

PASSAGE OF RETAIL SALES TAX FORECAST

By IRVING PERLMETER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (AP)—Administration economic chief- tains forecast today that settle- ment for a general retail sales tax would be much stronger in the new congress which organizes in January.

This appeared to be the only prediction in the economic field upon which these government agency leaders agreed.

A sales tax, if it materializes, either could be added onto all existing taxes or substituted for some of the heavy income taxes recently enacted. The war budget to be presented to congress in January may influence this decision.

Going To Be Tough The influence of the election on economic issues was intensified by general agreement that argument on military matters probably will be restrained, leaving "home front" questions as an outlet for political steam.

Except for the sales tax ques- tion, the officials interviewed, all of whom asked to remain anonymous, ranged in their be- liefs from one group who said "the new congress won't be any different from the last one" to another who feared "it's going to be tough now to get through some of stabilization measures which we believe are necessary."

Poe Valley

A light snowstorm visited the valley this week, plus rain. Mrs. Wallace Hoyle sold all of her bees with hives recently.

Virgil Holmes is helping Earl Kester of Tule lake, harvest potatoes.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nork and son John, went to Keno Sunday to visit their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Doak, and their son, Benny, all of whom are engaged in logging operations there.

Mr. and Mrs. Doak and daughter Lucille, were callers here Saturday.

Frances Sullivan is now em- ployed at the Merrill junction store.

Several Poe valley people went to Klamath Falls Friday night to see Merle Webber and George Davis off to Portland for their final examination before induction into the army.

Mr. Osborn of Tulelake, was a business caller here Friday. The Wallace Hoyle family made a trip to Portland recent- ly.

Boys in Khaki Cheer Symphony At Fort Lewis

FORT LEWIS, Nov. 6 (AP)— Classical music received an en- thusiastic welcome last night from the boys in khaki in this army post.

A crowd of 4000 soldiers in the fort sports arena whooped and whistled their approval of a Seattle symphony performance under the baton of Sir Thomas Beecham.

The usually dignified Sir Thomas relaxed during the in- termission to regale the soldiers with a few humorous stories.

New Airmail Requirements Delay Shipments From KF

Klamath postal officials re- ported Thursday that a new rul- ing on airmail, requiring inspec- tion of sealed packages or other sealed articles, is causing delay in the transmission of much airmail sent from Klamath Falls.

The postoffice officials said that persons having such arti- cles for airmailing should take them to the postoffice, be inspec- ted, so that they may be unseal- ed and then sealed in the pre- sence of a postal employe.

Postmaster Burt E. Hawkins made the following statement: "No sealed package, parcel or other sealed article (except letters in their ordinary and usual form) shall be accepted for transmission by air mail unless it bears on the address side thereof the name and address of the sender together with the endorsement: 'Postmaster: This package may be opened for postal inspection, if necessary.'"

Oregon Rated Second in Bond Investments

PORTLAND, Nov. 6 (AP)—Ray Conway, Oregon war bond sales administrator, reported today that Oregon now rates second in the nation on the basis of per- centage of income invested in bonds.

For the five months from May 1 to October 1, Oregon's percent- age was 8.9 per cent, topped only by Iowa's 10.1, he said. Oregon's monthly quotas have been $8,750,000 and will be the same this month.
