U. S. INDICTS FIVE IN NEGRO LYING CASE

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 13 (AP)—U. S. Marshal W. T. Reese said today warrants had been issued for five men indicted here Tuesday by a federal grand jury under civil liberties statutes in connection with a negro lynching, but that no arrests had been made up to late morning.

The first reaction here came from the Jackson Daily News which commented editorially that some local attorneys "frankly say they regard it as another attempted federal invasion of states' rights."

Frank Coleman of Roanoke, Va., special assistant to the attorney general who indicated he expected a test of the statutes, described the indictments as "based on theory of law not yet passed upon by the supreme court" which would "chart a new law course in such matters."

Mob Leaders
William Oscar Johnson, a farmer; Nathaniel Shotts, employe of a wholesale firm; Allen Pryor and Barney Jones, employes of a manufacturing plant, and Luther Holder, Jones county deputy sheriff and jailer, were charged in the indictments.

Coleman said his department's investigation indicated that Johnson, Pryor, Jones and Shotts were leaders of a mob of from 50 to 100 men which took Howard Wash, 49-year-old negro farm hand, from the Jones county jail at Laurel and hanged him from a bridge on the night of October 16, 1942.

Wash had been convicted the day before for killing his white employer, Clint Welborn, with a milk pail when Welborn reprimanded him for being late to do his chores.

She spoke of recent trends, especially increased emphasis on mathematics, and said an achievement test in the subject is being planned for all students in the county unit from third grade to the twelfth.
