

SOCIETY

By Lois Stewart

TODAY'S PAGE IS DEVOTED to a group of Klamath Falls women who are giving time, energy and devotion to their country for the duration of the war. These eight women are but a few who have gone from this city into the newly created corps. They represent the WAACS, the WAVES, the Marines and the Nursing corps.

Letters reaching friends and families describe their life in these various branches and there is a unanimous opinion; "that the life is swell," a good old American expression which means that everything is very fine indeed!

At this writing all remain in the United States with the exception of Pauline Suty who is with the WAACS in North Africa. (Pictures of Sherman, Johnson, McChord, Cassel, Suty, by Kennell-Ellis. Stallings from Bell. Kesterson by Kathleen Livingston).

PAULINE SUTY, WAAC.

MARY ALICE SHERMAN, Navy Nurse.

DORIS McCHORD, WAAC.

GRACE RHOADES, WAAC.

JACQUELINE STALLINGS, Marine.

JESSIE JOHNSON, WAAC.

LOIS CASSEL, WAVES.

DOROTHY KESTERSON, WAAC.
