EVACUEES PLAN OBSERVANCE OF CHRISTMAS

NEWELL, Calif.— Christmas spirit is gaining momentum in the Tule Lake project. Approximately 35 boxes of toys have arrived for project children.

National Park commission granted permission to distribute 100 Christmas trees to hospitals, nursery schools and mess halls. Free community trees have been placed in front of the administration building, hospital, and in the main fire-break.

Two large choirs will give concerts of oratory music and sing carols about the project. School children are being presented in an old Christmas pantomime.

Elmer L. Shirrell, project director, will leave on December 27. He is being transferred to Chicago to the Bureau of Employment which is being established with a view to resettling the colonists into permanent positions throughout the country.

After a week's rest at his home in Santa Barbara, Shirrell will go to Washington for two weeks prior to assuming his new duties.

J. P. McEvoy of the Reader's Digest, visited the project over the weekend to gather material for a series of articles to be published in that magazine.

The project quota of $600 for the Christmas seal drive (tuberculosis stamps) was reached this week. The San Francisco office stated that all proceeds raised through this drive will be used to combat tuberculosis in the project.

Kendel Smith, supervisor of community enterprises, has been transferred to the Granada project in Colorado. His staff gave him a farewell party and presented him with three pieces of airplane luggage.

Yujiye Nakata and Toshito Okazaki, both formerly of Sacramento, Calif., were married on the project recently. Officiating was the Reverend Naito. A reception followed the ceremony.

The Nisei Soldiers-Parents' organization and the Veterans' club gave an informal tea for Mr. and Mrs. Elmer L. Shirrell on Thursday.

Caucasian personnel honored Mr. and Mrs. Elmer L. Shirrell at a dinner party on Tuesday.

The New Years' jamboree, scheduled for December 31 and January 1, will be the biggest celebration the project has yet seen. Thirty-four organizations have already signified their intention to participate. Highlighting the gala event will be the New Years' dance which will get underway from 9 to 1 to usher in the New Year.

Edwin Bates, former chief, Information Division in San Francisco, arrived on the project last week with Ruth Eleanor McKee, noted authoress. Both Bates and Miss McKee, a recent member of the WRA staff, have been assigned to the Washington, D. C. office.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Hall of Klamath Falls, spent the weekend with Mrs. Hall's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Schmoe and family of this vicinity. They will leave for Pendleton, Ore., the last of the week, after spending several days with Hall's parents in Ashland. He will be stationed at Pendleton for several months to begin advanced air training. The Hall family are former residents of the Hildebrand district.

There has been no change in the condition of Eugene, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Horsley, who has been in the Hillside hospital for the past week in a serious condition. Eugene is a student in the Bonanza high school.

Friends will be glad to learn that John Logue Sr., is reported somewhat improved after receiving medical attention in Klamath Falls last week.

SMART LINENS MEAN A SMART HOUSEWIFE

by Alice Brooks

Follow your inclination—use both this stitchery and the filet crochet on your towels, scarfs, pillowcases or just the embroidery or the lace alone. Pattern 7422 contains a transfer pattern of 6 motifs ranging from 6 x 11 to 51 x 6 inches; chart and directions for crochet; stitches; materials needed.

To obtain this pattern send 11 cents in coin to The Herald and News, Household Arts Dept., Klamath Falls. Do not send this picture, but keep it and the number for reference. Be sure to wrap coin securely, as a loose coin often slips out of the envelope. Requests for patterns should read, "Send pattern No. ....., to ....., followed by your name and address.

MAYNARD HELD IN BRIDGE CLUB DEATH

COQUILLE, Dec. 24 (AP) — George Lyman Maynard, 46-year-old retired marine corps major, was returned to the Coos county jail last night after a coroner's jury investigated the death of John Kenneth Henninger, District Attorney Ben C. Flaxel said today.

The jury's verdict was that the 27-year-old Coquille grocer died from suffocation caused by blood from a broken nose running into his throat while he was pinned down in a scuffle at Maynard's home last Saturday.

Dr. Joseph Beaman of the state police crime laboratory at Portland said in his autopsy report that had Henninger been in a sitting position or face downward death probably would not have resulted.

Henninger, formerly from Roseburg, was at Maynard's home attending a bridge party at which several women entertained their husbands.

Flaxel said Maynard's bail was set at $3000.

KANSAS CITY, (AP)— Chamber of commerce members didn't exchange Christmas gifts as usual this year. Instead, they gave packages to members of the armed forces at a downtown canteen.

A pretty auburn-haired WAAC drew a nice shaving kit.

A-MEN TO HELP SOLONS SLASH EXPENDITURES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24 (AP)— Final details of a plan to give microscopic scrutiny to all appropriation requests next year were outlined today by an authoritative congressional spokesman.

Approved by leaders of both parties, the plan was worked out in a series of conferences held after members of the house appropriations committee had announced non-war expenditures next year would be cut to the bone.

The program will center around a staff of auditors, to be known as "A-Men," who will be direct agents of the appropriations committee operating out of the general accounting office.

The staff will be appointed by Lindsay Warren, comptroller general, and will work under his supervision.

The principal job of the auditors and investigators will be to furnish to the appropriations committee information on the necessity for expenditures, the manner in which previous appropriations have been spent, and other details. In the past, the committee has had to ferret out this information for itself or depend on the testimony of interested department heads.
