Committee Heads Named

Exhibit of Interest at Session of Church Council Tuesday

Members of the Klamath Falls Council of Church Women presented an interesting display of Latin American countries at a program meeting held Tuesday afternoon, February the second, in the library room of Klamath Union high school.

The exhibit was brought here through the efforts of Miss Virginia West, Spanish instructor at the school, and in charge of the exhibit was Mrs. Waters.

Mrs. John Yadon presided during the business meeting and named the following committees for the year:

May luncheon, Mrs. S. B. Hopkins, Mrs. Ralph Dennison, Mrs. George Wirtz.

Social action, Mrs. Lambie, Mrs. Victor Phillips, Mrs. John Coppage, Mrs. Fred Peterson, Mrs. Louie Benson.

Community welfare, Mrs. Frank Fortna, Mrs. Will Wood, Mrs. Martin Ramsay and Mrs. F. E. Beene.

World prayer, Mrs. Arthur C. Bates, Mrs. E. L. Mitchell, Mrs. George Casper, Miss Hazel Morrison and Mrs. Peter Newman.

The council members expressed appreciation to those making the exhibit possible and to KUHS for use of the library.

FRIENDSHIP CLUB MEETS ON FRIDAY

On Friday, January the twenty-ninth, the Friendship club was entertained by Idoline Schupp, assisted by Bertha Hewitt, with nine members attending. Dessert was served at half past one o'clock, and later auction bridge was played. High score was held by Florence Love, and guest by Bertha Motschenbacher.

The next meeting, February twenty-sixth, will be held at the home of Mrs. Bruce Hull, 4826 Cannon street, and Mrs. Arthur Pollard will assist.

MRS. NAOMI PRESTON

Speaker at Monday afternoon's Library club meeting will be Mrs. Preston, a former resident of Santiago, Chile. South America will be her program.

"Keep It In Mind" -- Busy Days Ahead!

Average Housewife Has Little Time on Her Hands And Bulletin Board Solves Problem

These are busy days for housewives. The time allocated to running a household has so many demands on it, that a twenty-minute free period looks like a vacation! Extra-curricular war activities, balancing wartime budgets, planning "shortage" meals all take added thought and effort. As a matter of fact, we have so much on our minds that it's difficult to keep everything in our minds. The time has come when we can't trust to memory to hold and categorize all the isolated bits of information that are necessary for doing a good job at home during wartime.

The only solution is for every housewife to become a "writer." There's no disgrace in having to write things down to remember them. It is, in fact, essential. There isn't a business executive who doesn't have a memo pad, a date calendar, an address book, and a "things to do" file within handy reach of his swivel chair. But there isn't one housewife out of ten who has an efficiently operated "office" from which to run her household!

"Office" doesn't necessarily mean an elaborate set-up with desk and phone and file cabinets, although if facilities are available, those accoutrements are fine to have! But if you lack space and furniture, why not try the bulletin-board-in-the-kitchen idea?

Get some system into your remembering. Look around in the local five and dime store for a bulletin board. If you can't get one, maybe friend husband—or you, yourself—can square off a piece of soft wood into which it's possible to stick thumb tacks. Get that bulletin board in your kitchen just as soon as you're able! It will help save gas, energy, needless steps and your disposition! It will help you keep an orderly mind—without which it's impossible to run an orderly house.

Reserve another section on your board for rationing information. Have a little pocket near enough to the shopping list to remind you to take the books along when you buy! Post in this section all rationing reminders that it's your job as a homemaker to keep in mind. For instance, make a note of which stamps in your sugar ration book are currently exchangeable for a pound of coffee or a pound of sugar. Make a note to remind yourself that under coffee rationing regulations, each stamp entitles you to a specific amount of coffee.

On the ration section of your bulletin board, leave space for a "point value" chart. When point rationing goes into operation, you'll have to know the point values of every food item rationed under that system. It will be necessary when making your budget—because a certain number of points will have to last the family a specific period of time. You can't afford to consistently buy food items having a high point value.

Installing a bulletin-board reminder system such as this makes housework and war work easier. The effort expended in breaking yourself into actually using the system once you've got it set up, will be well repaid in time and energy saved.

Juveniles of the Neighbors of Woodcraft met in KC hall Monday afternoon, February the first, at four o'clock for their regular meeting. Plans were made for a Valentine party to be held at the next meeting, February the fifteenth. Each member may bring a guest and there will be a Valentine exchange. The committee in charge of this party will be Darlene Smith, Harriet Lavenik and Patricia O'Leary.

Officers Installed

Mrs. L. K. Phelps Takes Duties as President of WSCS

New officers of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist church were installed at an afternoon meeting of the society January the twenty-eighth in the church parlors.

Those installed included, Mrs. L. K. Phelps, president; Mrs. J. K. Reno, first vice president; Mrs. J. C. Yadon, second vice president; Mrs. V. R. Kluth, third vice president; Mrs. Bruce Binkley, recording secretary; Mrs. Calvin Hunt, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. H. Balsiger, treasurer; Mrs. Victor Phillips, chairman of spiritual life; Mrs. C. H. Barnstable, secretary of student work; Mrs. H. A. Gilkerson, secretary of literature and publication; Mrs. H. A. Hagman, chairman of fellowship; Mrs. G. W. Cornell, secretary of religious literature.

Earlier in the day reorganization of the five circles took place with election of new chairmen as follows, Circle One, Mrs. A. L. Barker; Circle Two, Mrs. W. R. Cabaniss; Circle Three, Mrs. E. M. Chilcote; Circle Four, Mrs. E. W. Mocabee; Circle Five, Mrs. Lester Cox.

At noon members enjoyed a paper sack luncheon and were favored at this time by several piano selections played by Mrs. T. B. Powers. A short business meeting followed at which time several members reported on work they were doing for the Red Cross. Mrs. L. K. Phelps, president of the group, urged women to participate in this urgent cause.

The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to the simple but impressive installation service which was conducted by Rev. Victor Phillips assisted by Mrs. Paul Edwards. During the service Mrs. E. J. Schneebeck sang, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. T. B. Powers.

HONOR TWO LEAVING TULELAKE

TULELAKE—A call to the armed service is taking two more well known young men from Tulelake in the near future, both affiliated with the Floyd A. Boyd company and in their honor Mr. and Mrs. Ival Wolfe and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Rose were hosts Thursday night, February the fourth, at a delightfully planned dinner at Sari's in Klamath Falls. Places were marked for fifty guests.

Clarence Deicius, for more than seven years an employee of the company, and Lyle Sherer, who has been with the company only a few months less, will report at Monterey on February the seventeenth, to be transferred later to Santa Anita.

Guests, principally present and past 20-30 club members and their wives, were from Tulelake, Klamath Falls and Alturas.

LUNCHEON HONORS OFFICERS

TULELAKE—Mr. and Mrs. Jess Dieter, parents of Sergeant William J. Dieter, were hosts Monday, February first, at a delightfully planned luncheon for their house guests, Brigadier General S. M. Connell and Lieutenant Volkman, San Francisco who came here for presentation of Sergeant Dieter's Distinguished Flying Cross to Mrs. Dieter.

Invited for the luncheon to meet the distinguished guests were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dayton, and Mr. and Mrs. Clark Fensler, all of Tulelake. Dayton is commander of Tulelake Legion post and Fensler is a past commander.

Third of Series On The Garden

Use of Fertilizer Should Be Remembered When Plans Are Made for Vegetables

Following is the third of a series of articles prepared for gardeners in the Klamath basin and stresses the use of fertilizers in getting the garden ready for spring planting:

In his second lecture Professor Bouquet explained the proportions of chemical fertilizers as set forth in the government order M 231, for the use of Victory Gardeners. These proportions are 3-8-7, which means that there will be only three parts of nitrogen, of which only one-half a unit may be chemical nitrogen and two and one-half organic nitrogen there are eight parts of phosphorus and seven parts potash. The organic nitrogen will be blood meal or something similar and will not be so readily assimilated as chemical nitrogen.

Since this is so small a percentage of nitrogen for gardens it makes the cover crops all the more necessary, and he emphasized the importance of vetch to be used on small gardens as well as fields and larger gardens.

Since it is necessary to get the most out of everything this year it is wise to use the fertilizer as a side dressing, putting it about one and one-half inches from the planted row. Never mix the fertilizer with the seeds. It is necessary to have the fertilizer reasonably close to the plant but the roots will seek it out as it is carried downward with irrigation.

Borax is used often to prevent the stems of celery from cracking and also beet canker, and insures white heads in cauliflower.

Booster solutions are valuable, and the oldest way is the best. Farmers used to put a sack of manure in a tub of water and dilute the solution to the color of weak tea and pour it around their plants. The Victory Garden fertilizer can be made into a weak solution and used the same way. The home gardener can grow anything his land will grow, the government has made no restrictions on him but the commercial grower can grow no bleached celery, cucumbers, cauliflower and other stipulated items.

Now is the time to plan a well rounded garden perhaps planting some of the things that will not be grown by the commercial gardeners.

When Professor Bouquet was asked about using Vitamin B1 on the Victory garden he answered with an emphatic NO. There are sufficient of these hormones in other things applied to the soil. None of the Victory fertilizer will be used on lawns or on golf courses. Lucky is the one who has some sodium nitrate left over.

War Work Stressed

President Urges Members To Assist Red Cross With Quota

Combining Soroptimism with war work was the theme of the Soroptimist luncheon held in the Pelican party room Thursday with Mrs. Rose Poole, president, in charge of the business meeting.

Eight Soroptimist clubs have been organized in England since the start of the war, and, altogether, eleven clubs have been organized in the Federation since Pearl Harbor.

Mrs. Poole stressed the war work contribution to the club and suggested that members help the Red Cross complete its quota of garments needed to be finished.

An announcement of the meeting to be held Tuesday night, to which all women's organizations are invited and which will explain the WAAC movement, was made by Mrs. Annabelle Newton.

A report on pending bills at the legislature was given by Mrs. Jean Young, the legislative chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Schouboe of North's Fifth street are spending a week visiting in Portland.
