HOW LONG IS A WAR?

WE CAN all hope it is going to be shorter than people think. But it's smart to prepare for the worst even while we hope for the best—especially when it comes to cars. Because when present stocks of new cars are gone there won't be any more until victory—and a while after!

So—no matter how long or short you think the war will be—give your car good care, such as your car can provide. Give it regular care, without manual prescribes. Give it thorough care, without taking any chances that your oil can last "a few hundred miles more," your engine stay in proper tune "a while longer," your battery go without water, plugs without checking, brakes without inspection. It's cheaper in the end to give your car plenty of our good care now—and it's a whole of a lot safer!
