LAWYERS ARGUE BURKE WIN BILL

SALEM, March 6 (AP)—Legislative lawyers disagreed today whether a house bill, requiring fortified wine buyers to have liquor permits, would virtually repeal the Burke wine bill, which gives liquor stores a monopoly on the sale of fortified wine.

The Burke bill has passed both houses, and the house, by a 30-30 vote yesterday, refused to reconsider it. The permit bill was passed by the house yesterday and sent to the senate.

The Burke bill won't go into effect until January 1, 1944, and the permit bill was introduced to regulate wine sales until the Burke bill becomes effective.

Quentin Roosevelt Wounded In Tunisian Front Action

By HAROLD V. BOYLE

WITH THE U. S. ARMY IN TUNISIA, Feb. 22, (Delayed) (AP)—Lieutenant Quentin Roosevelt, 25, of Oyster Bay, N. Y., son of Brig. Gen. Theodore Roosevelt has been wounded in action on the Tunisian front.

Young Roosevelt, a forward observer and liaison officer for an artillery unit and grandson of the late ex-president Theodore Roosevelt, was struck in the back either by a machinegun bullet from a strafing plane or by a fragment of anti-aircraft shell during a German Stuka and Messerschmitt raid yesterday on an American artillery unit in a ravine near the plains leading to Kasserine pass.

The tall mustached officer—he bears a resemblance to his famous grandfather—had just finished a cup of coffee and was standing on a pine-studded hill watching the action when wounded.

He was taken to a base hospital after emergency treatment and medics said the bullet or shell fragment which struck him in the right back apparently had not hit any vital organ. They expressed belief that his condition is not serious but that he was suffering from shock.

Describing the battle incident, his fellow liaison officer and close friend, Lieut. Charles B. Viall, 25, Waterbury, Conn., said: "I was standing a hundred yards away on a hill when eight Stukas began bombing the artillery position ahead of us. While I was watching two Messerschmitts followed them in and began strafing our area. "After they left I walked over to ask Lieut. Roosevelt a question. I found him lying on the ground wounded. He had been hit in the back by a machine gun bullet from a Messerschmitt. Apparently he was the only casualty. "He was conscious and quite calm. We dressed his wound—it bled quite a bit—and gave him some sulfa tablets. He kept saying, 'I hope I can get back as soon as possible,' and gave me instructions what to do with his personal effects."

Another observer standing nearby thought young Roosevelt had been struck by a bursting anti-aircraft shell instead of a Messerschmitt bullet. The injury was ironic in view of the fact that Roosevelt, known as one of the ablest as well as most daring young artillery officers, has escaped unhurt from several engagements such as the Ousseltia valley battle last month in which he served under fire with the most advanced elements.

He is known as "Cue" by his fellow officers. He was named Quentin for his aviator uncle who was killed in the last war.
