Destroyer Escort Ships New Submarine Killers

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—Fresh hope that allied sea forces will be able to crush Germany's reinforced U-boat fleet this summer was expressed by naval authorities today after Secretary Knox disclosed that a new fleet of submarine killer ships is at last coming down the ways on a mass production schedule.

Several score of the sleek little vessels, known in the navy as destroyer escorts, already have been launched, the secretary told a press conference yesterday. And hundreds of others are being or will be built. Each ship requires about four months for construction, less than half the time necessary to build a regular destroyer.

Crews are being trained at a pace to match the speed of construction and the first DE squadrons should be in operation soon—later to be organized into teams of ships—Knox said.

These teams of sub killers, working in close cooperation with planes and blimps where possible, are considered by some well-qualified authorities to be the answer to the nazi's vaunted and deadly U-boat wolf-pack methods.

HUSH-HUSH

CHANUTE FIELD, Ill.—Hitler's spies won't learn anything from this soldier: He was being transferred from the army air forces technical training command school here. Going to the squadron orderly room to pick up his service record, he encountered the non-commissioned officer in charge, who asked where he was being sent.

"I can't tell you. It's a military secret," the soldier said.

The non-com finally convinced him it was okay, so the soldier whispered the information.

Many a headache comes right off the bat.

RECORD LIBERTY SHIP STILL GOING

PORTLAND, March 9 (AP)—The Joseph N. Teal, the Liberty ship launched in ten days for a shipbuilding record last September, is still at sea carrying war cargoes.

Two former members of the Teal's crew, James Crooks and L. A. Clifford, returned here to deny reports that Japanese torpedoes had sunk the vessel.

The Japanese attempted to sink the Teal, however, Crooks said, relating the story of the ship's maiden voyage, in which she became the first Liberty craft to reach Guadalcanal.

One submarine attack was beaten off at sea by navy escort ships. On another a Japanese sub surfaced between the Teal, anchored off Guadalcanal, and the hulk of another ship, previously sunk.

The Teal opened fire. The sub crash-dived after releasing a torpedo so hastily that it struck the already sunken hulk, not the Teal. Navy vessels attacked the sub.

The ten-day launching of the Teal, at Henry Kaiser's Oregon Shipbuilding Corp., witnessed by President Roosevelt on his September tour, is no longer the record. Another Kaiser yard in California now holds the mark.
