

JUDGE J. ORR DIES AT HOME HERE MONDAY

Judge John S. Orr, long a resident of Klamath Falls, both in the early days of this city and in its recent development, passed away at his home on Monday, November 2.

Born July 29, 1856 near Cambridge, O., Judge Orr came to Oregon as a young man in 1885. He first taught school in Langell valley and later in Linkville. In 1890 he became county judge and served one term of office in this capacity. Judge Orr was admitted to the Oregon State Bar association in 1892.

Always a great lover of trees, it was during his term as county judge that he set out the large trees which now are growing around the present county courthouse grounds.

In 1898, Judge Orr was united in marriage to Iva E. Simpson. Three children, two sons and one daughter, were born to them. Both sons are now serving with the armed forces of their country. Lt. Colonel Marshall Simpson Orr of the U. S. army air force is stationed in Washington, D. C., Lt. Col. William Willard Orr of the U. S. marine corps is stationed at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, and Elma Ruth (Mrs. Frank M. Underwood) lives in Oakland, Calif.

Following his term in office as Klamath county judge, Judge Orr engaged in the practice of law in Klamath Falls. Elected twice to the office of district judge in Reno, Nev., Judge Orr served in this capacity from 1906 until forced to resign in 1913 because of ill health.

In all of his work in public life among professional associates and in private life among family and friends Judge Orr was held in high esteem for high quality and character, personal integrity, clear thinking and fair dealing. Very few of his decisions as either county or district judge were reversed by the higher courts. Even during his last illness, he was keenly interested in current happenings. He was a member of the Masonic order and was the first resident of Klamath Falls to sign for the organizing of the First Methodist church of this city.

ATLANTIC U-BOAT TOLL REACHES 512

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3 (AP)—The navy announced today that a small Yugoslavian merchant vessel was torpedoed and sunk by an enemy submarine in the Atlantic off the northern coast of South America late in September and that survivors have been landed at an east coast port.

Twenty-five men, two of them injured, were rescued. The captain and two crewmen were killed when a torpedo exploded under the bridge shortly after midnight. Two lifeboats were launched before the ship went down.

The sinking brought to 512 the Associated Press count of announced United Nations' and neutral losses in the western Atlantic since Pearl harbor.

A Friend in Need

The fine traditions behind the family physician are symbolic of his undeviating dependability. They are redundant with legends of self-sacrifice, hardship and suffering. Now, as never before, you need your family physician. You need his counsel and advice to protect you from fraudulent claims and false prophecies made by vendors of nostrums and cure-alls. These fakes usually have their origin with quacks and charlatans. Seek the advice of your physician. Be governed by his counsel. Depend on him as generations have done before you. Bring his prescriptions to us. We will follow his instructions to the last degree.

Last August 17, several policemen nursed bruises after hauling her off a horse named Ginger, which she and a boy friend tried to ride into a throng in uptown Victory square. This time, only one policeman nursed injuries. He was Patrolman W. G. Farmer, and he had
