

CITY BRIEFS

Leaving Klamath—George S. Gray, for the past five years located in Klamath Falls as local agent for the Railway Express company, left Wednesday morning for Burbank, Calif., where he has been transferred. Mrs. Gray and son, Bobby, will leave within a short time to make their home in Burbank. Gray expressed appreciation to the businessmen of Klamath Falls for their cooperation since his residence in this city.

He is taking machine shop training and plans to become a machine operator in war work in Portland. He states that he wants to prepare as thoroughly as possible so that he can do the maximum to produce materials of war.

At NYA Center—Lavinia George of Sprague River, is a recent enrollee at the NYA resident center at Eugene. She is taking welding training and states that she is anxious to make a direct contribution to the war effort by being a war worker in the shipyards.

KANSAS CITY, (AP)—Enos West was surprised when the stranger said that W. A. Julian, and not Henry Morgenthau, Jr., is the treasurer of the United States.

He was even more surprised when the stranger took two of West's dollar bills and pointed to Julian's official signature to prove his point.

But he was most surprised of all, he told police, when the stranger ran away with the two dollars.

War Bond to a War Mother

Dick Reeder, Klamath merchant, presents Mrs. W. E. Lloyd of Algoma, (right) with a $50 war bond made out in the name of her son, Ralph, missing at Corregidor, as the result of an extremely interesting display of Klamath youths in service at Reeder's store this week. Mrs. T. S. Clegg, 2429 Orchard avenue, (center), receives an order for a picture of her son, Clifford, missing since the fall of Bataan. For each picture of a service man, brought to Reeder's this week, Dick bought a $1 war stamp. Before the display was completed more than 2000 stamps had been purchased by the Klamath merchant who said his only regret was that every boy was not represented. Final awards to Mrs. Lloyd, Mrs. Clegg, and Mrs. Carl Stout whose husband is in Hawaii, were made at Armistice day services Wednesday at the armory. Mrs. Stout also receives a picture as her part in the display.

OLD STUFF

KANSAS CITY, (AP)—Mrs. Vincent Heegn was happy to find, after a long search, a pound of coffee on a grocer's shelf.

She was happy, that is, until she opened it and found a coupon which said:

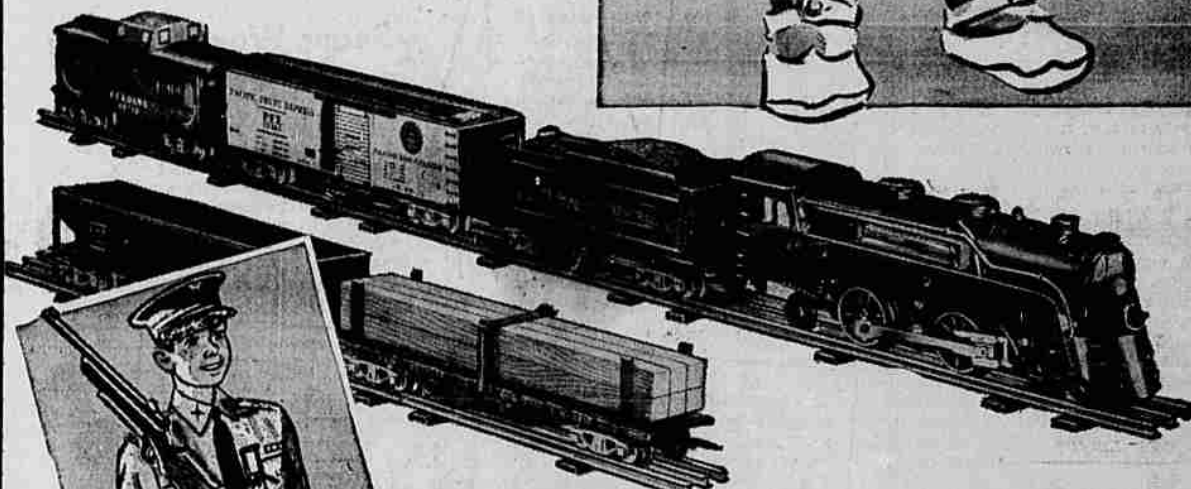

"Send 50 cents and this slip before April, 1939, and get a pair of silk hose."
