

USDA PLANS TO OVERCOME MILK SHORTAGE HERE

The USDA is attempting to overcome the universal milk shortage by the adoption of a dairy animal program. This program is being handled by the Farm Security Administration local office in the courthouse.

The first purpose of the conservation program is to attempt to buy dairy calves, heifers or cows in an area where there is a surplus of animals and transporting them to an area where there is a shortage of dairy stock and plenty of feed to keep them in production and to keep them from being slaughtered for beef.

There is a number of reasons why dairy cattle are being slaughtered, one of which is shortage of feed. Another is shortage of labor which makes it necessary for a man to reduce the size of his herd so that he can continue to produce with the reduced amount of labor available in every milk producing area.

The Farm Security Administration is buying this stock, especially calves, in the areas where there are more grown, for use in producing heifers and are changing them to areas where feed and labor are available for their care until they are of production age.

There have been approximately 200 of these calves delivered in Klamath county in the past few weeks, 10 of them on March 24, all of which were sold within 24 hours of arrival. Advance orders are now on hand for approximately 300 more and every effort will be made to deliver these within the next three or four weeks.

Ed Hughes, supervisor at large in the dairy conservation program, is buying these calves and superintending their delivery. Anyone wanting these calves should place their order with the Farm Security Administration. Mr. Hughes will try to fill your orders as nearly as possible.

Oregon Fuel Oil Rationing Continues Despite Big Stock

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—Despite large stocks in some dealers hands, fuel oil rationing will be continued in Washington and Oregon, Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes said today.

Relaxation of restrictions, urged by some Washington and Oregon dealers, cannot be authorized at this time because of the need for conserving fuel oil stocks for military and essential civilian purposes, he said.

Vital military operations in Alaska and the Aleutian Islands are largely dependent upon oil supplies received from the two states, he said.

Distribution of School Tax Money Constitutional

SALEM, April 1 (AP)—Attorney General I. H. Van Winkle filed for Governor Earl Snell today that senate bill 275, to distribute the elementary school tax receipts on a statewide basis, is constitutional.

The governor signed the bill yesterday. The tax now is levied and distributed within each county.

Bright Future Held For Alaska Colony

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, April 1 (AP)—A bright future for the famed government-sponsored Oatanuska valley farm colony was predicted today by Dr. H. C. Hansen, director of the Alaska rural rehabilitation corporation.

In an interview on the status of the colony which held the national spotlight and drew vigorous debate in congress, Dr. Hansen said 60 per cent of the colonists now are in good standing financially and making adequate payment on their indebtedness while expanding their production to meet the greatly increased wartime needs of the territory.

FIVE MILLION PEOPLE SEEN IN NORTHWEST

PORTLAND, Ore., April 1 (AP)—Impact of the war has started an industrial revolution in the Pacific Northwest that will expand the region's population to at least 5,000,000 by 1970.

So predicted the national resources planning board today in a report on the northwest's future. Already 200,000 persons have been attracted to the region, the report said, adding that in the period from June, 1940, to June, 1942, approximately $3,000,000,000 in war contracts were allocated to the northwest states.

Shipbuilding has passed lumbering in the number of employees, and probably will reach a peak of 190,000 workers this year. Other developments, such as aircraft and metallurgical industries, will give work to an additional 35,000 persons, the report continued.

The board warned, however, that the region would have to devise means to keep the new industries going in a post-war readjustment period or the northwest would experience a severe depression with thousands of the new residents migrating eastward.

Trade News

Interesting Notes of Herald and News Advertisers, Their Products and Activities

Sailors have a language that is pretty much of their own. "Scuttle butt," for instance, is navy slang for gossip; "boot" is the navy man's word for a new recruit; and "smoking lamp's lit" is what they say aboard ship for smoking permitted.

A sailor has only four pockets in his uniform (as contrasted to the conventional 12 pockets in a civilian's coat, trousers and vest)—but in one of those pockets you're pretty sure to find a pack of cigarettes; for whether it's in the open spaces of an aircraft carrier, or the cramped quarters of a submarine, your sailor wants to be sure he's ready when the word "smoking lamp's lit" is passed around.

Under new postoffice regulations, sailors, marines and coast guardsmen get a better break than some of the men in the army in the matter of gifts of cigarettes from home. You can send men in all branches of the navy, marines and coast guard a carton of their favorite cigarettes, no matter where they're stationed, in any part of the world—but due to restricted shipping space you can only mail cigarettes (or packages of any kind) to a man in the army if he's stationed in the United States.

Sales records from service men's stores show Camel the leading brand. Survey's among service men show that a carton of cigarettes is their favorite gift from home.

ROVER THERE

SEATTLE (AP)—The British had a word for her, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt laughingly told a group of high school interviewers.

In all code messages relative to her travels in Britain, she was labeled "Rover."

And when she had difficulty locating one of her sons in England, she added, a teletype operator sent this:

"Rover has lost her pup."

ALLIES DOUBT U. S. POST-WAR POLICY

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state, said today that "one of the gravest doubts that exists in the minds of the partners of the United Nations today is the doubt as to what the policy of the United States will be when the victory is won."

Welles, in an address prepared for delivery to the chamber of commerce of the state of New York and broadcast by the National Broadcasting company, declared that our allies remember that after the victory of 1918 the United States "withdrew from almost every form of practical cooperation" with friendly nations in the reconstruction tasks, and "made no effort to win the peace."

Snell Proclaims Tuesday Army Day

SALEM, April 1 (AP)—Governor Earl Snell today proclaimed next Tuesday, anniversary of America's entry into the first World war, as Army day in Oregon, asking all residents of the state to fly the flag at their homes and places of business.

Thirteen-Year-Old Finds $13,901 in Foldin' Dough

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—Frank Kominaky, an ex-student boy of 13, squirmed through his afternoon classes in grade 8B and with good reason—he had $13,901 in folding money and coins in his pocket.

Frank found the money Monday noon as he and two other boys were searching through a junk heap. He managed to sit out a seemingly endless routine of mathematics and history, then went home and spread the find before his amazed family.

"I'll have none of the money," his father, an unemployed chef, told him. "It might be stolen. Take it to the police."

Frank obeyed. So if no one turns up to claim it within six months, police will see that it is finders keepers.

LIQUOR RATIONING HAS LITTLE EFFECT

SALEM, April 1 (AP)—Liquor rationing had little effect on February sales in state liquor stores and agencies, indicating that there might be enough liquor revenues to carry out the public welfare program during the next two years.

February sales in the stores and agencies totaled $1,775,191, only $14,500 less than the January total, when liquor was not rationed. Sales in February 1942 were only $995,736.

A total of 142,142 gallons were sold in February, compared with 100,010 in the same month of 1942.

Receipts of the liquor commission in February were $1,908,968, compared with $2,148,504 in January, and $1,099,499 in February, 1942.

EWAUNA EMPLOYEES!

Tomorrow, Friday afternoon, 3 o'clock until 6 o'clock, you will have the opportunity to cast a vote in the election conducted by the National Labor Relations Board.

During the last eighteen months most of the lumber operations within this area have voted and chosen the IWA, affiliated with the CIO, as their bargaining agent.

Yes, some have even changed their affiliation from another union to the IWA.

The IWA-CIO leads the way in wage increases and now, through Directive Order No. 526 from the West Coast Lumber commission, has established a night shift differential of 25c per shift for its members who work on the night shift.

Also, the IWA has succeeded in establishing equal pay for women workers who are working in operations certified to the IWA-CIO.

Our Government needs some 38 billion feet of lumber this year. Production in the industry must be greatly increased if we come even near that figure.

The IWA-CIO is assisting our Government in every way possible to increase production to meet this heavy and immediate demand.

Within the Klamath Basin most of the Lumber workers are united in the International Woodworkers of America. Only a few left to join with the rest of us.

YOU, THE EWAUNA WORKERS have your chance tomorrow to join the big majority of Klamath Basin workers now in the IWA who are producing for the War effort and are at the same time making gains in wages and working conditions.

You will vote Yes or No--Yes For the IWA--No Against the IWA

WE ASK YOU TO VOTE YES!
