Study Report

It appeared that decision time nally was at hand in the long and bitter coal wage contro-versy. The full WLB started a early next week.

But the effect of that decision remains a question mark. John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers boss, has challended WLB's jurisdiction in the dispute and was reported considering court action to force a resumption of bargaining with the operators-independent of the board.

Lewis' aides said that the UMWA chieftain believes the board has violated the national labor relations act by ordering the operators to stop negotia-tions until both sides agree to proceed under WLB auspices.

No Contract

The mines, seized by the gov nment during the recent walk-it, are operating without a contract under a retroactive truce due to expire the end of

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, declared last night that the AFL intends to stick to its no-strike pledge for the war's duration. Green implied that Lewis' mine workers would be bound by such a pledge if their application for readmittance to
