NEW YORK, May 26 (P)—
These spring days there's nothing quite like goin' fishin'—even if you can sit and think about it... The season is open, everywhere from Possum Kingdom.

in Texas to the Brule in Wiscon-sin and from the Stilliguamish in Washington to the Miramichi in New Brunswick (not forgetting the Big Muddy out at the edge of town) . . . All of which leads up to a letter just received from Sports Editor Wendell Lalime of the Newport (Vt.) Daily Express . . . Subject: fishing.

NEWPORT IN A STORM

Newport, Vermont, is right up in the fishing country on Lake Memphremagog. That's the lake where they made a record catch where they made a record catch last week, hauling in 18 land-locked salmon with a total weight of 100 pounds within 90 minutes . . . "To begin with," Lalime begins, "sportsmen fish for salmon right in the heart of the community from a railroad the community from a railroad bridge adjacent to the local depot

... They can arrive from Boston or New York on a morning train, or New York on a morning train, catch their fish and take a noon train back to wherever they came from. If they wish to stay longer, the city's only hotel is only 100 yards away. No gasoline needed here."

A TALL ONE

"Fishermen here," adds Wendell, "like to tell the yarn about the time the Boston-Montreal train pulled into Newport and during the usual 15-minute stop a spectator in the observation car jumped to the bridge and hurried to the rail, where he managed to borrow someone's rod. Within five minutes he had hooked a salmon, hopped back on the train, had the chef cook it, and was sitting down to a delicious dinner as the train left Newport." . . . That's fast fishing, but from here it sounds like a lot faster cooking.

JUST BAIT SIZE

"This country up here has more lakes, ponds and streams than you can count," Lalime continues. "The other day Sam Williams and Sheriff A. E. Tripp went fly fishing in nearby Hartwell and presumptly out after well pond, presumably out after trout. Williams had a small rod and just a No. 12 hook. He felt a tug on his line but couldn't bring his catch to the surface. The fish hugged the bottom of the pond for nearly an hour and finally Williams managed to work it toward the shore . . . Sheriff Tripp then tried to net it, but the fish was too large for the net. Tripp finally managed to get a couple of fingers in the gills and pulled the 27-inch, eight-pound 'laker' out of the dium water. It was then that they dis-covered a small five-inch trout had taken the bait in the first place and was dangling from the leader, where it had been pushed by the larger fish."

Timely Tip---Watch for Redbirds to Soar Now

Second Place Cardinals Expected to Fly in First; Home Field Tilts Coming

Today's timely tip is watch out for the St. Louis Cardinals place in the National league standings most of the spring and they are 2 ½ games behind the Brooklyn Dodgers at the moment, but every sign indicates that they are ready to soar now that they are back in Sportsman's park for a long stay.

They may already have taken off. They won two doubleheaders in two days from the New* York Giants to close their east-ern invasion and in these four Seven Champ games made 52 hits for 26 runs. Their blows included five home runs.

The Redbirds don't have to be rated off their series with the Giants alone, however, for they won nine out of 13 games on their eastern swing, split even with the Dodgers in four games, and previously had won eight of 14 against the other western clubs.

Without exception every Na tional league manager interviewed has rated them more powerful than the Dodgers.

Starting with tonight's game with Boston they will be on their home grounds continuously until June 21 and in the in-terim will meet every other team in the league.

upon to put up a battle before yielding the lead. They, too, have won four straight and in the first round of intersectional play also captured nine out of 13 games.

But the baseball sages shake their heads over the Dodgers' lack of speed, Albie Glossop's work at second base and the question of how hot weather will affect the old men who comprise the Brooklyn lineup.

The American league also is looking forward to fireworks over first place.

It is beginning to be recog-nized that the New York Yankees no longer can dominate the junior circuit as they have in other years and rival clubs now are ceasing to act shy and meek in the presence of the monarchs.

The Cleveland Indians took three games from the champions last weekend and moved into first place, but the Tribe may have difficulty holding this edge through a two-week east-ern invasion while the Yankees are operating in their own sta-
