COMMITTEE SEEKS END TO COAL STRIKE

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8 (AP)—At the urgent request of Solid Fuels Coordinator Ickes, the anthracite committee of twelve met in emergency session today seeking to end a production-crippling wildcat strike of nearly 20,000 insurgent miners over dues and wages.

Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers and spokesman for union representatives on the committee—governing body of the industry—told reporters before entering the meeting he had no proposals for settling the 10-day-old walkout which has closed 13 major collieries and caused a hard coal shortage.

A spokesman for the operators said they "had no disagreement with labor," but felt that "during the war the small matter of dues should not effect production of anthracite so necessary to the war effort."

The committee is composed of six operators and six union representatives.

The miners quit work without union authorization to protest a 50 cent increase in monthly dues, voted by the UMWA convention at Cincinnati last fall at which the strikers contend anthracite districts were not properly represented. They also want a $2-a-day wage increase.

NEGRO HELD AS SEATTLE RAPIST

SEATTLE, Jan. 8 (AP)—A man, whom police described as a 28-year-old negro employed as a scaler, was held without charge as the confessed rapist who beat an unidentified white woman, found near death on a hillside in the Jackson street district early today. Police said the woman wore a war industry badge but the name was not immediately determined.

As the suspect was taken into the booking office, he exclaimed "Did she die?" Then clasped his head in his hands and moaned "I wish somebody would kill me."

The criminal assault climaxed several nights of holdups and sluggings and one attempted attack upon a woman.

COUNTY RECEIVES INTEREST ON BONDS

Klamath county has received its first interest on war bonds purchased in the past two years. The payments total $825 on $60,000 in bonds.

The interest will go into the principal of funds from which money was invested in the government securities.

OUR MEN IN SERVICE

Gordon and Jack Prairie are home visiting their mother, Mrs. Sid Prairie at 4850 Shasta way. Both boys are in the navy, and their father is receiving his training with the navy's Seabees in Norfolk, Va.

Word has been received here that Bill Prentice, formerly at Coppo, has been promoted from first lieutenant to captain in the army. Prentice is located at Camp Francis E. Warren, Cheyenne, and is in the transportation division. His parents live at Medford.

Word has been received here that Cyril Robinson, son of W. D. Robinson of Klamath Falls, is in the service somewhere in Hawaii.

SPRAGUE RIVER—Pvt. Walter Shadley has finished his basic training at Fort Lewis and spent Christmas week with his wife and relatives in Sprague River.

Bob Bergman is home on a 10-day leave from the naval training station at Farragut, Ida., visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Bergman of 522 Walnut street. Bergman has just completed eight weeks' training and is ready for transfer to a ship.

MEN 18-38 MAY ENLIST IN NAVY

Applications will be accepted at the Klamath Falls navy recruiting station for the navy and naval reserve starting Monday, January 11, for men between the ages of 18 and 38, it was announced today.

This is the first time men in this age bracket have been able to apply since President Roosevelt signed the measure halting voluntary enlistment.

Since all applicants must clear through their selective service board, men should apply to the navy recruiting station and express preference for the navy; they will be screened as to physical, mental and moral qualifications and, if qualified, will be given a letter to present to the draft board, where the applicant will receive the necessary forms. The applicant then returns to the navy office, where his papers are completed and is sent to the main recruiting station to be sworn in and transferred. This procedure will be followed until about the first of February, recruiters said.

They pointed out further that men will not be sent from Klamath Falls until a quota has been assigned here by the main station.

Leaves five feet long are grown by the elephant ear plant. Ostrich racing is a novelty at southern resorts. Girls are used as jockeys and the ostriches are hooded.
