LEWIS, CLARK HEAD TALKS TO PRESBYTERIANS

This coming Sunday, at the First Presbyterian church, Dr. Morgan S. Odell, president of Lewis and Clark college, Portland, Oregon, will be the speaker at both the morning and evening services.

Dr. Odell served for years as the head of the department of religion and philosophy at Occidental college, Los Angeles, Calif., before he was called to the presidency of what had been Albany college, on June 2, 1942. He has for years participated extensively in the work of civic organizations, college administrative duties, and student counseling. Since his coming the name of the college has been changed from that of Albany, which it has maintained for 75 years, to that of Lewis and Clark, a new campus costing $1,300,000 has been acquired on Palatine Hill, Portland, the faculty has been enlarged and greatly improved, additional laboratory equipment has been purchased, the library is being enlarged, and the ties between the college and the community and business life of Portland have been strengthened.

The notable improvements have been such that "Time Magazine" in its issue of September 28, 1942, called special attention to the college under the caption, "Courageous College," and said: "The future never looked darker for the business of U. S. higher education. The general public is optimistic citizens of Portland, Ore. (home of Henry J. Kaiser's miraculous shipyards), thought it just the time to launch moribund little Albany college on a bigger career with a new name, new president and fantastically lush new campus. The trustees heard that the fabulous $1,300,000 M. Lloyd Frank estate could be bought for $50,000. The college raised the money overnight. Promptly the trustees gave their 'dream college' a handsome new president, the firm-chinned Dr. Morgan Samuel Odell of Los Angeles Occidental college. A brave new name topped the transformation—Lewis & Clark, for the northwest explorers."

The morning worship is held at 11 o'clock. The evening service at 7:30 o'clock. The Presbyterian young people of the community and Klamath basin are invited to attend the evening service, when Dr. Odell will show the beautiful polychrome pictures of the wonderful new college campus.

Dr. Odell is also to address the student body of Klamath Union high school on Monday morning, and will also be heard under the report of the committee of Christian Education at the meeting of the Presbytery of southwest Oregon, which is to be held this coming Tuesday and Wednesday at Tulelake, Calif.

First Presbyterian Church

The First Presbyterian church, North Sixth and Pine streets, Pastor, Rev. A. Theodore Smith, 435 North Second street, phone 5477, and at the church 7311. Director of the choir, Lillie E. Darby, organist Mrs. A. H. Denison.

The morning worship opens with the organ prelude "An Easter Flower," by Worrell. The procession is "Fairest, Lord Jesus." Choir and congregation, following the pastoral greeting, unite in singing "The Doxology," and, after the invocation and Lord's prayer, "The Gloria Patri." The period of quiet meditation and prayer for the armed forces and for the young men and women who have gone forth from the congregation is opened by the choir singing, "Hear Our Prayer, O Lord," and concludes with all singing "Our Father's God to Thee, Author of Liberty." The choir offers its "We Give Thee But Thine Own," by Schumann and the organ offertory is "Shadows," by Stoughton. There will be two musical numbers, the anthem by the choir, "Far Not, Oh Israel," by Spicker and a solo by Fred Ross, who will sing "Going Home," by Dvorak and "On the Highway to Galilee."

The speaker of the morning will be Dr. Morgan S. Odell, president of Lewis and Clark college of Portland, Ore. His address should be of special interest to prospective college students.

The service will close with the benediction, the choir dismissal, "Threefold Amen," and the organ postlude, "Postlude," by Harris.

At 7:30 p. m., Dr. Odell will present polychrome pictures of the new college campus of Lewis and Clark college. This will be attended largely by young people from the Klamath basin. The general public is welcome. The service opens with the organ prelude, "Alleluia-Alleluia," by Armstrong. The offertory is "Idyll," by Overholt and the postlude, "March," by Hopkins.

Bible school, 9:45 a. m. Immediately preceding the opening, at 9:30 o'clock, a prayer group meets in the pastor's study.

The three young people's groups will meet at 8:30 p. m. It is probable that Dr. Odell will address the group. All young people are made welcome.
