Remembering Names

By EARL WHITLOCK
Many people have trouble remembering names. They say—"I have such a poor memory for names but I can remember the faces all right."

Well, students of the subject of memory claim that a memory cannot be poor for some things and good for others. They say, and it is reasonable, that the reason we remember faces more easily, is because the person we meet has his face spread all over his countenance, so to speak, where we cannot help noticing it. Furthermore, that face has certain characteristic humps and hollows and shrunken effects which make it noticeable.

A name, on the other hand, is merely a succession of syllables, quickly pronounced and producing no great effect on the mind.

Experts say the tendency to forget names easily can be overcome with a little mental effort and that what we should do is to write the name of a person whom we meet, in our mind. Write it all out and form a mental picture of the name—visualize it and concentrate on it for about half a moment. They do claim that's a sure cure for the faulty name-memory.

I shall have to try it. Next Monday Mr. Whitlock of the Earl Whitlock Funeral Home will comment on Kids and Comic Strips.

News of the Commandos

Every outfit has its sergeants and this is our master sergeant, Phyllis Aubrey. Sergeant Aubrey is in charge of maintenance and appearance of the Service Center.

It is her duty to see that the room is kept clean and orderly and to see that the many jobs there are to do in order to keep it this way, are done by the lower ranking Commandos.

Master Serg. Phyllis Aubrey has a favorite service man, a sergeant in the Coast Artillery at Fort Stevens, Ore., who will soon be moved to a different station somewhere in Washington.

Several new pieces of furniture have been added to the service room and at this time we'd like to thank Fremont school for its donations. In regard to furniture, we are still accepting articles for the furnishing of service rooms at Camp White.

One truck load of furniture has already been delivered and whenever we have a sufficient accumulation of articles, another truck will be sent from Camp White to make delivery of the furniture.

There have been several soldiers in the room lately on leave from overseas duty, one from Guadalcanal.

A typical incident one day last week was that of a soldier who was being served coffee at the counter in the room. When it came time to add cream to his coffee he exclaimed over the fact that we had milk here. He said it had been six months since he had had the opportunity for a glass of milk.

Although milk isn't regularly served at the service center, this soldier thoroughly enjoyed a hearty glassful.

Rosicrucian Order Predicts Drop in Economic Upsets

Future economic upheavals will be avoided by the surplus commodities of all nations being deposited in an international trade pool. Credit at the market value of the commodity will be given the nation having the surplus, which credit must be taken out in purchases from the same pool. This is one of the series of predictions issued by the Rosicrucian Order (AMORC), a philosophical fraternity, with international headquarters at San Jose, Calif. According to Mrs. Nina W. Currier of 112 South Eleventh street, the predictions are not founded upon any fantastic system of divination, but upon an analysis of the trends of the present, and a logical projection of them into the future.

Further predictions are that the present decentralization of industry will continue after the war, resulting in the establishment of many new, modernized cities in former strictly agricultural areas. This will encourage the youth to remain on the farm and enjoy the facilities of an adjacent city, checking the exodus of farm labor.

Japan, it is claimed, will not lose all of the area she had gained through aggression prior to the present war, as the victorious allied nations will see the danger in further compressing her dense population. The global war will weaken the intense spirit of the necessary nationalism that now prevails. The returning warriors will have such a thorough understanding of the problems of other peoples throughout the world, as not to tolerate their economic and political oppression under any guise. They will be skeptical of the theory of a supreme power or preferred nation.

The Rosicrucians, in annual booklets of prophecy issued by them previously, said Mrs. Currier, predicted the abdication of King Edward, and that with President Roosevelt there would end the traditional terms of office of American presidents; each of the prophecies, at the time, caused considerable controversy.

Navy Restricts Size of Parcels For Service Men

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP) In order to save shipping space for ammunition, food and medical supplies, the navy has restricted the size of packages which may be mailed to men in naval service abroad.

No package will be accepted which weighs more than five pounds or measures more than 15 inches in length or 36 inches in length and girth combined. Only one such parcel will be accepted in one week.

The limitation on package sizes is the same as that announced earlier by the army in new regulations as to mail for soldiers overseas. However, the army forbade mailing of any article not requested by a soldier and required that the request be approved by the soldier's commanding officer. The navy did not impose this restriction.

THANK YOU

for your cooperation

To the great number of people who responded to the Government's appeal not to travel over the holidays, we want to extend our sincere thanks.

Your cooperation enabled us to take care of those who had to travel—the men of our armed forces. We are sure that the thousands of service men who were able to get well-earned holiday leaves and furloughs also appreciated your cooperation in making more room for them on the buses.

WHAT ABOUT 1943?

Bus transportation has proved to be a vital necessity to a nation at war. Today America's bus lines are all performing a tremendous task in transporting, with limited equipment and facilities, millions of additional riders—fighting men and war workers.

In 1943 Greyhound will continue to put all of its resources behind the war effort, to provide transportation for the armed forces, war workers and other essential travelers. And every effort will be made to improve our service as rapidly as war conditions will permit.

At this time all of us of Pacific Greyhound Lines extend to our friends and patrons every good wish for the coming year.
