

Business Women Hold Monday Meet

Mrs. Wissenbach Speaker at Gathering Held in Willard Hotel First of the Week

Members and guests of the Klamath Falls Business and Professional Women's club enjoyed the talk given by Mrs. Frederick C. Wissenbach, the guest speaker at the dinner meeting on Monday night, April the fifth, at the Willard hotel.

"German Life Through American Eyes" was most interestingly portrayed. Mrs. Wissenbach told of their experiences in Munich during their sojourn there from 1932 to 1935, when the Rev. Wissenbach was rector of the American church.

The American church was established during the first World War. Hitler came into Germany as chancellor about the time Von Hindenburg died. The German people had looked forward to their new leader, Adolf Hitler.

Munich has a population of 750,000, and many cultured people live there. The American people came there to study art and music, the speaker said.

There is a distinction between the Bavarians and the Germans in that the Bavarians are a much happier people, who love colorful costumes and classical music. They always seem to have a lilt in their walk, singing airs from the operas. There is a graciousness and politeness about them and everyone seemed so hospitable.

Then, just before the Wisconsin left Germany, the socialists stopped all celebrations and the bloody scourge began, with revolutions and demonstrations. The first thing Hitler did was to take over all the buildings and property of the people. He boycotted Jewish stores. They felt it was time for Hitler to take over. People were thrown into concentration camps and there was an immediate censorship of the press, with no freedom of speech.

Mrs. Wissenbach told of the disgust of the "heiling" of the shrines. There were many shrines on street corners, each one consisting of a wreath, which natives had to "heil." Hitler's one idea was to unify the people, with one government, one thought, and one church.

The Wissenbachs felt fortunate to get out of Germany when they did, because Germany does not recognize American citizenship.

Preceding Mrs. Wissenbach's talk the junior high school girls' chorus sang to an attentive group. They were directed by Miss Lillie Darby. Miss Bonnie Sweeney, student of Mrs. Thelma Dumm, played a group of accordion solos.

Mrs. Henri Conrad had charge of the meeting assisted by Miss Hazel Morrison and Miss Olive Wilson. The BPW state convention will be held at Eugene, May fifteenth and sixteenth.

Mothers Honored

Annual Tea Given at Altamont School on Thursday

The Girl Scouts of Altamont Junior high were hostesses to fifty guests at their annual Mothers' tea, Thursday afternoon, April the first, at the school building.

The table was attractively decorated with green and yellow tapers and centerpiece of daffodils, lilies and snark-dragons. Miss Helen Eckert, president of troop No. 11, and Miss Margaret Rafson, of troop No. 17, poured. Those assisting about the room were Misses Eloise Anderson, Louise Henry, Vanice Vaupel, Jean Thomas, Dorothy June Peugh, Margaret Jane Grubb and Elaine Wicker, all of troop No. 11. Mrs. W. C. Preston and Mrs. F. Rafson were in charge of table decorations.

Court of Awards was presented as the program for the evening. The ceremony was opened with group singing by the ninety scouts. Miss Joan Robinette, of troop No. 9, furnished the piano accompaniment.

Mrs. LeRoy Carter, general chairman of the tea, led her group, troop No. 9, in the Girl Scout laws and promise and then, assisted by Mrs. Vida Hanson, presented tenderfoot pins.

Badges for troop No. 17 and troop No. 11 were awarded by Mrs. Zenith Powell and Dea Jean Hardy, respective troop leaders.

Following the ceremony, moving pictures were taken of the girls and their guests by Mr. A. C. Olson, principal.

Juvenile Officer Addresses Club

Soroptimists Hear Status of Juvenile Problems in Klamath; Causes Outlined

Mr. Harold Hendrickson, juvenile officer, addressed the Soroptimist club at the luncheon meeting on Thursday noon at the Pelican party room, and set forth some of the problems his office has to meet in working with the youth of this community.

Mr. Hendrickson stated that some of the recent causes contributing to juvenile delinquency were directly traceable to the war effort:

In the increased absence from home of parents working in war industries, and the resultant lessening of parental guidance.

A lessening of school activities and outside activities of various organizations.

Excessively high wages being earned by young people, which gives them extra spending money, not always spent wisely.

The general excitement and unsettled state of affairs generally, caused by the war, and to which the youth of the nation feel it necessary to contribute.

However, in spite of all these contributing factors, Mr. Hendrickson stated that he did not feel there was any increase in juvenile delinquency in Klamath county. His office and the juvenile court are trying to curb delinquency by helping the youngsters to correct their wrong ideas and get a new start, rather than send them to institutions.

He further stated that they had more calls to investigate juvenile dependancies than of delinquent children. He recommended a day nursery for Klamath Falls, and pointed out that the recreational program here was helping greatly to cut down juvenile delinquency.

Three Junior high school boys, Charles Selby, Dave Johnson and Clarence Bussman, under the direction of Miss Lillie Darby, provided some clever musical skits, including "Der Fuehrer's Face." Gertrude Moore, the secretary, read Senate Resolution 114 introduced by Ball, Burton, Hill and Hatch to establish procedures in congress for peaceful settlement of disagreements between nations. This resolution is endorsed by the League of Women Voters, and the organization urges that all citizens write to Senator Joseph A. Ball expressing their approval of the resolution.

President Rose Poole was in charge of the meeting and welcomed a new member, Mrs. Pearl Drew, into the club.

Anne Zupan, freshman from Klamath Falls, is listed in the winter quarter honor roll released by the registrar of Maryhurst college, Portland. Besides her academic work, Miss Zupan is interested in music and dramatics, and she recently played an important role in a comic opera produced by the college.
