Foreign Policy Group Plans Meet

League of Women Voters To Meet Monday Afternoon in Library Club Rooms

Foreign policy study group of the Klamath County League of Women Voters, under the leadership of Mrs. E. A. Geary, will present an interesting program Monday afternoon, April fifth, at two o'clock in the small club room of the city library, when the league will hold its regular meeting.

The league foreign policy group is one of the largest and most interesting of the study groups, and has been active in its work during the past months.

Mrs. E. K. Loosley will open Monday afternoon's program with a discussion and resume of the United States' relationship with Great Britain during the past decade and up to the present time. Mrs. J. A. Schubert will carry on the discussion with a study of colonial problems at present and into the post-war era.

Mrs. Roland E. Wright is to continue the program through the transitional period and Mrs. Geary will follow with a brief summary and conclusion.

The National League of Women Voters is strong in its campaign against isolationism, and keeps its members alive to its dangers through a program of study and the publication of Broadside, leaflets issued regularly through the national organization.

"United States nationalism, 1943 model of isolationism, grows with every gain made on the military front," declares one of the latest League Broadside.

"Just as in 1919 a demand developed to pull away from the rest of the world and return to 'normalcy,' so now the same tide of reaction is setting in. It shows itself through those who give lip service to the idea of a world free from war, but who promote efforts to bring about a United States independent of the rest of the world and armed to the teeth. Such nationalist-isolationist spirit can defeat any attempt to solve international problems through mutual concessions and agreements," the league publication continues.

"The groundwork for a lasting peace is being laid now. The United Nations have made agreements establishing principles of post-war settlement including free access to raw materials and removal of excessive trade barriers. Congressional action that violates such principles will undermine the confidence of the United Nations in our good faith."

The course of United States action advocated by the National League of Women Voters calls for the use of our power and prestige to encourage cooperation among all countries. Concessions will have to be made by us as well as by others. Sometimes the interests of groups of United States citizens will conflict with the long term interest of the whole country and adjustments will have to be made. It recognizes that the effect of each nation has an effect on every other nation, and is based on the principle of preventing situations that lead to war.

"Nationalist propaganda confuses the real issue today just as isolationist propaganda confused it 23 years ago," the Broadside concludes.

Mrs. Carey M. Ramsby will be hostess to members of the Art Needle Work club, Wednesday afternoon, at two o'clock, at her home at 521 North Fifth street. This will be the regular bi-monthly gathering of the club. The date is April the seventh.
