 Del Moro street have been Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Swan and Mrs. Robert Fleming of Everett, Washington. The men have been hunting. Mrs. Swan and Mrs. Stephens are sisters and Mrs. Fleming is their mother.
