

WLB, JOHN L. LOCK HORNS IN COAL DISPUTE

(Continued From Page One) the laws which apply to all other citizens of the United States. Under NLRB "The labor dispute in this case, like all other labor disputes, is within the jurisdiction of the national labor board under executive order 9017 of January 1942. Under the national policy of economic stabilization by the act of congress of October 2, 1942 and the president's executive order of October 3 and its supplements, issued in accordance with that act of congress, if any wage adjustment is justifiable on the merits it must be approved by the national war labor board; and if it is such as to require an increase in the price of the product produced, it could not be put into effect until it is also approved by the director of economic stabilization. "This law applies to the coal miners and coal operators as well as to every other citizen of the United States. "In demanding a wage increase and at the same time refusing to seek the approval of the national war labor board, Mr. Lewis is defying the lawfully established procedures of the government of the United States. "Defiance of Law "This is not only a defiance of our laws, but it is also the only thing that stands in the way of the working out of a new contract for the mine workers by orderly peaceful procedure in accordance with the order of the national war labor board of May 14, 1943 and the national stabilization policy under the act of congress of October 2, 1942. "This defiance challenges the sovereignty of the United States in time of war and gives aid and comfort to our enemies."

RED PLANES, GUNS VEX NAZI OFFENSE

Central Valley Project Gets Funds After WPB Ban Off

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—Due to the fact that practically all construction work on reclamation projects had been stopped by the war production board, the house appropriations committee, in the interior department bill introduced today, included funds for only one project, on which the WPB recently lifted its ban. This was the Central valley project in California, for which the committee allowed $11,500,000 but recommended that no funds be expended for construction of a proposed transmission line from the Shasta substation to Oroville. It proposed that the $400,000 or $500,000 heretofore provided for the construction of the line be reallocated for other work on the project.

Allies Roar Over Rome on Way to Blast Plane Base

Grain of Salt (President Roosevelt last December 11 said a report that Pope Pius XII had appealed to the United States and Britain to spare Rome from aerial bombardment should be taken with a grain of salt. The 108-acre Vatican City, seat of the Holy See, lies at Rome. (The Italian capital experienced its first air raid alert June 12, 1940, a few hours after Italy entered the war as a partner of Germany, but no planes were heard at that time and there was no gun fire. RUHR VALLEY FLOODS PERIL NAZI INDUSTRY

(Continued From Page One) swirled against the sluice gates. "No doubt some means was employed to float the mines (ad-just the depth) so that they hit the most vital part," he said. To have attempted to demolish the dams with bombs would have necessitated the use of a far greater number of aircraft than was employed and skilful precision work at the sights, it was added. Sir Archibald Sinclair, air minister, said walls of the Morne and Eder dams were broken. One backed up 134,000,000 tons of water and the other 202,000,000 tons, he said. Their destruction constituted a powerful blow to industrial Germany, he added. Heavy Toll The Germans themselves reported officially on the Berlin radio that the floodtide took a heavy toll of casualties. Both dams produced hydro-electric power for Ruhr valley industries. The German yearbook lists only 30 dams, so the RAF's night work probably was a great blow to German industries, it was stated. Repairing dams is a lengthy task. Mohne Breached Subsequently, an air ministry communique said the Mohne dam had been breached for 100 yards and the power station beyond was swept away by resulting floods. The dams were attacked with mines. The Eder dam, controlling the headwaters of the Weser and Fulda valleys, also was breached and "photographs show the river below the dam in full flood," the ministry said. The communique said the two dams controlled two-thirds of the water storage capacity of the Ruhr basin. "The attacks were pressed home from very low level with great determination and coolness in the face of fierce resistance," it said.

U. S. Forces Hit Japs in 'Steady Stream'

NEW YORK, May 17 (AP)—The Tokyo radio quoted a Japanese army spokesman today as saying that attacking United States forces were landing a steady stream of reinforcements on Attu island under cover of a naval and air bombardment. Japanese troops, however, are holding on to their positions and have made a number of damaging counterattacks against tremendous numerical odds, the spokesman declared. The acknowledgment that American troops still are pouring ashore at Attu was subordinated at the end of the broadcast, which sought to emphasize successes which the Japanese were said to have gained in the early phases of the fighting. The broadcast, which was recorded by The Associated Press, said heavy fighting was ranging on the northern coast.

Hershey Opposes Laws Prohibiting Father Induction

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP) Opposing legislation to prohibit induction of fathers until all other manpower is exhausted, Maj. General Lewis B. Hershey testified today that "we may run out" of other draft registrants about August 1. Appearing before the senate military committee, the selective service director also made known that "a good many" men now classified as 4-F would be taken to meet the needs of the armed forces. He said that approximately 2,577,000 men have been placed in the 4-F category for physical and mental defects, illiteracy and other handicaps. Hershey explained that "psychiatric rejects" are predominant. Representatives of the war and navy departments joined Hershey in objecting to the house-approved Kilday bill which would require the filling of draft quotas on a state-wide basis instead of a local-board basis as at present.

CUT RECOMMENDED IN ICKES' FUNDS

(Continued From Page One) NPB order prevented using it. Food Serious Grover B. Hill, under secretary of agriculture, testified at hearings on the bill that the food shortage was serious and the committee said it was "deeply impressed by the frank statement." "Regardless of how much food we will produce, it will not be enough," Hill told the committee. "Even though we could produce twice as much food as we will be able to produce we could use it all. However, I don't think we are going to go hungry. We will conserve our food. We will only divide what we can still have food to eat; but, for the prosecution of the war it would be impossible for us in this country to produce as much food as we could use in this war." Acute in West Hill told the committee the food shortage was possibly more acute on the west coast due to the influx of war industries and workers. The committee said that in view of Hill's statement it hoped the WPB would "reinvestigate and seriously consider allowing priorities to permit resumption of work on the 23 reclamation projects."
