LIGHT SELLING STEMS RALLY ON MARKET

NEW YORK, April 16 (AP)—Light selling today stemmed the two-session rallying drive of the stock market.

The turnover of around 1,000,000 shares was one of the smallest in the past several weeks.

Buying reluctance was attributed mainly to the belief a secondary reaction was a possibility in the wake of last week's sharp tumble.

Oils were relatively lively and ahead minor amounts.

In arrears most of the time were U. S. Steel, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, International Harvester, Northern Pacific, Westinghouse, and Johns-Manville. Resistance was Ohio Oil, Pure Oil, Texas Co., Douglas Aircraft and American Telephone.

The people of this country want to pay their taxes as they earn their income. In the end they will force the congress to pass such legislation. Pride of authorship, expediency, social experimentation, and economic theory must give way to realism.—Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts.

DRIVERS MAY STILL APPLY FOR GASOLINE

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP)—Motorists who failed to meet tire inspection deadlines still may qualify for gasoline rations by providing a "good reason" for their delay, the office of price administration ruled today.

Previous regulations, motorists not complying with the deadlines were not eligible for gasoline.

In allowing rations in cases of "justifiable" delay, the OPA directed local rationing boards to issue rations, provided the applicant's tires were inspected and approved within 60 days before filing of the application.

The deadline for the first tire inspection for holders of "B" and "C" rations was February 28, and for holders of "A" books only, March 31.

Substitutes for Usual Fertilizers Explained By Agriculture Office

C. A. HENDERSON
County Agricultural Agent

With many farmers unable to get the necessary amount and the kind of fertilizer that they want for the production of this year's crops, it might be worthwhile to examine other fertilizers that might be used. It is difficult of course to replace completely the old established fertilizers that have been used in the past but this seems to be a time for growers to make every possible use of all fertilizers that might be available. Upon request to the Oregon state agricultural adjustment agency office, a national ruling was made that superphosphate, secured through the AAA might be used on war crops, even though these were soil-depleting.

Heretofore, super and treble phosphate secured through the AAA have been usable only on soil-conserving crops such as clovers, pastures and other legumes. Many growers have ordered superphosphate, a total of five cars or 250 tons having been ordered to date. It will be possible for growers to still place their orders for the next 15 days for this material, at the conservation office, room 209, Federal building, Klamath Falls. In using this on soil-depleting crops it is necessary that it be paid for in cash, as it cannot be provided as a grant-of-aid and taken out of the AAA payments later. Its cost is $31 per ton delivered to Klamath Falls, plus handling charges of unloading, etc., which usually amounts to 50 cents per ton. This material contains 20 per cent available phosphate and in addition a slight percentage of sulphur.

Another material that may be made available through fertilizer companies is sulphate of ammonia. This material contains approximately 20.5 per cent nitrogen. Sulphate of ammonia has been used in the Klamath basin and on fields short of nitrogen, such as lands cropped to potatoes for from one to two years or on grain lands or similar lands, and has given good results for potato or vegetable production. It is not advisable to mix superphosphate and sulphate of ammonia, as more than likely the resulting mixture would be too hard to apply. Each would do better applied separately. If applied separately at the rate of two sacks of superphosphate to one sack of sulphate of ammonia, the resultant fertilization on the land would be about the same as the 10-20-0 fertilizer, or perhaps comparable to other fertilizers of this type that have been used.

The sulphate of ammonia might be used alone as a side-dressing later in the season after potatoes are up at a rate of around 200 pounds per acre. It seems as though the availability of sulphate of ammonia is rather uncertain but various companies have indicated that it might be possible to secure this material.

One of the companies, the Pacific Guano company, has stated that they have 200 tons allocated to the Klamath district but this must be covered by orders before April 25 or it will be used elsewhere. It will be necessary to bring this material in 40-ton minimum cars. Price is $45 to $50 per ton. There is some possibility that this amount might be increased and that other companies can secure a supply. Growers should certainly consult all dealers now and make every possible effort to obtain some of this material if their particular lands respond to its use.

The fertilizer situation has become very acute due mainly to the huge increase in the potato acreage of the Klamath basin for this year. Under the stimulus of war demands, Klamath growers have agreed to increase their production this year. A total of all goals as established and production indicated in the recent food sign-up shows that the entire Klamath basin, including leased lands, should produce around 23,000 acres of potatoes if plans are carried out this year, as compared with slightly over 16,000 acres in 1942.

As far as 10-20-0 is concerned, all information available indicates that at the present time this cannot be secured now, but there seems to be some possibility that an additional small supply might be made available later in the season. Undoubtedly this would be so late it could only be used as a side-dressing and would require special fertilizer attachments for putting it on.

LEGIONNAIRES CHARGE JAP PAMPERING

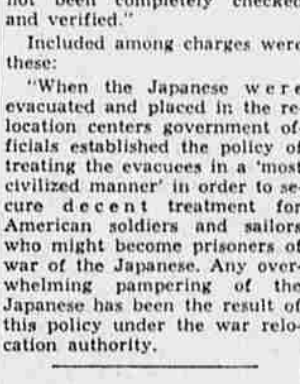

SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 16 (AP)—Under the control and management of the war relocation authority "an overwhelming pampering of the Japanese evacuees" has become a policy, the California senate was told today by a report jointly prepared by its fact finding committee and a committee of the American Legion.

The report stated the "investigation is necessarily incomplete and that many reports and allegations made by numerous citizens of California have not been completely checked and verified."

Included among charges were these:

"When the Japanese were evacuated and placed in the relocation centers government officials established the policy of treating the evacuees in a 'most civilized manner' in order to secure decent treatment for American soldiers and sailors who might become prisoners of war of the Japanese. Any overwhelming pampering of the Japanese has been the result of this policy under the war relocation authority.
