

HITCH IN PRINT JOB COULD PUT OFF RATIONING

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON, Dec. 30 (P)—Despite the tremendous printing job yet to be done, office of price administration officials expressed confidence today the point-rationing program for canned, dried and frozen foods would get under way in February.

The schedule for preparing and printing about 15 forms aggregating many million pieces of printed matter is so tight, however, a spokesman said, that it "wouldn't take much of a setback" to throw the start of rationing over into March.

Proofs Received
At the same time, he reported citizens over the country generally were taking the sweeping new program "very patriotically."

Printers' proofs already have been received on the two biggest printed items, the consumers' declaration of canned goods on hand—the basis of which deductions will be made from the ration points allotted each person—and an information pamphlet explaining point rationing. The pamphlet will be issued to every applicant for family copies of war ration book number two. Probably about 60,000,000 of each will be printed.

The average householder will need only two other forms. One is the ration book itself, printing of 150,000,000 of which now is near completion, and the other is the "point schedule." The latter is a card to be displayed in every store showing the point value of each canned goods item.

KIWANIANS PLAN PANEL DISCUSSION

A panel discussion in which the old and new years will be in review and pre-view, will be held at the Kiwanis meeting on Thursday noon at the Willard, according to Malcolm Epley, president.

Members of the club will present short talks followed by informal discussion. Those on the program and their topics: Lumbering and labor relations—Chet Irving. Medical and dental service—Joe Hicks. The news situation—Frank Jenkins. Grocery and food outlook—Ted Reeves. Agriculture today—Percy Murray.

Smith, active in Sprague's political organization, was appointed for four more years for a term beginning tomorrow. Mason's new six-year term begins January 7.

OVER THE HUMP—DeWitte Talmage Jobe Jr. has completed the first and probably the most difficult part of his flight training preliminary to being awarded the coveted wings of the army air corps, according to a dispatch received here from Coleman Flying School, Ltd., Coleman, Tex., telling of Aviation Cadet Jobe's graduation from this primary flying school. Cadet Jobe now moves to a basic flying school where he will learn to handle faster and more powerful ships preparing him for the final phase of his training in an advanced flying school. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Jobe of 408 Main street.

Word has been received that Sergeant Dell Steppe of the signal corps, who has been stationed at Seattle, Wash., has now received the rating of staff sergeant. He is being transferred to Florida, and from there overseas. Staff Sergeant Steppe is the son of Mrs. Rose Steppe of Route 3, Mrs. Steppe also has two other sons in the army.

PFC William E. O'Brien left Sunday for Quantico, Va., where he will enter officer's training in the U. S. marine corps. O'Brien enlisted in the corps recently in Los Angeles, Calif., and shortly afterwards came to Klamath Falls to spend the Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. William O'Brien of Pacific Terrace. With him were his wife and three children, Dick, Pat and Dennis.

"Never saw such hot days for December, wonder what it's like in the summer," reported Major J. Martin Adams of Klamath Falls, who is now somewhere in Africa with the United States army medical corps. Adams, former Klamath physician, left England after November 21, and Mrs. Adams received word by air mail that he is now "really in the thick of it" with American soldiers.

"I've seen lots of interesting things, and I've also seen and heard lots of things I'd rather not see," Adams writes. He reports his outfit right in the middle of the African war. Mrs. Adams also received a Christmas cable from her husband Monday.

GUARDSMAN GETS HOME AFTER ALL

SEATTLE, Dec. 30 (P)—Montana Joe Bunnash, U. S. coast guardsman, who is going home on a spontaneously collected "Send Joe to Great Falls" fund, thinks "Seattle people are just wonderful."

It's all on account of Mrs. W. A. Connor, who, with one son in the armed service and another ready to go, believes in doing something about things she sees that need being done.

Christmas day Mrs. Connor read in a newspaper that Joe had lost the $40 he had saved to visit his mother at Great Falls, Mont. It disappeared from his pocket in a theatre crowd Christmas eve.

But Mrs. Connor thought the boy ought to go home anyway, and she told her husband, an inspector for the Puget Sound rental area office. Workers in the office contributed $20 to the fund. Mrs. Connor called others and they contributed.

Pretty soon she had to make some more calls to tell people the fund was closed because so many wanted to help the amount had been more than raised.

Today's work that is put off till tomorrow is usually still left undone yesterday.

SERVICE PLANNED HERE ON JAN. 1

Complying with the proclamation of the president of the United States, designating January 1, New Year's day, as a day of prayer, the Klamath Ministerial association by official action, calls upon the members of the various churches and citizens in general to unite in prayer for America. To this end, arrangements have been made by the association for a union meeting to be held at the First Christian church, the morning of New Year's day, at 10 o'clock.

The Rev. Daniel Anderson, pastor of the Klamath Temple, will be the chairman, announcing the service and leading in the singing of appropriate hymns. The Rev. Arthur Charles Bates, pastor of the entertaining church, will read the scripture lesson, the Rev. Sherman Moore of the Pilgrim Holiness church, will lead in the invocation, the Rev. Dr. Theodore Smith will read the president's proclamation, the Rev. Cecil C. Brown of the First Baptist church will lead in the prayer period, and the Rev. A. H. Persing will pronounce the benediction.

All interested in praying for our country, its leaders, its armed forces, and for our own young men in the service are cordially invited to share in prayer. It is hoped that, as far as possible, all attending may be present on time, although any one may drop in for a moment of prayer at any time, members of the association said.

IT'S TOO MUCH!

LOS ANGELES, (P)—Otto Bruster, 82, broke his 47-year-old record of safe driving with a head-on collision in a tunnel. Treated for injuries at a hospital, he observed:

"I should live so long that this happens to me—after driving automobiles since 1895 without ever an accident."
