

POPPY MAKING BEGINS AGAIN IN HOSPITALS

Making memorial poppies has begun again in the government hospitals where men who have served America are under care, Mrs. J. H. Gallagher, poppy chairman of the Klamath unit of the American Legion auxiliary, has announced.

The little red memorial flowers are being made for the auxiliary by disabled veterans of the first World war and will be worn in honor of the dead of both conflicts, said Mrs. Gallagher. Millions of the flowers, shaped in replica of the poppies of Flanders' fields, will be made before "Poppy Day" next May.

The work provides earnings during the winter and spring for men so badly disabled that they are unable to undertake other employment. It gives them interesting occupation to speed the long hospital hours and is a valuable occupational aid to their recovery. Men disabled in the present war also will be employed in the poppy program if any are in need of the financial and therapeutic benefits of the work.

The poppies will be distributed throughout the country by volunteer workers from the auxiliary on "Poppy Day," May 29. Auxiliary women expect them to be more generally worn than ever before, exceeding even last year's display, when more than 12,000,000 were worn to "honor the dead and aid the disabled." Contributions received for the flowers will be used in the relief and rehabilitation work which the American Legion and auxiliary are conducting for the disabled veterans of both wars, and for the families of the dead and disabled.

It is essential that when this war is over the United Nations should maintain sufficient force to ensure that neither Germany nor Italy nor Japan can ever again plunge the world into war. —Anthony Eden.

The case involved an alleged false declaration of coffee by the Portland cafe, 514 S. W. Taylor street. Manager of the corporation is George Chacals, who was present in person and was represented by his attorney, John D. Davis. The OPA was represented by MacCormack Snow and Cecilia P. Gallagher, counsel of the OPA enforcement staff.
