

FERTILIZERS FOR GARDENS UNDER LIMIT

Victory gardeners this year will not need to be puzzled over what kind of fertilizer to buy because that has been solved for them by a new ruling of the war production board...

This is a satisfactory garden fertilizer and is the only fertilizer that, under the new regulations, can be purchased in containers of less than 100 pounds...

Growers of commercial vegetables or other farm crops will also be restricted to a certain extent in their purchase and use of fertilizers containing chemical nitrogen...

In addition to the ready mixed fertilizers, the simple fertilizers such as nitrate of soda, sulphate of ammonia, super-phosphate, treble-phosphate, muriate of potash, and others can be purchased and used singly or mixed to suit the grower.

LONDON SHELTERS LOCKED, REPORT

LONDON, Jan. 21 (AP)—A number of Londoners were unable to get into air raid shelters at the height of yesterday's daylight air raid because the shelters were kept locked to prevent "scandalous misuse," it was revealed in commons today.

Sir William Henry Davison asked Herbert Morrison, minister of home security, whether he was aware that "in yesterday's raids a considerable number of people who ran to the shelters for safety were unable to get shelter by reason of the fact they were locked."

Said Morrison: "The shelters were kept locked owing to scandalous misuse and damage by citizens."

He added that the health ministry was in a dilemma about locking the shelters. The wardens, he said, had keys to those locked but it was a great problem to get shelters open when there was little time between sirens and bombs.

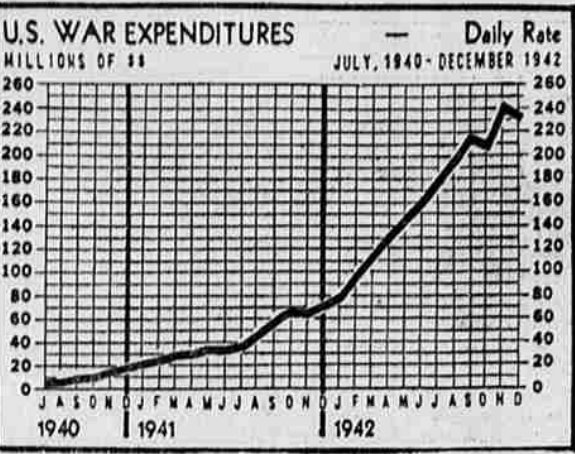

BLACK SHEEP FAIRVIEW, Okla. (AP)—Stormy weather cut his church attendance so the Rev. C. L. Moser advertised in the Lost-and-Found column.

His sheep had strayed, the notice said, and "only 23 came for their feed in the morning."

Shortly thereafter his telephone began to ring. Each time he said "Hello" he got the same reply: "Baaaa-a-a!"

TRAIN DERAILED YAKIMA, Jan. 21 (AP)—Normal train operations on the Northern Pacific line, aside from complicating weather conditions, followed a derailment in the mountains between Easton and Martin yesterday.

My, How Those Expenses Have Grown

If you don't think war costs money take a look at this chart. Released by the War Production Board, it shows the daily rate of U. S. war expenditures from July, 1940, to December, 1942. The $245,000,000 average for November, 1942, is the top so far.

Warning Out Against Cut In Dairy Product Quality

Dairy products manufacturers who allow quality of their output to slip during wartime are laying up trouble for themselves and the whole industry after peace comes, warns Dr. G. H. Wilster, head of dairy manufacturing work at Oregon State college.

These are difficult times and problems are many," wrote Dr. Wilster in connection with his report on the confidential scoring.

AG DEPARTMENT STAND ON USE OF TIMBER TOLD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—Senator Wallgren (D-Wash.) made public a letter from Paul H. Appleby, under secretary of agriculture, in which the official explained the department's attitude toward use of timber resources of the national forests in the war effort.

Appleby recalled the department's action last summer in taking advantage of the permission in the first war powers act to authorize sale of timber with advertisements for competitive bids for as short as a week or with solicitation of bids, instead of advertisements as required by existing law.

Conditions Plotted Recently, he said, the department authorized sales of timber without competitive bids but with public notice of intent and prices published for at least a week. This, he said, was used where one or more of the following conditions exist, such as:

The timber is needed to keep a specific mill in operation to produce material urgently needed in the war effort and possibly other probable competitors have other sources of log supplies available.

Some specific plant has definitely superior facilities for processing timber most efficiently to meet urgent needs of the war effort.

Some specific applicant can get the timber into use with distinctly less consumption of manpower, rubber, petroleum products, steel and other essential materials than can any other.

The need is to supply some government agency with stumpage.

Consider Each Case Appleby recalled the recommendation of Ben Alexander of the war production board's timber division that all timber sales from government administered timber land be sold without competitive bidding.

"The position of the department of agriculture is that each case on the national forests should be considered carefully, and competitive bids should be requested except when the conditions indicate clearly that the war effort would be furthered by direct sale at prices determined by careful appraisal and with the public informed of the intention to make the sale," Appleby said.

The undersecretary said that no attempt had been made to include in the conditions of sale of national forest timber a requirement that defined cutting practices to be followed on private lands which the purchaser may own. He said this practice would continue to be followed.

Only 4 Lobbyists Stick It Out in Slow Session

SALEM, Jan. 21 (AP)—Faithful indicator of activity in the Oregon legislature is the lobbyist population puffing its cigars outside house and senate chambers.

Since the legislature opened 11 days ago, the lobby census has been dwindling daily. Yesterday it got down to four.

The quarter commended a table, relieving its boredom with a game of High, Low, Jack and the Game. The game was played right in the main lobby.

"This season is so dead," observed President of the Senate W. H. Steiwer, "that the lobbyists' expense accounts have been cut and now they're mooching off each other."

OPA Statement on Milk Order Given In Full Text Here

(Herewith is a statement of reasons accompanying the recent OPA order on milk prices which prevailed are subjected to scarcity resulting from competing demands at higher price levels.

The Order specifies adjusted maximum prices in various designated localities for wholesale and retail sales of fluid milk in glass, quart, pint, and half-pint containers. Special provisions are made for retail sales directly from the producer's ranch or distributor's plant and for sales to the Armed Forces and various institutions.

Corresponding adjustments are made for milk in gallon containers, milk in paper or fiber containers, skim milk and buttermilk by means of specific provisions under which the existing differentials in cents are carried into the adjusted price structure.

It is also provided that customary discounts must be maintained. No adjustment is made with respect to homogenized milk, milk of unusually high milk-fat content, or other premium milk products, for the reason that the power to make adjustments under Section 18 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation is limited to commodities essential to a standard of living consistent with the prosecution of the war.

While milk is such a commodity, the premium products mentioned cannot be considered sufficient to warrant an exercise of the adjustment power.

The adjusted prices fixed are at a level, it is believed, that will prevent the undue diversion of the milk supply from the areas affected. As the adjustment is designed to enable existing supplies to be consumed where they customarily were, there is no reason to believe that the adjustment will tend to create new shortages in other localities.

The adjustment will accordingly effectuate the purpose of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, one of which is to assist in securing adequate production of commodities and facilities.

WHEAT PROCEDURE SLIGHTLY ALTERED

Meeting 90 per cent of the farm's war crop goal and seeding within the farm's wheat acreage allotments are the only requirements Oregon wheat growers will have to meet to earn 1943 AAA wheat payments, N. C. Donaldson, state AAA executive assistant, has just announced.

Provisions requiring that 90 per cent of the farm's acreage allotment be planted to either wheat, war crops or designated substitute crops have been eliminated, Donaldson reported.

War crops for which individual farm goals will be established during the every-farmer canvass according to local conditions, include potatoes, vetch for seed, flax for seed or fiber, dry edible peas, dry beans, peas for canning and tomatoes for processing.

DEHYDRATION FIRM GIVES UP KLAMATH PLAN

American Food Products corporation, which announced last summer it would establish a dehydration plant in Klamath Falls, has now virtually given up the plan, but the idea of dehydration operation here is still alive, it was brought out at a meeting of the directors of the chamber of commerce Wednesday.

A letter from a representative of the American Food Products corporation stated that the Klamath Falls project was being shelved because this city is far removed from the sites of other plants of the corporation, which has headquarters in Chicago, and also because the company had run into difficulty in obtaining the equipment at costs originally scheduled.

Priority for the local plant was cancelled on January 7. A somewhat different picture was given by A. E. Mercker, head of the potato division of OPA, who said in a letter to the chamber that the AFP people had sought to have their permit for a plant removed to Jerome, Idaho, but this transfer was denied.

Mercker said labor competition at Klamath Falls had a part in the decision not to go ahead with the plant here.

Meanwhile, it was brought out that in recent weeks other persons have been in Klamath Falls looking into the possibilities of location of a dehydration plant or cannery here.

A considerable quantity of Klamath Falls potatoes are being shipped to dehydration plants in the Willamette valley and in California.

One outside company is interested in the possibility of a cannery which could be used in canning root vegetables such as can be grown in abundance on
