The music department, under the direction of Charles Stanford and Andrew Loney, Jr., is making rapid progress toward the Christmas selection of songs. The a cappella chorus is practicing carols and planning a heavy program of appointments to sing for various organizations. The girls' glee club has been presented at several performances and scheduled for more before the holidays.

Once a week, the members of the Klamath Knights take up their stand in the main hall to sell defense stamps. From reports, we gather that the students haven't done all they could and can. Several bonds have been sold in Mr. Vanderpool's room but it isn't necessary to buy a bond every time. Stamps can be purchased every Thursday and eventually they will be a bond. Remember your money for stamps tomorrow, for tomorrow is the day.

Turn the knob on the radio Thursday evening at 7:15 and listen to Pelicans. This is a weekly presentation of a Junior English class, under the leadership of Charles Woodhouse.

Special mention goes to Shirley Chase, Betty Cline, Janice Garner and Fern Glubrecht, who demonstrated machinery and equipment in the commercial department when the League of Women Voters toured eight departments of KUHS. Eight Peppers ushered Monday evening.

The War Coordinating committee held a special meeting Tuesday to discuss plans for the immediate future. This committee is more or less of a steering group to see that every organization in the school has helped in some way in the war effort and that they do the thing best suited for them.

POINT SYSTEM DEVELOPED FOR MEAT RATION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—You'll have to learn how to juggle a new kind of money soon to put meat on the table.

Disclosing a few more details of the meat rationing program scheduled for early next year, the office of price administration explained some phases of the point rationing system which has been developed particularly for handling such commodities.

Shortly after New Year's, everyone will get war ration book No. 2. No. 1 was the sugar book which also is being used for coffee. Book No. 2 will contain 192 coupons of different colors, denominations, and lettering.

These coupons are the coin of the new money system which Americans will have to master. Instead of pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters and halves, you'll have a red A-1 coupon, a red A-2 coupon, a red A-3 coupon, a red A-4 coupon, a red B-1 coupon, and so on, through the whole alphabet (except I and O), and then all over again for the blue coupons in the same book.

When meat rationing starts, OPA will assign certain letters for use the first month or period of weeks—perhaps red A, B and C for February—and then will put out a price list, in points, on various kinds of meat—maybe something like this:

Cut	Points Per Lb.
Hamburger	1
Porterhouse	3
Lamb Chops	3
Round Steak	4
Bacon	5

This illustration is strictly hypothetical, because the big question which officials haven't settled yet is the point values to be assigned different kinds of meat. The points represent the figures on the coupons. An A-1 or an S-1 is good for one point, a B-5 or a T-5 five points and so on. Two C-2's can be used for a 4-point purchase.

From this point on, you budget your points just like your money, except that it will be your points rather than your money that will be rationed. You might have a ration of 48 meat points for February. If you spend all your coupons on porterhouse, well, you spend them all on porterhouse and that's that. If your taste runs to hamburger you get more of it for your coupons.

Control Supply
The government has printed 160,000,000 of these new "ration money" books, so that everyone can have one. While meat is expected to be the first commodity rationed with it, other things may be allotted with the same book. For instance, all the red coupons could be used for meat, leaving all the blue coupons for perhaps clothing, although OPA does not contemplate clothing rationing at present.

Generally the point values will be figured on available supplies rather than on intrinsic values. In some cases OPA might juggle the points from month to month, to influence the public to choose more plentiful things by making those items "cheap" in points. In the case of meat, for instance, steaks might be made very "expensive" in points to get people to eat more plentiful roasts—if that were the case—or pork might be made more expensive than beef, or vice versa.
