Modern Rules Make It Easy to Cook That Turkey For Your Christmas Dinner

The modern rules of turkey roasting are few and easy to follow, according to Winnifred K. Gillen, home demonstration agent. Cook at moderate heat so the meat will be juicy, tender and evenly done to the bone, is rule No. 1. This holds for birds of all ages and kinds from the spring chicken to the old hen who ceases to pay her way in eggs.

Allow 1 to 1 pound of turkey for each person to be served. Place the stuffed and trussed turkey on its back on a rack in an open pan. Brush well with melted butter. Bake until a meat thermometer placed in the center of the stuffing registers 180 degrees, or follow these approximate cooking times:

Dressed Weight, Lbs.	Oven Temperature	Time, Hrs.
6-9	325	2 1/2-3
10-13	300	3 1/2-4 1/2
14-17	275	5-6
18-23	250-275	6 1/2-7 1/2
24-30	250	8-9

When the bird is done, the flesh is slightly shrunken beneath the skin, and the bird gives, or bends slightly, when picked up by the ends. No pink juice shows when the thick portion of the breast or thigh are carefully speared with a fork.

For best results, turn the bird from one side to the other about every 45 minutes and baste with pan drippings or other melted fat.

SAVORY DRESSING
(10 to 12-pound turkey)
1/2 cup butter or other fat
1 pint chopped celery
1 cup chopped parsley
1 small onion, chopped
2 to 2 1/2 quarts bread crumbs
1 to 2 teaspoons savory seasoning
1 to 2 teaspoons salt
Pepper to taste.

In the melted fat cook the celery, parsley and onion for a few minutes. Add to the bread crumbs and dry seasonings and stir all together.

If desired, add nuts—chestnuts, hazelnuts or filberts, pecans, pine nuts, or blanched almonds. To prepare chestnuts, boil them in water to cover for

M'NARY SEES GOP-DEMOCRAT COOPERATION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23 (P)—Senate Minority Leader McNary (R-Ore.) predicted today that republican and democratic advocates of economy in government would join forces in the next session of congress to combat "waste and bureaucracy."

With republicans elected to 209 of the 435 house seats, and 38 out of 96 seats in the senate, the party's lawmakers expect to have a powerful voice in legislative affairs and already are counting on democratic support in some issues.

Spoke Truly
The republican party will support fervently and faithfully the prosecution of the war, to the end that we may have a complete victory with a minimum expenditure of men and money.

The 1940 vice presidential nominee, who seldom talks for publication when off the senate floor, spoke freely as he outlined his general goals for the coming session.

Discussions of peace are "not without pertinence" even now, he declared.

Sustain Standards
"The republican party realizes the responsibility of our country in the matter of negotiation and settlement of just terms of peace and the future maintenance of peace and security.

"We will be found advocating those principles that are essential to sustaining the home and hearthstone, the American market, the American standard of living.

"However, the party will advocate leadership in world affairs for its country, associated with and in cooperation with other countries and in a spirit of generosity and without scattering the nation's resources wastefully throughout the world."
