

BUDDY POPPY SALE SET BY LOCAL VETS

The sale of ten million Buddy Poppies by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States is indicated by early orders already received by the national buddy poppy committee, according to Commander James Souther of the local post, which will sponsor the sale here Saturday, May 29.

Sale of ten million Buddy Poppies is the VFW goal for 1943 and reaching that goal is vital to the welfare of those serving in the armed forces, Commander Souther stated.

Every dollar collected by the Ladies' auxiliary, through this sale, will aid in rehabilitating the wounded men of this war as well as those who have fought under the stars and stripes in previous wars. The receipts of the Buddy Poppy sale also make possible the VFW's program of assistance to veterans dependents, their widows and orphans.

"The American public recognizes the VFW Buddy Poppy as our national memorial flower," Commander Souther said today. "Since 1922 our organization has distributed these symbols of Flanders' fields made by our disabled comrades in government hospitals throughout the country in memory of this nation's heroic dead. The custom of wearing a Buddy Poppy on Memorial day has become a tradition in tribute to the men who have sacrificed their lives in the past to preserve America's freedom and principles. Consistently, through the twenty-two years of its history, the annual Buddy Poppy sale has been guided by one ideal—to honor the dead by helping the living."

By ANITA GWYN CAMPBELL

When school commences again next fall, there will be a number of the present faculty missing. Mrs. Cox, Mrs. Fowler, Mrs. Louis, Mrs. Robinette, Mrs. Waters, Mrs. Williamson and Mrs. Provencal will not be present. Also Mrs. Rachel Swan, after 28 years of service, is resigning her teaching position. Missing from the main office will be Miss Ruth Dunning, who has been here four years answering the innumerable questions of high school students. Every one of the forementioned will be greatly missed in his field of instruction.

Baccalaureate starts at 8 o'clock tomorrow, Sunday, evening. Anyone may attend. Commencement exercises will begin Wednesday, May 19 at 8 p. m. Those who have reserved seat tickets will be seated on the main floor of Pelican Court. Others who wish to attend will be seated in the balcony.

This is the last regular column for this year. I wish to thank the faculty and students of KUHS, The Herald and News, and townspeople for their cooperation. The writing of any column means work, but I have thoroughly enjoyed dashing around to get the information to bring the high school's news up to date. If I have hurt anybody's feelings, it was purely unintentional and humbly beg their pardon.

Friday is the final day of school for the seniors (including me, I hope, I hope) and my final day in Klamath Falls. This last year has been a great pleasure to me as much as it possibly could be, considering war time conditions.

Bye now.

HIGH COURT TO GET 'LOWER 13' MURDER CASE

ALBANY, Ore., May 15 (AP)—The lower 13 murder case is headed for the state supreme court. A negro dining car cook, Robert E. Lee Folkes, convicted of killing Mrs. Martha Virginia James of Norfolk, Va., as she lay in her berth, lower 13, on a train January 23, was denied a retrial by Circuit Judge L. G. Lewelling.

The judge, however, signed a stay of execution for Folkes, who had been sentenced to die in the state prison gas chamber May 28, after Folkes' attorney, Leroy Lomax, filed notice of appeal. Lomax also contended the judge erred in permitting the jury to take the confessions to the jury room.

Fire Protection Big Problem at Lava Beds Monument

Fire protection will be virtually the only activity in Lava Beds National monument the coming summer, in the opinion of Don Fisher, acting custodian of the monument.

Fisher said he foresees no possibility of tourist travel in the monument. But fire, he said, will be as much a danger as ever, and there will be fewer men available to fight it.

Several fires which have swept the monument were started by lightning and could not be attributed to travel.
