MRS. SCHUBERT, 76, PASSES ON SATURDAY NIGHT

Mrs. Carl Schubert Sr., 76, beloved pioneer of the Spring Lake district, died Saturday at 6 p. m. following a lengthy illness. Members of Mrs. Schubert's family were at her bedside at the time of her passing. She had made her home in this area for more than 29 years.

Mrs. Schubert was born Augusta Mueller at Romerstadt, Austria, April 7, 1866. She crossed the Atlantic alone at the age of 16 years, to visit a brother who resided in Nebraska. Carl Schubert, who had known his future wife in Romerstadt, followed her to this country and within a year the two were married at Belwood, Neb., August 6, 1883.

Mr. and Mrs. Schubert moved to Columbus, Neb., where Mr. Schubert was in business for more than 30 years. In 1912, with a large family, they moved to Baker, Ore., to benefit Mrs. Schubert's health. A short time later they moved to Klamath county and settled in the Spring lake area.

In 1924, Mrs. Schubert fell and broke her hip, an injury from which she had never fully recovered. Through long years of suffering she continued to live a courageous and useful life. Her chief interest lay in her family and she was a devoted mother and a kind and helpful neighbor. She was a lover of music and she spent many hours in handwork, much of this turned over to the American Red Cross in the last year of her life.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 9:30 a. m. from Sacred Heart Catholic church of which she was a member, and burial will take place in Mt. Laki cemetery beside her husband who preceded her in death several years. The family plot overlooks the old family ranch home.

Mrs. Schubert leaves to mourn her passing nine children, Mrs. C. A. Tucker of Baker, Mrs. J G. Cramer of Tacoma, Wash. Mrs. Herbert Byers of Chowchilla, Calif., Mrs. Charles Moran of Yakima, Mrs. W. H. McPherren, Mrs. Jess Johnson and Mrs. W. A. Arnold of this city, and two sons, Carl and John Schubert, also of Klamath Falls. In addition there are 15 grandchildren, one great-grandchild, and several nieces, three of whom live in Vienna.

Arrangements are being made by Whitlock's.

NIPPONS SEEK NEW FOOTHOLD ON ATTU

accompanying the "fortresses" also had strafed enemy anti-aircraft installations on the island, indicating that the Japanese would attempt a show of resistance against attacks such as those that made their Kiska base, 170 miles to the east, virtually useless. Attu lies about three-fourths of the way from Alaska to the Kurile islands of Japan, and the enemy might well regard it as being more valuable from a defensive than from an offensive standpoint.

First indication that they were attempting to regain Attu, after the navy's announcement of October 7 that aerial reconnaissance showed no signs of life on either Attu or Agattu, came on November 11, when it was announced that army planes had destroyed seven float type enemy Zeros at Attu two days earlier. There was no opposition to this attack, and the Thanksgiving day raid was carried out without the loss of any United States planes.

Death Toll Mounts To 479 in Wake of Boston Holocaust

trict Attorney Foley declared, "If some of the stories I have read are true, there have been several law violations in connection with the operation of the club."

Stampede

Fire Marshal Garrity's preliminary report embodied information given at inquest, which will be resumed late today, including the testimony of the first Boston fire chiefs to reach the scene.

They testified that the searing flames spreading through paper palm trees and other decorations sent a thousand patrons stampeding in a fighting frenzy toward a few exits. A deputy fire chief told of finding bodies near a closed door whose safety lock—designed to open under pressure—was out of order. Police Commissioner Joseph F. Timilty indicated in an interview that under the law, a 16-year-old boy "isn't supposed to" work in a place where liquor is sold.

Palm Set Fire

The busboy whose match started the inferno was identified by Deputy Police Superintendent James R. Claflin as Stanley F. Tomaszewski.

The boy related, Claflin said, that he was trying to replace an electric light bulb which had been unscrewed by a prankster in the recently opened melody room of the club when the match flame brushed the flimsy palm and set off the devastating blaze.

The flames swept through the highly inflammable decorations as the orchestra leader raised his baton to signal for the national anthem as a prelude to the Saturday night floor show. Within seconds the crowded night club was a bedlam of screaming women and horror-stricken men dashed for exits, tumbling over each other on the jam-packed stairways.

Blood Plasma Used

District Fire Chief William J. Mahoney said tangled and frightfully burned bodies were found four and five deep and that tables and chairs were scattered and tipped in a shambles among the dead.

As speedily as possible, physicians and specialists in the treatment of burns, mustered by the Boston committee on public safety, were mercifully ministering to the injured, using blood plasma rushed from the Red Cross in Washington and pain and poison-allaying sulfa drugs.

Meanwhile, long lines of relatives and friends stood two abreast outside the city's morgues throughout the cold night waiting for a chance to identify bodies, many of them charred beyond recognition.

The death toll ranked only behind the steamship General Slocum fire of 1904 in New York's East river in which 1021 died, Chicago Iroquois theatre fire of 1903, which claimed 602 lives, and the San Francisco earthquake and fire of 1906 in which 500 died.

Notables Escape

Among notables who escaped from the inferno was Scott Dunlap of Van Nuys, motion picture producer, who was injured and among those hospitalized.

Other widely known persons who either perished or were injured include: Edward Ansin, Brookline, Mass., president of the Interstate Theatre corporation and treasurer of a Boston textile firm, dead; Dr. Gordon Bennett, of Swampscott, captain of the 1937 Dartmouth football team, dead; Robert Beverly Charles, 28, Winchester, Mass., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Charles of Oak Park, Ill., and eastern manager of a Chicago candy company, dead; Joseph A. Boratyn, star fullback of the Holy Cross football team a year ago, dead; Charles (Buck) Jones, cowboy star, dead.

Norine Helen Welch, 17, daughter of Vincent S. Welch of Port Washington, N. Y., vice president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, dead; Mary Ellen McCormack, niece of U. S. Rep. John W. McCormack, dead; Grace McDermott, New York entertainer at the club—known under the stage name of "Vaughn," dead; Katherine Woods, 22, daughter of Carl Woods, Boston manufacturer, president of the Crosby Steam Gauge company, dead.

Home From North—Mrs. Russell Brackman has returned from Portland where she accompanied her mother, Mrs. Frank Hamm, following services held here for the late Frank Hamm, former Klamath Falls chief of police. Mrs. Hamm will make her home in Portland with her son and daughter, Lowell and Velma.

Visitors— Among the out-of-town visitors in Klamath Falls were Mrs. William Grove, Mrs. F. M. Trotman and Mrs. O. M. Castleman, all of Merrill.

State Cordell Hull indicated that the government was expecting explosive developments in Italy's internal situation soon.

Hull said one should not be surprised to hear of serious unrest in various parts of the war-weary kingdom.

German advices reaching Switzerland said "endless columns" of troop transport vehicles and war materials were moving southward through Italy apparently to defend Italy against a possible allied invasion.

African Spring Board

In a victory broadcast yesterday, Prime Minister Churchill promised that the war would soon be carried to Italy "in a manner not hitherto dreamed of by its guilty leaders." And he added significantly:

"We expect to expel the enemy before long from the 2000 miles of African coastline. But Africa is no halting place. It is not a seat but a springboard. We shall use Africa to come to closer grips."

AUSSIES CAPTURE GONA BEACH AREA

es dropped many thousand-pound bombs on the Gona area, starting several fires and blowing up an ammunition dump, and leaving only two small native huts standing.

P-40 fighter planes followed up the heavy bombers' attacking with effective divebombing and machinegun attacks along the Japanese-held beachhead.

2 Destroyers Hit

(The Australians' drive to the beach presumably would cut communications between the main Japanese centers of resistance, Gona and Buna, some 20 miles to the southeast. Sananandа, toward which the Australians are driving lies about halfway down the curving coast between Buna and Gona.)

Other Flyin. Fortresses meanwhile rode out stormheads to bomb four enemy destroyers caught off New Britain. Two ships were hit definitely; others fled northward at full steam.

Who Got What?

In still another area, American-piloted A-20 dive-bombers and Aussie-manned Beaufighters made late evening and early morning attacks on Lae airdrome, up the New Guinea coast from Buna.

The A-20's bombed and strafed from 60 feet, catching machine-gun fire from Japanese crouching high in palm trees.

Hours after the Fortress pilots returned from their attack on the destroyers the pilots were good-naturedly arguing about who got what.

This was the latest of a series of actions in the area of the New Georgia islands, which lie about 180 miles northwest of Guadalcanal in the central Solomons.

ELMER WALKER HURT IN FRAY

A stabbing affray outside a tavern at Keno Saturday night sent Elmer Walker, 23, to Klamath Valley hospital with serious wounds, and resulted in the arrest Sunday of Wade Baker, 549 Commercial street, and Albert Thomas Palone, 1600 Wall street.

Sheriff Lloyd Low said that Walker is expected to recover, but that he suffered a gash on the head, another on his upper arm, and still others on his side and thigh.

Walker, who lives at 421 North Fourth street and is employed by a railroad, was stabbed outside the beer parlor after a disturbance had taken place inside and several men had been ejected, according to investigating officers.

The officers did not indicate immediately whether Baker or Palone was suspected of the actual stabbing, but both men were held in the county jail.

The investigators said Walker was brought to the local hospital by Henry Gibson. Walker was bleeding profusely when he arrived here.

A dance was in progress at Keno at the time of the knife affair, with a large crowd on hand to celebrate on the last weekend before gasoline rationing goes into effect, the officers said.

DON POSITION WRESTED FROM GERMAN ARMY

skies on the Stalingrad front in support of cavalry and tanks slashing at the enemy lines. Fifty loaded trucks and 12 nazi planes were reported destroyed by soviet squadrons in that area yesterday.

Pravda said "the iron ring of our troops is closing around the Germans' in the Don-Volga zone. The situation on the central front, where red army vanguards are slashing west of Rzhev, 130 miles northwest of Moscow, was summed up with the declaration that the red army men "vigorously overcome all obstacles, overwhelm the enemy's resistance and steadily advance."

Nazis Seek New Line

The midday communique announced the capture of several more communities on the central front. An arm of the offensive grouped south from Rzhev along the Rzhev-Vyazma railroad, threatening to take from the rear the advanced nazi stronghold at Gzhatsk, on the Smolensk highway 100 miles from Moscow.

Dispatches from the Stalingrad front said the Germans, after losing the battle along the Don loop, were seeking to form a new line to the east, within the Don-Volga corridor, to protect their divisions massed before the city.

In Stalingrad

New German lines on the east bank of the Don were broken by the soviet troops and 1000 more Germans were reported to have paid with their lives for the luckless siege of Stalingrad. The Russian infantrymen were supported by tanks and artillery as they moved forward in the second break-through in this sector reported in two days.

Within the long-besieged city of Stalingrad fighting continued and the Russians said their artillery destroyed 38 German dugouts and blockhouses and wiped out a battalion of enemy infantry.

storage about private property.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) said today that "almost unbelievable chaos" would accompany nation-wide gasoline rationing unless administrators simplified the system from that in effect along the eastern seaboard.

"A terrific administrative mess remains to be liquidated," Vandenberg told the senate, "and gasoline rationing regulations, already serious if not inflammatory, must be reviewed and simplified."

Breakdown Looms

Conceding that it was an administrative and not a legislative problem, and that Price Administrator Leon Henderson had his "sympathy," Vandenberg declared:

"However, these officials must go in the field and rationing must be governed under local responsibility or the system is headed for a serious breakdown."

Senator Reed (R-Kans. interrupted to say he had been assured by Defense Transportation Director Joseph Eastman that rationing boards in each county would say how much gasoline each farmer and each merchant could have under the program effective tomorrow.

Wide Open Spaces

Vandenberg replied he had received a letter from W. G. Armstrong, master of the Michigan Grange, expressing apprehension and citing complications ahead.

People drafting regulations in Washington, Vandenberg declared, must learn that they can't apply the same regulations out in "the wide-open spaces" that fit urban centers.

The Klamath county grand jury went into secret session Monday morning after hearing instructions from Circuit Judge David R. Vandenberg quoting the law, in particular, on the subjects of perjury and the duties of public officials.

Judge Vandenberg advised the jury to investigate all offices having anything to do with the courts of justice, including his own.

He told the jurors to exercise extreme caution against permitting personal feelings to enter their deliberations and actions.

R. P. Ellingson was named foreman of the grand jury, succeeding Fred L. Pope, Jr., who left the jury when he took office as county commissioner.

Vance Vaupel, druggist, is the new member of the jury. Other members are A. D. Addison, Clyde Griffith, William F. Jinnette, Martin Greene and Arden Fugate.

It was not indicated how soon the grand jurors would report.

Himler Arrives In Toulon to Deal With French

LONDON, Nov. 30 (AP) — Roundabout dispatches reported today that Heinrich Himmler, chief of the German gestapo, had arrived in Toulon to deal with the aftermath of the destruction of the French home fleet by its own officers and men.

The Moscow radio broadcast a Tass dispatch datelined Geneva which said Himmler was at the French Mediterranean naval base while the nazis were carrying on a campaign to arrest and punish all Frenchmen in the former unoccupied zone accused of opposing the German authorities or belonging to illegal organizations.

Such persons, together with officers who opposed the demobilization of the French army, will be tried by court martial, the Tass dispatch said, and may face sentences of death.

Rotary Program—H. M. Shapleigh, superintendent of the Great Northern railway here, will have charge of the regular Friday noon luncheon of Rotary club in the Willard hotel.
