COUNCIL EYES COMMITTEE'S BOND REPORT

Recommendations will be pre sented to the city council in ses-sion tonight, Monday, by members of the bond committee fol-lowing a lengthy and thorough study of city property secured through foreclosure. Chairman of the committee.

W. O. Smith, and members of his group, made the following statement:
"In order to prevent the un necessary accumulation of taxes interest and penalties, all delin quent assessments should be foreclosed at as early a date as possible. For instance, if there are many delinquencies more than three years old, foreclosure proceedings should begin on these at once. When it is finished, proceedings should be started on next year's delinquencies and so on until there only remain uncollected assessments which are delinquent one year or less.

'As a general policy we would The recommendation, in its entering the first will be seed before the first will be seed before
