

PRODUCTION OF LUMBER TO BE SHORT OF GOAL

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—Lumber production this year will be more than 2,000,000,000 feet short of the war production board's goal of 32,000,000,000 feet set in January, Henry Clepper, chief of the program section of WPB's lumber division reported today.

Basing the estimate on reports of first quarter production, Clepper said the lumber shortage has grown "progressively worse" in the last four months and has spread to nearly all commercial species.

The reduced output was ascribed, at a recent meeting of the millwork advisory committee, to loss of manpower, bad weather and shortage of equipment. Other factors blamed were the increased use of lumber for war purposes and its widespread substitution for metals.

J. Philip Boyd, lumber division director, said box and crating requirements for war purposes may increase to the point where they will take 50 per cent of all lumber produced this year. These needs have placed a heavy strain on western pine output, Boyd said, adding that it is likely lumber used for other purposes will have to be diverted to box and crating.

ALL IS CONFUSION

WASHINGTON, Conn. (AP)—Nobody knows whether it's the weather, or competition from airplanes, but the wild geese flying over this town seem to be confused in their age-old spring task of flying north.

On one especially cold day last week, one observer reports, a flock overhead gave up their V-formation and flew around in circles for a time. Then they landed, and after much discordant squawling flew off again, apparently in final agreement on which way was north.

By the end of the war, productive capacity properly used can save the world, and improperly applied could become an economic menace. We must therefore find a sound and sensible solution. — Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones.

Okay, Gentlemen--- Here's Our Two-Bits Worth

To Help Make It Hitler's LAST Birthday!

In other years this money might have gone toward the purchase of a new linotype machine. You can't put out a newspaper, these days, without lots of intricate, expensive machines.

Today, though, we're equipping those printers who have learned to make another kind of machine talk... and it takes an unending stream of intricate, expensive machines to talk in terms of Hitler's LAST Birthday!

★ When V-Day comes, this Bond will come in handy to buy a linotype for use of our returning soldier-printers.
