

STOCKING HOME RAZED BY FIRE

The home of Mr. and Mrs. George Stocking, 1616 Dayton street, was destroyed by fire Tuesday night and virtually all articles in the residence were lost in the flames.

Fire started from a small burner in the utility room at the back of the house. Mrs. Stocking said she had placed wet turkey feathers in the stove and the steam apparently sent the lids from the burner and spread through the residence. The garage was also burned but the family car was saved.

Some insurance was carried on the structure which was built five years ago.

A small amount of furniture and some clothing was saved. Mrs. Stocking was especially grieved over the loss of her foodstuffs canned from the victory garden which she raised this past year. All kitchen utensils were lost in the fire.

The Stocking home is located in the suburban area south of Klamath Falls and fire protection is not available. Although a call was put in to the local fire department, trucks are not permitted to answer calls out of the city limits.

EXECUTIVE SLIP

SALEM, Ore., (AP)—The pastor delayed the start of his sermon to announce that a member of the congregation had left his automobile motor running.

"Here is an opportunity for the owner to demonstrate his patriotism and conserve gasoline," the pastor said, reading the car's license number.

There is no excuse for a man who can roam the streets panhandling not doing some kind of an unskilled task in a war factory. — B. C. Seiple, manager Cleveland U. S. E. S.

G. C. Tatman Named To Civil Service Commission Here

G. C. Tatman, secretary of the culinary alliance, was named to the civil service commission and attended his first meeting at a session called Tuesday night in the city hall. Tatman replaces Percy Murray, long time member of the board, who has retired to give his time to tire rationing.

Members of the commission drew up a resolution "expressing sincere regret over the death of former Chief of Police Frank Hamm." A copy of the resolution has been placed in the minutes and mailed to members of the late Mr. Hamm's family.

CITY BASKETBALL MEET SCHEDULED

City recreation basketball goes into full swing Friday night with a meeting at 7:30 p. m. at the city council chambers of all persons interested in forming teams for play in the church league, a non-commercial league, according to Dave Bridge, city recreation officer.

Because the government is interested in keeping youths fit for military service, Bridge is especially concerned in getting members of the church leagues—composed mainly of high school players—to attend tonight's meeting.

In order to make basketball play more attractive to these league teams, the entrance fee is being lowered from last year's ten dollars, and the games will be played in the high school gymnasium two nights each week at no charge.

A new unit of government—the metropolitan region, which will consist not only of the central city but its hinterland of dependent and co-operating towns—is emerging and beckoning for recognition.—Dr. Louis Wirth of University of Chicago.

MEMBERSHIP IN TRIBE LIMITED

Membership of the tribes of the Klamath Indian reservation is now limited to persons possessing one-fourth or more degree Indian blood.

B. G. Courtwright, superintendent of the agency, said that the ordinance limiting membership in this manner has been approved by the assistant secretary of the interior.

The ordinance was enacted by the Klamath Indian general council on July 16, 1942.

Executive Takes Fourth Wife

NEW YORK, Dec. 3 (AP)—Tom Mercer Girdler, 65, of Cleveland, steel and aircraft executive, and Miss Helen R. Brennan, 36, of New York City, who once was his secretary, were married yesterday.

Chief City Magistrate Henry H. Curran officiated at the ceremony.

The marriage, Girdler's fourth, came five days after he and the former Lillian C. Snowden of Maryland, whom he married in 1924, were divorced in Reno.

NELSON VICTOR IN SCHEDULING ROW

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—The final word on scheduling of munitions output apparently rested today with civilian officials—reputed victors in a back-room verbal slugging match with the armed services.

With President Roosevelt in the dual role of matchmaker and referee, the long pending controversy was declared settled yesterday, with Vice Chairman

Charles E. Wilson of the war production board, the new boss of aircraft production.

The president, himself, announced the problem was solved—just as he previously said it would be—by getting the participants together in a room and keeping them there until an agreement was reached.

A government official, who asked not to be identified, said WPB Chief Donald M. Nelson who appointed Wilson head of a little WPB for the aviation industry, emerged victor of the contest. Production scheduling of all other munitions would be managed by the armed services, he added, but under a delegation of authority from Wilson.
