Beau Jack Bounces Tip For Lightweight Title

Georgia Negro Flattens Tippy Larkin In Third Heat of Scheduled Fifteen

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK, Dec. 19 (AP)—The Jersey bounce, as a piece of five, is a small chunk of music which makes sense to no one but pugilists, except that Beau Jack owns a piece of the world lightweight championship today because he is slightly acquainted with the Jersey bounce.

Beau—real name Sidney Walker—is a busy little negro flatterer out of the locker room of the Augusta (Ga.) national golf courses. He came up from Georgia to give the Jersey bounce to a guy from Jersey last night. And he gave it so well he flattened Tippy Larkin in three heats of a 15-rounder before 18,817 of the faithful in Madison Square Garden.

But what he did as a means of settling the confusion over the lightweight championship, which sprang up over Sammy Angott's abdication a few weeks ago, was so much all Jack did was to win himself that portion of the lightweight crown recognized in New York and New Jersey.

The National Boxing association, for instance, says it will recognize only the winner of a national elimination tournament. Last night's shindig, says the NBA, is just the first step in that direction. And Maryland, is about to recognize the survivor of a forthcoming tussle between Willie Joyce, the Gary (Ind.) individualist, and Slugger White, a Baltimore better.

After flooring the slim Italian in the first round with a short left hook, Beau went all out in the third and tossed Tippy to sleep with a right uppercut. This produced a nap long enough for Referee Young Otto to count the full ten.

Immediately afterward, Promoter Mike Jacobs, counting up a gross gate of $58,468, announced that Bob Montgomery of Philadelphia and Chester Rieo of New York would tangle in a 15-rounder January 8 in the first elimination bout of a tournament sponsored by the New York State Athletic commission looking to a challenger "worthy" of taking a crack at Jack's "championship."

BEAVERS BELT BRUNOS

CORVALLIS, Dec. 19 (AP)—Oregon State college warmed up for its eastern barn-storming trip last night by belting over the Bruno Studio quintet of Portland, 58 to 37.

The Beavers have won three games without a loss. They played Saturday night for New York to play City college of New York in Madison Square garden December 26.

Armstrong Shows Best Comeback

Hammering Hank's 13 Fight Victories Rated Top Sports Comeback of Year

NEW YORK, Dec. 19 (AP)—The year's outstanding comeback in sports, in the opinion of writers throughout the country, was engineered by Henry Armstrong, one-time triple champion of the ring who has won 13 fights since he came out of retirement early in the summer.

Hammering Hank's feat rated far ahead of all other comebacks by teams or individuals in the annual Associated Press poll of 86 sports editors. Fifty of the voters awarded the Californian one of the three places on their ballots, 22 of them naming him first, 17 second and 11 third.

Figured on the basis of three points for first, two for second and three for third, Armstrong collected 111 points in the voting, 45 more than his closest rival.

The second best comeback, the ballots showed, was that of the St. Louis Cardinals, who not only came from behind with a blistering stretch drive to nose out the Brooklyn Dodgers for the National league pennant but also walloped the New York Yankees in the world series after dropping the opening game.

Sixteen of the 86 votes placed the Cardinal feat at the top of the list and the Red Birds drew enough additional support for a total of 66 points.

Baseball also figured in the next three places in the final tabulation. Larry French, the Brooklyn Dodger pitcher who won 10 games before losing one, was ranked third with 40 points. Fourth went to Ernie Lombardi of the Boston Braves, who received 33 points on his achievement in returning to the National league batting championship. The St. Louis Browns were fifth with 29 points.

The voters mentioned a total of 51 teams and individuals on their ballots and some pointed out that the most glorious comeback of all was that of Eddie Rickenbacker, once a central figure in the auto racing sports.

Huskies Humble Strong Vancouver Ramblers, 45-39

VANCOUVER, Wash., Dec. 19 (AP)—Hurdling their first tough pre-season test successfully, the Washington Huskies humbled the strong Vancouver Ramblers independent basketball team last night 45 to 39, for the Rambler's first loss of the year. The teams meet again tonight at Portland.

Northwest Conference Puts Three on Little All-Coast

RENO, Nev., Dec. 19 (AP)—Three Pacific northwest players, Ted Ogdahl, Willamette triple-threat fullback, Del Hunsinger, stocky 190-pound Portland university halfback, and Jack Spithill, central Washington college tackle, rate first team berths on the little all-coast football eleven.

Sports writers and coaches from five states chose the top 40 eligible "little" college and minor service teams for three teams, announced yesterday.

Winning the most votes of any of the players, a pair of sensationals, Marion Motley of Nevada and Jackie Fellows, Fresno State, were named to the other two backfield berths and were picked as co-captains. Motley, who was chosen on numerous all-opponent squads and had a 95-yard touchdown run and a game-winning field goal to his credit last fall, is a 200-pound speedster.

Fellows, a sophomore, cracked the national passing record this season. He is a former Los Angeles City college star.

The other tackle berth was filled by Osterman, standout in the Occidental college forward wall. Heavy support from the Pacific northwest won Spithill his position.

Loprinzi, Portland university, won a guard's berth on the second team and third team choices included Carr, Portland, center, Sinclair, St. Martin's, halfback, and Brattlie, Pacific Lutheran quarterback.

The first team end berths went to Jim Molich, Fresno State end and Woodrow Wilson Strode, formerly of UCLA, and now of the March field fliers. Guards were Rusty Roquet, Santa Ana Air Base, and Shaheen, Whittier, and the center post went to Wilbur Wood, San Jose State.

Honorable mention included: Ends, Muniz, Western Washington; and Wiseman, Central Washington; tackles, Anderson, Pacific Lutheran, and Monroe, Western Washington; guards, Osgood, Central Washington, and Dunn, St. Martin's; centers, Harney, Central Washington, and White, Willamette; and backs, Minetto, Pacific, and Kuchera, Central Washington.

The votes for the mythical teams were compiled here by Ty Cobb, sports editor of the Nevada State Journal.

Turkey KO's Nordman in 2nd Round

PORTLAND, Dec. 19 (AP)—Turkey Thompson, 202, Los Angeles negro, flattened blond Ernie Nordman, 194, Goodland, Kas., in just 3 minutes 37 seconds of a boxing bout here last night.

Thompson knocked Nordman down twice in the first round, then delivered the knockout blow 37 seconds after the start of the second.

In the semi-final, Powder Proctor, 161, Portland negro, had it even easier. He dropped Frankie Valdez, 182, Los Angeles six times. Valdez stayed down the last time at 1:57 of the second round.

Other results: Dave Ward, 145, Tacoma, decision Pvt. Orville Teeters, 148, Portland, in six rounds; Joe Kahut, 167, Woodburn, knocked out John Cobell 172, Chemawa, in second round; Don McLean, 121, Portland, decision young Nationalists, 124, Portland, in four rounds.

Last Minute Push Shot Gives Eastern Washington Victory

MOSCOW, Ida., Dec. 19 (AP)—A push shot from the foul line with two minutes to go by George Galehouse, a guard, enabled Eastern Washington college to trounce the University of Idaho last night 32 to 30, for the second win this year over the Coast conference team.

The teams were never separated by more than four points, but Idaho led most of the way and was ahead 18 to 15 at the half. Fred Quinn, Idaho center, was high scorer with 12.

Eastern Washington has lost only one game this season, splitting two encounters with Washington State.

Sports Briefs

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19 (AP)—Things are threatening to pop in basketball circles hereabouts all because Fordham and NYU protested the eligibility of a couple of Brooklyn college players. The question seems to be a bit academic, since it concerned only conflicting rules, but the coaches are ready to start blowing the whistle on one another and there's no telling where it may stop. For years it's been an open secret that some of the coaches engaged in free-handed recruiting and that many players weren't averse to changing their names on Sundays to pick up a bit of cash.

As long as it wasn't too flagrant, nobody cared much, but now that basketball definitely is in the big time and a successful team means real dough, the game seems to be suffering the same sort of growing pains that football felt in its earlier days.

THUMBS DOWN
The blistered thumb brigade—otherwise known as bowlers—view with alarm the plan originated by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilman of Chicago, both top-flight pin toppers. . . . They have a hard and fast household rule that the one with the sorest thumb has to wash the dinner dishes because they believe immersion in hot, soapy water helps relieve the soreness. . . . And to think how many bowlers have used that sore-thumb alibi to get out of doing dishes so they'd have more time to bowl.

Writing to a New York pal, McMurtry said: "If I'm still out here next summer, please mail me some national football schedules. We never knew who was playing who until three or four days later when the scores finally trickled in."

Pelicans Hold Lead to Win in Fast Hoop Game

Cavemen Drop First of Double Header Series to Pelicans in Stiff Battle

Taking the lead early in the first quarter, the Klamath Pelicans held it narrowly for the remainder of the playing time to eke out a 42-36 win over a strong Grants Pass hoop team on the local floor Friday night in the first of a double-header series.

After an early first quarter lead by the Cavemen, the Pelicans came up strongly, took the lead and ended the first quarter with a six-point margin. Score: 10-10. By halftime they had increased that advantage to seven points and ended the half ahead, 25-18.

Grants Pass came back in the third quarter, holding the Pelican scoring to one field goal and dropping in seven points of their own, thus whittling the Klamath lead to two points. Score at the end of the third quarter was 27-25.

Wild scoring by both teams featured the final quarter. The Pelicans increased their lead to nine points, then in a last minute scoring spree, Grants Pass gained three points and the game ended 42-36.

Bocchi was again high point man for the Pelicans, ringing up 15 points before being replaced by Metz in the final quarter. Welch followed him closely with a 14 point total. Tall Jim Cox dropped four field goals in the basket for eight points.

High scorer for the Cavemen was Schrimpt who acquired ten points during his play. Two men tied for second high honors, Captain Lathrop and Gray with nine points each.

Howard and Glenn officiated on the floor, and Doctor Wright manipulated the timer. Fred Flock was scorer.

Saturday night sees a return struggle between the teams starting at 8 p. m. with a preliminary match between Keno and the Wildcats at 7 p. m. It is expected that Coach Wayne Scott of the Pelicans will use the same starting team.

In Friday night's preliminary game, the Wildcats defeated the Dorris five, 30-16. Ringstead and Eastman tied for top score on the Wildcats with seven points each. Silva placed second with six tallies. Barchetti was high man for Dorris with eight counters.

Boilermakers draw Win Over Oregon Hoopsters, 46-33
ASTORIA, Dec. 19 (AP)—The Portland Boilermakers drew away from the University of Oregon basketball team early in the game here last night to defeat the Webfoots again, 46 to 33.

Oregon was within four points of the Boilermakers until Merle Kruger scored a field goal and a series of fouls enabled the Portland team to take a 27-17 lead at halftime.

The Boilermakers were content to match Oregon's pace in the second period until the final moments, when a flurry of baskets gave them a 13-point margin.

Linfield Wins, 37-35
PORTLAND, Dec. 19 (AP)—Forward Miller dropped in a field goal in the last 20 seconds here last night to earn Linfield college a 37-35 victory over the independent Byerly's team of Portland. Don Hansen of Linfield was high scorer with 16 points.

Rules Listed for Local Bowlers Annual Tournament Play Here December 26-30

Local bowlers will start play in the annual city bowling tournament from December 26 to 30 in three events—team, doubles and singles at the Klamath Recreation alleys.

Rules of the tournament are as follows:
Entry fee is $2 per event including bowling.

Handicap is figured as two thirds of average taken from 190 scratch.

Any bowler rolling for two teams of which he is a bonafide member will take the first team score for his all events total.

Any team that needs a bowler for team event, must use a bowler that is not bowling for any other team entered in the tournament and who does not bring their scratch above 880.

If a bowler desires to enter the tournament and has not been bowling this season, his averages will be taken from last year's average of handicaps and figured from his tournament total.

Entry fees in all events will be accepted during the next week.

Merchandising awards are being given by the following firms:

- Hibbs Clothing store
- Dick Reenders Store for Men.
- Quality Food store
- Hardy's Mens store
- Safeway stores
- Roberts Hardware
- Meat Center
- Klamath Recreation Bowling Alleys.
