

Aloha Chapter Is Hostess to Malin

Order of the Eastern Star Observes Guest Meeting on Tuesday Evening

Bowls of sweet peas and miniature Maypoles were used in artistic arrangements on the long tables, when more than sixty members of the Eastern Star sat down together to enjoy a potluck dinner, at the Masonic temple, Tuesday evening, and to renew fraternal ties. Prosperity chapter No. 160 of Malin, Order of the Eastern Star, was the guest of Aloha chapter on this occasion.

Mrs. Wilbur Arnold led in the group singing of songs composed for the gathering, and sung to familiar tunes. One song was especially dedicated to Mrs. V. Kalina, worthy matron of the visiting chapter, and another number was dedicated to both Mrs. Kalina and Mrs. Clarence A. Humble, worthy matron of Aloha chapter. Mrs. Fred Cofer presided at the piano for this feature, and Mrs. George Casper was responsible for the original compositions.

Mrs. Humble and Mr. Lawrence K. Phelps, worthy patron, presided during the regular chapter meeting which followed the dinner.

Mrs. Kalina and Mr. Joe Halousek, worthy patron of Prosperity chapter, were escorted to the east and welcomed with appropriate ceremonies. Degrees of the order were conferred upon Inez De Lamater, Irma Clement, and Margaret Porter. The last named candidate was elected to receive the degrees in Garden City chapter No. 3, Greeley, Colorado, then moved to Klamath Falls, where she is employed at the Klamath County library. She was initiated by Aloha chapter as a courtesy to the Colorado chapter. Miss Porter was presented with an Eastern Star pin which had been worn for many years by her grandmother in Colorado. This gift was a surprise and was presented by Mrs. Lawrence K. Phelps, at the request of the Colorado chapter.

Non-competitive Show Plans Made

Annual Election of Officers To Be Held by Library Club on May the Tenth

One of the most important meetings dates for members of the Klamath Falls Woman's Library club is the May meeting slated for Monday the tenth, at two o'clock in the main auditorium of the city library, when officers will be elected and reports of committees heard.

Because of war time restrictions on time and material, members have dispensed with and in its stead, there will be a non-competitive show. This is sponsored by the Garden club.

All women who are interested in flower arrangements are urged to enter displays in the show and to make this show as beautiful as those in the past despite the non-competitive angle.

Anyone having specimens should also take part, it was urged. These can be brought to the library rooms from ten o'clock in the morning until one o'clock. Mrs. Frederick W. Hamilton, president of Garden club, is general chairman. Committee members will be present to place the exhibits.

Plans are also being made for the annual spring tea, the proceeds to be presented to the Commandos for their work in the city.

One reason given for the holding of a non-competitive show instead of entirely dispensing with the exhibit, is that of continuity. Members did not wish to break the years of display and after the war the usual elaborate shows will be held.

Ballard and the late Mr. Ballard of Dorris, took place at half-past ten o'clock at the family home. The Rev. Arthur Charles Bates of the First Christian church read the ceremony.

Mr. Jones gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a navy blue sheer wool dressmaker suit with a white blouse and a small hat of white feathers.

A single lavender orchid was carried with her white Bible. The bride's white gloves were those worn by her mother at her wedding, and for something old, a pair of earrings, heirlooms in the groom's family.

Vows were exchanged in the living room before a bank of peach snapdragons and greens. The wedding date was also the twenty-eighth anniversary of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Lawrence Kerwin was the bride's only attendant. She wore a navy blue suit with a white gardenia corsage. Mr. Ray Ballard was his brother's best man.

Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served with the bride's table centered with a bowl of pink sweet peas. Presiding at the coffee urn was Mrs. Robert Ritman.
