

NEW RULINGS LIMIT LIQUOR SALES, HOURS

Patrons of the Oregon state liquor store here became painfully aware this week of new and stricter rulings on closings and sales.

The store opens daily at 10 a. m. and closes at 8 p. m., Saturdays included. Last Saturday night many would-be liquor purchasers arrived after the store closed, and there was a line down the street of people who couldn't get in.

Store patrons were also finding out that under a new rule, only one bottle will be sold to each purchaser in any one day. Those going back for second bottles on the same day were refused.

Stricter rulings also have been announced for wine and beer sales in the city.

Licensee Affected
Changes in the rules governing selling hours and closures by state liquor commission licensees here go into effect the coming Saturday, December 19.

Under the new rules, places selling beer can sell only from 7 a. m. until midnight.

Places selling package wine, or consumption off the premises, can sell only between 7 a. m. and 1 p. m. to civilians, and can sell to members of the armed forces only between 5 and 8 p. m.

Transportation Prohibited
A soldier can buy beer at any time a civilian can buy beer. No liquor may be consumed on licensed premises between 12 midnight and 7 a. m.

Transportation of alcoholic liquor is prohibited between 12 midnight and 7 a. m. except by special permit.

No sale of wine for consumption on the premises may be made to officers or persons in uniform of the armed forces, including the Oregon state guard between 5 p. m. and 12 midnight.

Masters Stationed Here
No sale of service, set-ups or mixers, for use with alcoholic liquor, is to be made by restaurant, hotel-restaurant, club or service licensee, to any members of the armed forces, except between the hours of 5 p. m. and midnight.

Floyd Masters has been stationed in Klamath Falls as inspector for the state commission. He comes here from Corvallis, where he was a member of the police department.

Choir to Present All-Musical Service Sunday Evening

The choir of the First Methodist church, located at North Tenth and High streets, will present a sacred Christmas concert in the church at 8:30 o'clock Sunday evening. Andrew Loney Jr., will conduct and Mrs. E. S. Veatch will be the accompanist. Mrs. S. Meade Badger, Mrs. Winnifred Gillen and Mrs. John Harding will be soloists.

A portion of the program will be a chorologue in which John Ebinger will be the narrator. This will be the first time this choir, under the direction of Loney, has presented an all-musical service in the church and it is hoped that music lovers of Klamath Falls will be in attendance. Rev. Victor Phillips, pastor, stated.

Looks Like Every Klamath Resident Wrote a Letter

Practically every man, woman and child in Klamath county wrote a Christmas letter or signed a Christmas card if you ask Postmaster Burt E. Hawkins, who said that 82,168 letters had gone out of the local postoffice in the past five days.

Heavy mailing started last Thursday when 21,107 letters were mailed. The next day, Friday, the letters ran 17,263 and 139 sacks of parcels were dispatched. Saturday saw a slight decrease with 13,797 letters mailed and 164 sacks of mail leaving the local postoffice. Sunday was low with 4221 letters, but Monday's figure reached a seasonal high with 25,787 letters and 211 sacks of parcels. This did not include 108 fat packages which did not make the sacks.

Hawkins said he couldn't compare this year's figures with those of 1941, as patrons for the first time had heeded the "mail early order" and were really going to town.

Clerks opened the parcel windows at 7:30 Tuesday morning to accommodate a long line of customers although the windows are slated to open at 8 a. m.

LANGELL VALLEY PROPERTY SHIFTED

A transaction in Langell valley farm land involving an ultimate consideration of $19,000 is shown in an instrument filed in the office of the county clerk. The instrument constitutes an agreement between G. H. and Eleanor Hancock, transferring the property to Stanley Johnson. A warranty deed on file in the clerk's office provides the sale of the property known as the Medical Dental building, in Klamath Falls, from Gerda A. Berry and N. E. Berry to the Chelan Realty corporation. The deed carried the notation that there was no consideration requiring a revenue tax.

It is understood that Gerda A. and N. E. Berry are two of the three incorporators of the Chelan corporation.

Lewelling to Hear State vs. Short, 4 Other Cases

Circuit Judge L. G. Lewelling of Albany, who has been assigned to the case of State versus Short, also will sit while here in four other cases in Klamath county circuit court, it is shown in a letter received by the court clerk from Arthur Benson, clerk of the supreme court.

These cases are entitled: Olson estate, Hal versus Hall, Duke versus Duke, O'Neill versus Crater Lake Lumber and Box company.
