BALDOCK TELLS OF POST-WAR HIGHWAYS

the re-location of The Dalles-California highway from Beaver Marsh south, in Klamath county, which will cut five miles and the Sun mountain grade out of this important route.

Answering another inquiry, Baldock said that the re-location of the Willamette highway at the Goshen (western end) is already surveyed, part of the work has been done, and this project is ready for immediate action when construction is permitted.

Development of a more favorable junction with the Pacific highway at that point is one of the projects in which Klamath people are warmly interested.

Baldock's optimistic picture of the road building in the state was taken here as to indicate probable development on The Dalles-California highway north of the Willamette junction, as well as improvements on the "funnel roads" such as the Warm Springs and the Santiam.

The engineering staff members were introduced at the chamber luncheon by Arthur Schupp, highway commissioner. The men here included H. D. Farmer of the PRA and the following state men: R. W. Cozad, right-of-way agent; W. E. Chandler, district engineer; J. W. DeSouza, attorney and engineer, and H. C. Smith, construction engineer.

The group left here for Lakeview, with the purpose of looking over the uncompleted contract on the Quartz mountain section of that highway. Farmer, as federal engineer, is particularly interested in that project, but said he could make no definite assurances concerning it until he makes his inspection and reports. The job has been under contract but is temporarily at a standstill.

BRITISH HIT NAZIS' LINES NEAR TUNIS

ery's eighth army massed artillery batteries to beat off two counterattacks against its new lines—anchored in the region of Takrouna, five miles northwest of Enfidaville, and in the area of the Djebel Garci, 10 miles inland from the coast—with a heavy loss to the axis.

"Our positions were generally improved and all gains firmly held," the communique said.

General Montgomery's men, who face 10 miles of extremely difficult hill country in their latest push toward Tunis, have already driven through three miles which had once bristled with Nazi defenses.

Hit Hard Observers said the axis forces were striking with all possible strength in an effort to slow their progress, regardless of the cost in troops and material.

The German command included units of the Hermann Goering Jaeger regiment and the Goering Grenadiers in the attack on the first army and they struck on an eight-mile front. Tank forces which had previously seen action in the battles of Fondouk, Kasserine pass and Maknassy were thrown into the fray.

Twenty-seven of these tanks were destroyed and a spokesman said it was believed most of the hulks had been left behind on ground now occupied by the allies.

Wooton Warns Early Draft For Men With Dependents

SALEM, April 22 (P)—Married men with children acquired before December 8, 1941, will be deferred temporarily, but all other men with dependents probably will enter the armed forces by next fall, unless they are deferred for reasons other than dependency, Col. Elmer V. Wooton, state selective service director, said today.

"Oregon at the present time is inducting only single men or men who acquired dependents after declaration of war, but this pool of men is near exhaustion and calls in the next several months will include men with dependents," Colonel Wooton said.

Some Singles Left "It is not true that all single men will be inducted before any men with dependents are taken. Some single men will continue to be deferred in class 2-A and class 2-B so long as they are irreplaceable in occupations essential to the support of the war effort or necessary to war production. This group of deferred single men is being kept as small as possible but cannot be eliminated if induction will dangerously curtail activities essential to the war."

The colonel said the new classification, 3-D, will give deferment for registrants whose induction would cause "extreme hardship and privation" to their dependents.

"Registrants cannot qualify for this classification merely because their induction would cause inconvenience to their dependents or even a radical reduction in their income," he said. "Experience would indicate that not much more than six registrants in a thousand could qualify for class 3-D."

VICTORY GARDENERS GET CREDIT REFUND

the amount of refund to be received.

"The war time curtailment of critical materials may prevent full advantage of the city's offer of use of its vacant lots for gardening. A call at the company's office will quickly disclose whether or not a service pipe is in place from the company's main for use at a particular lot. A new order of the government, relative to plumbing for Victory gardens, has just been released and may benefit the local gardeners who can qualify."

"It is believed that existing plumbing will prove adequate, providing the gardener will apply the theory of irrigation by a small flow over a long period of time."

"The appeal of the nation's leaders for people on the home front to raise their own vegetables and garden stuffs has received an enthusiastic response locally. The program has been furthered by the press and radio and by the specific efforts of the local Victory garden committee and of the mayor and officials of the city of Klamath Falls."

"An official request of the common council of the city was made by Mayor Houston for a promotional victory garden rate. The company's response in cooperating with a program was the filing of a temporary supplement for the benefit of the victory gardeners."

PORTLAND, April 21 (P)—The office of war information disclosed today that some victory gardeners will be allowed pipe to provide for irrigation of their plots.

Water service extensions of not more than 250 feet, the statement said, provided the following conditions are met:

There is no alternative water source which would require less critical material; water from each extension will be used to provide water for not less than 5000 square feet of land devoted to the production of edible crops; extensions are made with not more than 5 feet of pipe for each 500 square feet of cultivated land, the pipe of the smallest practicable size be used; no copper or copper base alloy pipe can be used; no extension or enlargement of mains is required.

The consumer must agree in writing with the producer that his use of water for the garden will be subject to rules promulgated by the producer in the interest of water conservation, in-

The ordinance, as specified in the complaint, is No. 3458 which states that no child under the age of 18 years may loiter, loiter or be found on the public streets after 10 p. m. Bridge said that within the past few months a new problem has arisen, that is involving young girls who are "khaki-wacky" and roam the streets to attract attention of visiting soldiers.

"It is parents of these children that we are going to see brought before the court," Bridge said.

Judge Franey talked to the parents and two boys brought before him Thursday afternoon and called upon the children to believe that juvenile authorities "are your friends" and that they should feel great shame to place their parents in such a position as to be brought into court.
