BLOCK LEADER DUTIES TOLD BY CHAIRMAN

The block leaders serve with the sector leader and assume responsibility for carrying out all tasks assigned to the sector in the way of necessary war activi-ties, says Mrs. O. K. Puckett, chairman of block leader coun-chairman of block leader coun-cil, in explaining duties. Records of names, addresses, and telephone numbers should be kept by each block leader of the families in her immediate area, so that when a particular program is to be put on, whether it be one of consumer interests, salvage, transportation, child care, nutrition, or war savings, she will know which one of her group would be the one to call on for help in putting the program through. As time goes on, all of these issues will come up, and we are urged to attend all instruction meetings possible, in order to be prepared for these emergencies.

There will be radio programs and feature articles in the press, also pamphlets of explanatory material given to block leaders for distribution to each family in her group, according to Mrs.

When a project is launched, the block leader should send in a report to her sector or precinct leader as to the progress being made in her immediate group Salvage of rubber, tin and fats is a continuous drive. Transpor tation, child care, housing, con sumer interests, and aid to men in the armed services are also continuous programs.
