

IVAN LEEPER SENTENCED FOR ASSAULT

Ivan Leeper, 19, was given 10 years in the Oregon state penitentiary Monday morning in circuit court when he pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and robbery with a dangerous weapon with intent to kill or wound. Circuit Judge David R. Vandenberg, in passing sentence, said that ordinarily it was not the policy of the court to send offenders of that age to the penitentiary but, due to the seriousness of the charge as filed, there was no alternative, according to law. Last week Leeper held up, beat and robbed E. M. Prouty as the two were riding in Prouty's car. Then Leeper ordered Prouty out of the car, driving the automobile to Bly. There he was arrested on a minor traffic violation, and held for further investigation when he could not prove ownership of the car.

Klamath's Easter Thousands Pray for War-Racked World

Attendance marked the Easter observance in Portland. Thousands jammed into the churches, standing in the aisles and crowding into entrances. Some Protestant churches held repeat services, but hundreds still were unable to get inside. At Swan Island and Oregon shipyards special services were held at lunch periods for each shift, starting with the graveyard shift at Swan Island at 3 a. m. Bells rang from giant cranes, and workers, munching sandwiches, doffed tin hats and bowed their heads in prayer. Later the Oregon yard launched its 173d Liberty ship, the William H. McGuffey, named after the Cincinnati college president who wrote McGuffey's Readers, widely used textbooks of the last century. Mrs. Elmer V. Wooten, wife of the state selective service director, christened the vessel.

Large fires also were started in the port's railroad yards, causing heavy explosions, the war department said. The bombers were escorted by P-38 Lightning fighters. Gus Lindh, linotype operator at The Herald and News, heard the name of his son, 1st Lt. Jack D. Lindh of the US army air corps now serving in North Africa, mentioned in a Sunday night news broadcast as having taken part in successful raids in that theatre of war. The announcement added that Lieut. Gen. Ben Lear, commander of the second army, had been ordered here from headquarters in Memphis, Tenn., to take temporary command of the ground forces pending General McNair's hoped-for recovery. Inspection Trip McNair, who was on an inspection trip in North Africa, is known as a fighting general. In a speech recently, he declared that the sooner America's fighting men got tough and develop "lust for battle," the quicker would victory appear in view.

The note cited that the Germans had launched a "slandering campaign in connection with the murder of Polish officers which they themselves committed in the Smolensk area on territory occupied by German troops." STRIKES MUSHROOM AS LEWIS IGNORES

(Continued From Page One) Co., and the Weirton Steel Co., were the first affected in the Pennsylvania stoppages. Later the walkout extended to two mines owned by the Jones and Laughlin Steel corp., and UMW district officials, who described all the strikes as unauthorized, said pickets also kept some men away from two other mines. These are operated by the H. S. Frick Coke Co., and the Pittsburgh Coal Co. By mid-afternoon there were ten struck mines in the Pennsylvania field.

In Kentucky the Black Mountain Coal corp., at Kenvir said 1000 men were idle, and between 300 and 500 Crech Coal Co. miners voted not to enter the pits after reporting for work this morning. Some Return At Birmingham, Ala., however, company spokesmen said more than 4000 miners who failed to report at five major mines in that district Saturday were back at work. The one-day stoppage was ascribed by District UMW President William Mitch to a decision by the miners "simply to go fishing" because of dissatisfaction over progress of the wage negotiations and what he termed failure of the operators to install a six-day week with overtime pay for the sixth day.

At Pittsburgh an official of the Castle Shannon Coal corp., who asked not to be quoted by name, said he had noted "a lot of absenteeism" and added that "it looks like there is a deliberate slowdown" among the men still at work. No Contract K. C. Adams, Lewis' press representative, said in New York the union considered the UMW's contract with northern operators no longer in effect because the operators suspended negotiations last Friday in order to attend the WLB session. There was no indication, however, that the union was formally advising its members of its view. Adams added that the southern contract was considered still in effect because negotiations with the southern operators still are in progress.

In a companion action to the north, other Americans captured an important hill called the Djebel Nechat El Mazzi nine miles northeast of Sedjenne and 30 miles southwest of Bizerte, this in an advance slowed both by heavy enemy action and difficult terrain.
