COME TO CHURCH

Easter

An Easter Message

Scripture Reading: Matthew 28:1-10, 16-20.
By REV. GEORGE W. WHEATLEY,
Bible Baptist Church.

At this Easter time we stand before the open tomb. Across the chasm of 1900 years, we hear the echoes from the voices of the angels who kept their trust in the resurrection garden. Facing eternity with those who lean above the battlements of heaven, we join the shout, "He is risen!"

There is something about Easter morning that silences all denials, differences are forgotten, for Jesus Christ, whatever we would that He be unto us, is the greatest fact of all history.

Standing before the open tomb, there still comes the words loud and clear, "It is finished," assuring us the great work that would liberate and set men free, was now completed for all time. Looking into the open tomb we see written these words of comfort: "But if the Spirit of Him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwell in you, He that raised up Christ from the dead shall also quicken your mortal bodies by His Spirit that dwelleth in you." (Romans 8:11).

Call Him a tradition if you will, but when the Easter sun arises and sends its pulsating rays over the mountain peak, you discover His tradition girdling the nations. Call Him merely a super man if you will, but on Easter morning you will find Him on a throne of adoration, high and lifted up above all the sons of men. Acclaim Him intellectually and surround Him with the limitations of the finite mind if you will, but when Easter morning stillness opens out upon the fields and market places, you will know within the deeper channels of your being that flood from hidden springs of the larger life fed from the fountain that was opened on a skull-shaped hill long ago. "That whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have eternal life."

Call Him the lowly Galilean, the Carpenter of Nazareth or the great Teacher if you will, or even heaven's only begotten Son, but standing beside the fisherman Disciple, you will have to add your voice to His trumpet of the ages, "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the Living God!"

His face is the center of art. His theme is the heart of song. His name is above every name. The spittle with which He mixed the clay to anoint the eyes of the blind has cemented the walls of hospitals around the world.

His arms still lift the fallen and downtrodden. His words of comfort in the holy Bible, still comforts the bereaved and brings peace to a lonely heart. His gospel is the healing of the nations. His love and His cross save us from our sins and in His resurrection is our glorious hope of immortality. While there will be some nations at this Easter time who will give no thought upon these things, because they long ago have cast them from their way of life, and because of sin and greed, they are "Passing the Lord and praising the ammunition." Let us thank God for our country, and pray that she will continue to look to Almighty God for guidance and divine protection.

"So near to God
We cannot nearer be;
For, in the person of His Son,
We are as near as He."

"If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God." (Colossians 3:1).

Easter is the greatest day of all the year in the life of the Christian church. This year as our thoughts and prayers are with those who are far from home and who face imminent danger, this Easter with its message of Eternal Life should mean much to us.

A complete program of inspiration and worship is planned at this church next Sunday with the following services scheduled.

A sunrise service of worship at 6:30 a. m. in the church sanctuary to be conducted by members of Comrades of the Way with the Church of Youth attending in a body. Unity teaches that many people in the world today are following Jesus in the Resurrection and are rising from the tombs of fear, despair, death, ill health, sin, and want through the application of the principles that Jesus taught and used. These principles, when understood and applied, are efficacious in making man whole and free.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend the Easter service and the Monday truth class.

Among the citations which will comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Yet, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me" (Ps. 23:4).

The Lesson-Sermon also will include the following correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "We know that all will be changed in the twinkling of an eye" when the last trump shall sound; but this last call of wisdom cannot come till mortals have already yielded to each lesser call in the growth of Christian character. Mortals need not fancy that belief in the experience of death will awaken them to glorified being. Universal salvation rests on progression and probation, and is unattainable without them" (p. 291).
