

LOGGING ROAD BUILDERS GET HIGH RATING

Subcontractors who engage in the building of logging roads and persons who carry on contract-hauling of logs, are entitled to the benefits of preference rating order P-138, which grants an AA-2X preference rating to the logging and sawmill industry for obtaining operating supplies, repair parts and maintenance materials. Interpretation No. 1 of P-138, issued today, clarifies the status of subcontractors under the order.

Normally a single operating organization or company performs all the steps in a logging operation from opening the forest by roads and cutting the trees, to delivering the logs to sawmills. In some instances, however, subcontractors perform part of the operation.

Clarification

Numerous inquiries have been received by the War Production Board since the issuance of P-138, late in December, asking whether subcontractors performing only a part of the total logging job are entitled to apply the AA-2X rating for the purposes mentioned in the order.

The phrase "production of logs" as used in P-138, according to the clarifying interpretation, includes all steps necessary to deliver logs to sawmills, pulp mills or other dealers in or users of logs, but does not include transportation by common carrier. Thus persons building logging roads or doing contract-hauling are "loggers" within the sense of paragraph (A) (1) of the order.

Bly

Wade Jenkins left Monday morning for Portland, where he hopes to buy a small farm. As soon as he can he plans to return to Bly and get Mrs. Jenkins and their two daughters, Cora Mae and Nadine. They will make their home in the north.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Kelley of Ivory Pine have been hosts to two young ladies, visiting from Portland. Mrs. Kelley's sister, Miss Katherine McDonald and her friend Mrs. Louise Bailey, will spend a few days here before returning to their job in Portland. While they are here they have been entertained with parties and dances given in their honor.

Both the Crane's, mill and Ivory Pine mill have been logging whenever the weather permits. The recent snow threatens to delay them.

The Women's Society of Christian Science met at the home of Mrs. Ross Sheperd Wednesday afternoon. They were unable to have a business meeting because there weren't enough members present. Red Cross sewing in the old drug store instead of the schoolhouse was discussed. That would make it easier for more women to sew, it was said. It will be brought up again next meeting. Refreshments were served to Mrs. George Elliott, Mrs. Miles Langdon, Mrs. Jeff Causbie, Mrs. Gertrude Cake and Miss Thompson.

Mrs. Manning Howard returned home last weekend from Klamath Falls where she has been visiting her granddaughter and grandson-in-law, who has now left for the army.

Roland Meyers suffered serious head injuries Monday morning when he accidentally cut himself with an axe while cutting wood. He was rushed to the first aid station at the Causbie residence to receive treatment.

Bonita Gooch came to Bly Sunday with Reverend Phillips of Klamath Falls to visit her parents and attend church services. She went back to Klamath the same evening.

Bonanza

A charivari was given by a large number of friends to the new bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Ross, at their home last Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schmor and son Bobby were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chet Evers on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Reid and Mrs. Ada Sparreborn were out from Klamath Falls on Monday attending to business. Mrs. Sparreborn expects to leave for Southern California in a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rueck and son Buddy spent Sunday afternoon and evening as guests of F. W. Brown and family.

Mrs. Cecil Hunt has been enjoying an extended visit with relatives and friends in Idaho.

Roy Hetrik left January 11 for induction into the United States army. His brother, Wesley, is in the army now and was recently home on a furlough.

I consider one of our men equal to 20 of them (Japs). In addition, they are not supermen. They are just low monkeys.—Admiral William F. Halsey.

Bible Society to Give Testaments For Lifeboats

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 (AP)—The American Bible society has announced that the war shipping administration has given orders to companies operating vessels under its control to obtain from the society free New Testaments for rafts and lifeboats.

In making the announcement yesterday, the society said it expected approximately 20,000 New Testaments to be distributed. Waterproof coverings serve to preserve them even if they have been submerged for days at a time.

NEW POWER CHIEF FACES BIG PROBLEM

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—The nation's new power director, taking over today the job of directing the war production board's projected expansion of utilities, may get his first major test in trying to obtain pipe lines and other facilities to avert a natural gas shortage next winter.

Following the appointment of J. A. Krug to the newly-created post, WPB officials expressed the opinion that unless he is successful the gas shortage in some sections might equal the east's current fuel crisis.

In naming Krug, WPB Chairman Donald Nelson said the former TVA official would have responsibility for electricity, gas, water and communications and that his post would be comparable to those of Harold L. Ickes and William Jeffers as petroleum and rubber administrators, respectively.

Chiloquin

Frank Thomas, former Chiloquin high coach, is now coach at Junction City, Ore.

Robert Muskrat, who is stationed with the army at Camp Roberts, is expected home this weekend for a short visit.

Frank Lamb, former Chiloquin resident, is now working on a construction job at Tillamook, Ore.

Harry Marsh, who has been undergoing treatment at the Veterans administration in Roseburg, Ore., returned home recently.

C. S. Burton of Modoc Point was in Chiloquin Thursday.

The Chiloquin streets are being cleaned of the frozen slush to relieve traffic.

AFL-CIO PACT BINDS UNIONS TO NO RAIDING

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 23 (AP)—The first formal treaty reached since the Congress of Industrial Organizations broke away from the American Federation of Labor in 1937 bound the rival union groups to a no-raiding policy today, but complications still stood in the way of complete unity.

Even as the AFL executive council completed approval of the agreement yesterday, members instructed the peace committee, which met with CIO representatives to draw up the pact, to make certain that the "spirit and purpose" are carried out.

Showdown

AFL leaders have accused the CIO, which already has ratified the agreement, of breaking faith already by filing complaints which led to the current national labor relations board hearing into the industrial relations between three Henry J. Kaiser shipyards at Portland, Ore., and some 65,000 employees who work under closed shop agreements with AFL unions.

The Kaiser dispute appeared likely to cause an early showdown on the effectiveness of the no-raiding pact, although AFL President William Green said action would be up to the peace committees, which will set up the machinery for putting the principles into operation.

Green shied away from predictions about the success of the agreement, but described it as "the first practical step that has yet been taken in an effort to compose the differences of the AFL and the CIO."

Auditors to Aid On Income Tax

SALEM, Jan. 23 (AP)—The state tax commission said today that its auditors would tour the state during the next two months to help citizens prepare their state income tax returns, which must be filed by April 1.

Farmers Urged to Collect Metal—To Save Bossy's Life

SALEM, Jan. 23 (AP)—The state department of agriculture urged farmers today to collect all available scrap metal—not only as a patriotic gesture, but also to protect their cows.

The department's monthly bulletin said there have been many reports of cows eating nails, razor blades, bits of baling wire, and other metal. The stuff goes into bossy's stomach, and often penetrates the stomach wall and pierces the heart lining, killing the animal.

The best idea, the department said, is for farmers to collect all tiny bits of metal on their farms and turn it in to Uncle Sam.

Dry Kansas May Be Even Drier

TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 23 (AP)—Dry Kansas may become even more arid.

A stack of 130 petitions, containing 7000 names, has reached the Kansas house of representatives. The petitions urge that the alcoholic content of beer, strongest beverage sold legally in Kansas, be reduced from 3.2 per cent to 1 per cent.
